HAVERFORD COLLEGE

HISTORY AND DESCRIPTION

Haverford College was founded in 1833. It owes its origin to the insight and energy of a few members of the Society of Friends from Philadelphia and New York who, in the spring of 1830, conceived the idea of founding an institution for education in the higher branches of learning. Its object, in the words of the founders, was "to combine sound and liberal instruction in literature and science with a religious care over the morals and manners, thus affording to the youth of our Society an opportunity of acquiring an education equal in all respects to that which can be obtained at colleges."

The founders were incorporated in 1833 under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania into the Haverford School Association, a body now known as the Corporation of Haverford College. This corporation elects a board of managers for the control of its affairs and for the administration of its funds. For the founding of the School sixty thousand dollars was raised, but the sum proved insufficient for its maintenance, and for many years the financial deficit was met by liberal subscriptions of friends.

From 1845 to 1848 the School was closed in order to allow the funds to accumulate and to give time for the collection of an endowment. Since that time, by a number of generous bequests and donations, the amount of invested funds yielding interest has been increased to approximately four million dollars.

The first building of the College was Founders Hall, erected in 1833. The Observatory was built in 1852, and enlarged in 1883. Alumni Hall was built in 1863, and enlarged in 1898 and 1912 to meet the growing needs of the Library. In 1877 Barclay Hall, a dormitory, was erected by friends of the College. The Mechanical Laboratory was established in 1884, and was provided with a new building in 1890; this was burned down in 1896, and Whitall Hall, a new three-story structure, was built. The old Biological Laboratory was established in 1886; Chase Hall for lectures and recitations and the old Physical Laboratory were built in 1888. The Cricket Shed was erected in 1893. In more recent years, during a period of rapid development, made possible largely by the general and unfailing coöperation of the alumni, the following additions have been made to the College equipment: in 1899, the Logan and Norris section of Lloyd Hall, a dormitory; in 1900, a large and well-equipped gymnasium; in 1903, Roberts Hall, the gift of Lucy Branson Roberts, with college offices and a large auditorium; in 1903, Merion Hall, a dormitory, remodeled from the old Haverford Grammar School building; in 1905, an additional wing to Founders Hall for dining halls and kitchen; in 1906, a permanent building for the heating and lighting plant; in 1907, the enlargement of Merion Hall; in 1909, the Haverford Union, a building presented by Alfred Percival Smith, '84; in 1910, the Lyman Beecher Hall Chemistry Laboratory; in 1912, the Morris Infirmary, given by John T. Morris, '67; in 1913, a new section of Lloyd Hall, given by the estate of the late Justus C. Strawbridge, and a concrete grandstand, the gift of Horace E. Smith, '86; in 1916, the Smith section of Lloyd Hall, from the same donor, and the Kinsey section; in 1917, Isaac Sharpless Hall, for biology and physics; in 1927, completing the dormitory, four additional sections of Lloyd Hall; in 1928, the Hilles Memorial Laboratory of applied science; and, in 1933, the William J. Strawbridge Memorial Observatory. In addition to these College buildings there are a number of residences on the grounds which are occupied for the most part by professors and their families.

The College has a pleasant and healthful location in the township of Haverford, Delaware County, Pennsylvania, nine miles west of the center of Philadelphia. It is accessible by the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad and by the Philadelphia and Western Railway. The selection of this site is thus described by the first managers: "We wished to procure a farm in a neighborhood of unquestionable salubrity—within a short distance of a Friends' meeting—of easy access from this city at all seasons of the year . . . recommended by the beauty of the scenery and a retired situation." And they reported that they had purchased for the sum of $17,865 "an oblong tract of 198½ acres . . . nearly south of the eight mile stone on the Lancaster Turnpike." This property has since been increased to two hundred sixteen acres with an estimated present value of about one million, seven hundred thousand dollars. While a portion is retained as farm and woodland, a lawn of sixty acres was long ago graded and tastefully planted with trees and shrubs by a landscape gardener, so that the natural beauty of the location has increased with passing years. The grounds include six fields, for cricket, baseball, football and soccer, a running-track, twelve tennis courts, and a pond for skating.

Parallel with its material growth there have been changes in the inner life of the College which have affected the methods of administration rather than the essential principles on which the institution was founded. It has gradually increased in number of students, but still enjoys the advantages of a small college. From the first it gave instruction of collegiate scope and grade. Accordingly, in 1856, the name was changed from school to college and the right to confer degrees was granted by the Legislature. In 1861 the preparatory department was abolished. General courses are now given in arts and science. The endowment for salaries and pensions enables the College to maintain a faculty of unusual size in proportion to the number of students, and to expend for the instruction, board, and lodging of each student much more than he pays.

In accordance with the modern ideals of religious and moral education, the students enjoy ample liberty, safeguarded by their wholesome physical life, by the traditions of the College, and by the intimate association with their professors and fellow students.

All examinations, quizzes, and tests are conducted under an Honor System administered by the Students' Association. Under the Honor System no person, either student or faculty member, acts as official proctor during examinations. The responsibility for the proper conduct of all examinations is entirely in the hands of each student. Each incoming student is required to sign a pledge accepting the Honor System and all its implications. At the end of all examinations each student shall sign a pledge that he has neither given nor received aid in the examination, and that if he has seen anyone else do so either he or the offender will notify the Students' Council within twenty-four hours. The Students' Council receives and investigates any report of a violation. If the accused person be found guilty, the Council will recommend to the college authorities that the offender's connection with the College be severed for not less than one half year.

The religious tradition bequeathed by the Quaker founders has been carefully cherished, and high ideals of life and conduct are maintained. Three times a month the College attends Friends' meeting in a body. The aims of Haverford have been gradually developing and its function is becoming more and more clear—"to encourage the growth, among a limited number of young men, of vigorous bodies, scholarly minds, strong characters, and a real religious experience."

ADMISSION

An applicant for admission to Haverford College, as an undergraduate, must present evidence that he has received satisfactory ratings on the College Board examinations required of him in accordance with one of the three systems of admission described below. In addition he must present, on blanks furnished by the College, his school record and a certificate of character signed by his school principal, and a health certificate signed by his family physician, including a statement that the applicant has been vaccinated within two years. The school certificate must show satisfactory attainment in 15 units* of work as follows:

English.....	3 units
Mathematics.....	3 units
2 Foreign Languages.....	5 units†
Electives.....	4 units†
Scholastic Aptitude Test‡

The three plans for admission are described as Plan A, Plan B, and Plan C.

If the candidate seeks admission under Plan A, he must take entrance examinations in all the subjects for which he seeks entrance credit. He may take examinations in any of these subjects as preliminary examinations a full year or more before he intends to enter Haverford College, but only the June examinations of the College Entrance Examination Board are accepted as preliminary examinations.

* "A unit represents a year's study in any subject in a secondary school, constituting approximately a quarter of a full year's work. A four years' secondary school curriculum should be regarded as representing not more than 16 units of work."

† If 4 units of Latin are offered, 6 units will be required for the two foreign languages, thus reducing the elective requirements to 3 units.

‡ May be omitted only by special arrangement with the admissions office.

If a candidate seeks admission under Plan B, he must take entrance examinations in three subjects—English, Mathematics, and one foreign language.

The Mathematics will be both Mathematics A and C, or Mathematics β ; or Mathematics γ , which will gain advanced standing in Mathematics in College. Mathematics α will not be accepted for entrance.

The one foreign language required will be, for the A.B. degree, Latin 4;* or Greek 2 and Greek H; or Greek 3; for the S.B. degree, Latin 3 or Greek 3 or German 3 or French 3 or Spanish 3. Ordinarily these examinations must all be taken and passed at one time, either in June or September. Occasionally exceptions to this rule may be made in cases of students who have taken all of the examinations in June and have failed of entrance by a narrow margin. Such students may be allowed to omit in the September examinations subjects which they passed in June with creditable grades. Such exceptions, however, will be allowed only by special action of the Committee on Admissions.

If the candidate seeks admission under Plan C, he will be required to pass satisfactorily the comprehensive examination in English, an examination in one foreign language, and two examinations in subjects taken during his last school year and covering the work of that year.

The usual list of subjects* in which entrance examinations may be taken to satisfy the requirements for admission to Haverford College is as follows:

A candidate for admission may offer electives either in the usual list or in such other subjects as may be approved in any given case by the Committee responsible for decisions concerning admission. Not more than one unit each may be chosen from these extensions, and then proficiency must be shown that indicates an amount of study and intellectual effort commensurate with that required in other subjects.

Whenever practicable, the College will arrange for the candidate a personal interview with a representative of this institution, and every applicant should realize that, in view of the limited enrollment, he is entering a competition for admission to a select and comparatively small student organization. On the basis of all information available—College Board reports, school record, medical certificate, evidence touching on character and personality—the applicant will be accepted or rejected, and the decision of the Committee on Admissions is final. Since it is desired to admit candidates who are best fitted to profit by the opportunities offered by Haverford College, preference will be given to those with superior records and credentials rather than to those with mere priority of application.

Those students who are accepted will be admitted without conditions. To those who on entrance show marked proficiency in certain subjects, as a result of special tests provided, advanced standing in those subjects will be granted. On account of limited accommodations it is usually impossible to admit students to other than the Freshman class.

Subject to the final acceptance of the candidate, vacant rooms are assigned in the order in which application blanks (see page 24), properly filled out, are received by the College Office; consequently candidates are advised to make application two or three years in advance, addressing preliminary correspondence to the Director of Admissions of Haverford College. For the benefit of the candidate in filling out his application blank, it may here be stated that, for resident students, the inclusive price of tuition, board, and room (including heat, light, attendance, and necessary bedroom furniture, i.e., chiffonier, bed, bed linen) varies from $725 to $850 per year; while day students are charged $400 for tuition, $480 for tuition and luncheon. For details, see pages 87-88.

SCHEDULE OF EXAMINATIONS FOR ADMISSION

Applicants for admission to the Freshman Class are expected to take the examinations held by the College Entrance Examination Board in many cities in June. Those who pass these examinations in June will receive first consideration for all Freshman scholarships and for the limited accommodations annually reserved for Freshmen.

COLLEGE ENTRANCE EXAMINATION BOARD

Examinations of June 17-24, 1939

The College Entrance Examination Board will hold examinations in June 1939 at more than three hundred points in this country and abroad. A list of these places will be published about March 1, 1939. Requests that the examinations be held at particular points should be transmitted to the Executive Secretary of the College Entrance Examination Board not later than February 1, 1939.

Detailed definitions of the requirements in all examination subjects are given in a circular of information published annually about December 1. Upon request to the Secretary of the College Entrance Examination Board a single copy of this document will be sent to any teacher without charge. In general, there will be a charge of thirty cents, which may be remitted in postage.

All candidates wishing to take these examinations should make application by mail to the Secretary of the College Entrance Examination Board, 431 West 117th Street, New York, N.Y. Blank forms for this purpose will be mailed by the Secretary of the Board to any teacher or candidate upon request by mail.

The applications and fees of all candidates who wish to take the examinations in June 1939 should reach the Secretary of the Board not later than the dates specified in the following schedule:

For examination centers

In the United States east of the Mississippi River or on the Mississippi.....	May 29, 1939
In the United States west of the Mississippi River or in Canada.....	May 22, 1939
Outside of the United States and Canada, except in Asia.....	May 8, 1939
In China or elsewhere in the Orient.....	April 24, 1939

An application which reaches the Secretary later than the scheduled date will be accepted only upon payment of $5 in addition to the regular examination fee of $10.

When a candidate has failed to obtain the required blank form of application, the regular examination fee will be accepted if the fee arrive not later than the date specified above and if it be accompanied by a memorandum with the name and address of the candidate, the exact examination center selected, and a list of the subjects in which the candidate is to take the Board examinations.

When the examination supplies of the local supervisor permit, candidates who have failed to file an application with the Secretary may be admitted, upon payment to the local supervisor of a fee of $5 in addition to the regular fee, to all examinations except the Scholastic Aptitude Test. Such candidates should present themselves at the beginning of the period of registration. A candidate who registers with the supervisor will receive from him a blank form of application and an identification card which must be filled out and handed to the supervisor for transmission to the Secretary of the Board.

In order to exhibit their tickets of admission, to present their identification cards, and to obtain seats in the examination room, candidates should report for a morning examination at 8:45 and for an afternoon examination at 1:45. An examination will close for candidates admitted late at the same time as for other candidates. The examinations will be held in accordance with the time (Standard Time or Daylight Saving Time) observed in the local schools.

No candidate will be admitted to the Scholastic Aptitude Test late, that is, after the test has begun.

The Scholastic Aptitude Test may be taken upon the completion of the school course or at the end of the third year of secondary school work. Each candidate desiring to take this test, even though he is to take no other examination, must file with the Secretary of the Board the usual application for examination. Every candidate who registers for the test will receive a practice booklet containing a specimen test with blank spaces to be filled in by the candidate. In order to secure admission to the test, the candidate must present not only his ticket of admission but also this booklet with the spaces filled in as requested. If the Scholastic Aptitude Test is taken in connection with other examinations, no additional fee is required; if taken alone, the fee is $10.

SEPTEMBER EXAMINATIONS

Examinations are held in September at the College for the convenience of emergency cases. They may not be taken as preliminary examinations. No applicant should deliberately postpone his examination until September, as no assurance can be given that he will be admitted, if the capacity of the College has already been reached. The examinations given will be those of the College Entrance Examination Board.

A fee of $10 will be charged each candidate taking these examinations as his first trial for admission to Haverford College; a fee of $5 will be charged for one or more re-examinations. Fees must be paid to Haverford College before admission to the September College Board examinations.

The schedule of examinations to be held in September, 1939, at Haverford College, is as follows:

Monday, September 18

9 A.M.....	English
2 P.M.....	French

Tuesday, September 19

9 A.M.....	Latin
2 P.M.....	History

Wednesday, September 20

9 A.M.....	Elementary Mathematics
2 P.M.....	German, Spanish

Thursday, September 21

9 A.M.....	Chemistry, Physics
2 P.M.....	Greek, Advanced Algebra, Solid Geometry, Plane Trigonometry

Friday, September 22

9 A.M.....	Scholastic Aptitude Test
2 P.M.....	Biology

COURSES OF STUDY

Haverford College recognizes each matriculate as an individual whose training in the past and whose plans for the future may differentiate him from his fellows. The College accordingly lays out tentatively an individual plan of study for each student at the beginning of his Freshman year. This plan is confirmed or modified for each succeeding year.

In making each plan, the College directs Faculty members to see to it that the student takes in his Freshman and Sophomore years certain courses which are required in his case and that he distributes his limited electives so as to make the plan both broad and sound.

Haverford College confers at graduation the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science, the requirements for the two degrees being identical except in the matter of foreign languages.

The twenty-three courses to be taken before graduation may, for convenience, be distinguished thus, as explained in the pages immediately following:

Required.....	4
Limited Electives.....	5 or 6
(Foreign Language 1 or 2, others 4)
Major Concentration.....	6
Free Electives.....	8 or 7
Total.....	23

REQUIRED COURSES

Freshman English and Physical Education 1 are required of all Freshmen. Physical Education 2 and Physical Education 3 are required of all Sophomores and Juniors respectively.

LIMITED ELECTIVES

1. Each student who is a candidate for the Bachelor of Arts degree should present at entrance 4 units of Latin* and

* Candidates presenting only three units of Latin are referred to page 65.

2 units of another foreign language or 3 units of Greek and 2 units of another foreign language. After entrance he must pass one course in Latin (except Latin 1) or Greek.

Each student who is a candidate for the Bachelor of Science degree should present at entrance 3 units of one foreign language and 2 of another. After entrance he must pass either one course in a language which he has presented for entrance or two courses in a third foreign language.

2. Each student must pass one course or two half-courses in Literature, either English or foreign, from the following list: English 3a, 4b, 5a, 8a, 12a, 12b, 13a, 14b, 16a, 16b, 17b, 18a, 21a, and 22b; French 3, 4, 6a, and 6b; German 3, 5a, 5b, 6, and 7b; Greek, 1, 2, 3, 4, and 6b; and Latin 2, 3, 4, 5, and 14.

This requirement is automatically met by a student who majors in English, French, German, Greek, or Latin.

3. Each student must pass one course involving laboratory work in Biology, Chemistry, or Physics.

This requirement is automatically met by a student who majors in Astronomy, Biology, Chemistry, Engineering, or Physics.

4. Each student must pass one course or two half-courses chosen from Biblical Literature 1a, 2a, 3a, 3b, 4b, 5b; Philosophy 3a, 4, 5b, 7a, 7b, 9a, 10b, or Sociology 1a, 2b.

This requirement is automatically met by a student who majors in Biblical Literature, Philosophy, or Sociology.

5. Each student must pass one course in Economics, Government, or History.

This requirement is automatically met by a student who majors in Economics, Government, or History.

MAJOR CONCENTRATION

A student may elect to major in any one of the following departments: Astronomy, Biblical Literature, Biology, Chemistry, Economics, Engineering, English, French, German, Government, Greek, History, Latin, Mathematics, Philosophy, Physics, Sociology.

Definite requirements of each department are stated under the name of the department on pages 42-77 following and, as stated, are understood as applying to the class of 1940. Before May first of his Sophomore year each student must confer with the Major Supervisor of the department in which he wishes to major, and must apply for written approval of a program of courses for the Junior and Senior years. Such a program must provide for the completion by the end of the Senior year of no fewer than six courses, at least three of which must have been in the major department and the others in closely related fields. Should the student's application be rejected by the department of his first choice, he must immediately apply in another. Failure to file with the Dean, before May first, a copy of his Major program, signed by his Major Supervisor, will entail a fine of $5. Any student who continues delinquent in this matter will be debarred from the final examinations in his Sophomore year. Should the student's application be rejected by all the departments to which he applies, he will not be promoted to the Junior Class.

In addition each Senior must take a special Major examination (written, oral, or both) during the week preceding the final examination period. (Class work for Seniors will close on Saturday, three weeks prior to Commencement Day.) The passing grade for this examination is 70. In case of failure a candidate may, with the permission of his Major department, present himself for re-examination at a date (to be determined by the Major Supervisor) later than Commencement Day of the current year.

In order to allow time for preparation for the Major examination, any Senior may omit, with the consent of his Major Supervisor, one non-Major half-year course in the second half-year. The grade obtained on the Major examination will be recorded as the grade for course 20b in the Major department.

Mid-year and final examinations in the Major subject in courses taken in the Senior year may be omitted at the discretion of the Major Supervisor.

FREE ELECTIVES

A number of courses sufficient to bring the total to 23 shall be chosen by the student, with the understanding that for the Freshman and Sophomore years the College reserves the right through its advisers to prevent unreasonable combinations of courses but that in the Junior and Senior years the student will choose his free electives after consultation with his Major Supervisor, whose power outside the field of major concentration is, however, merely advisory.

Freshman Program

Although the advisers are instructed to lay out for each Freshman a plan of study suited to his special needs, the Faculty recommends in all usual cases that Freshmen take Freshman English (required), one or two foreign languages, and two or three courses chosen from History, Mathematics, and Science, not more than one in any one of those fields.

The courses open to Freshmen, in addition to the required work in English and Physical Education, are:

Biology 1 or 2	History 1
Engineering 1	Latin 1, 2, 3a, 3b, 4a, 4b
French A, 1, or 2	Mathematics 1
Chemistry 1 or 2	Physics 1a, 1b
German A, 1, or 2	Spanish A or 1
Greek A, 1, or 2

In special cases, Freshmen may be admitted to certain other courses with the consent of the Dean of Freshmen.

A Freshman will not be permitted to take more than 5 courses, in addition to Physical Education, except with special consent of the Faculty. As to requisite grades, see page 80.

Sophomore Program

Each Sophomore must take five courses, besides Physical Education, and may not take more than five, unless he receives the special consent of the Faculty, or is required to repeat or substitute a course, in which case he must obtain the consent of the Dean to take more than five courses. As to requisite grades, see page 80. The following courses are open to Sophomores:

Astronomy 1a, 2b	Greek A, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6b
Biblical Literature 1a, 2a, 3a, 3b, 4b, 5b	History 1, 2, 3, 5†, 6†, 10a, 11b
Biology 1, 2, 3, 4, 5	Italian A, 1
Chemistry 1, 2, 3a, 4, 5b	Latin 1, 2, 3a, 3b, 4a, 4b, 5, 14a, 14b, 15
Economics 1	Mathematics 2
Engineering A, 1a, 1b, 2a, 2b	Music 1
English 3a, 4b	Philosophy 1a, 3a, 4, 6a, 7b, 9a, 10b
French A, 1, 2, 3	Physics 1a, 1b, 2
German A, 1, 2, 3, 4a	Sociology 1a, 2b
Government 1	Spanish A, 1

Junior Program

Each Junior must take five courses, besides Physical Education unless he receives the consent of the Faculty to take a greater number, or is required to repeat or substitute a course, in which case he must obtain the consent of the Dean to take more than five courses. A general average for the year of 70 is a prerequisite for promotion to the Senior class.

Senior Program

Each Senior must take five courses, unless he receives the consent of the Faculty to take a greater number or the consent of his Major Supervisor to drop one course in the second half-year, or unless he is required to repeat or substitute a course, in which case he must obtain the consent of the Dean to take more than five courses. A general average for the year of 70 is a prerequisite for graduation.

Special Cases

Whenever a student gives proof of special aims and abilities, the College is prepared to lay aside such requirements of the preceding plan as stand between him and the accomplishment of his aims.

CONFLICTING COURSES

A student is not allowed to elect conflicting courses, except with the permission of the Dean and the two instructors concerned. In case of conflict involving a repeated course the repeated course takes precedence.

SPECIAL PLANS OF STUDY IN PREPARATION FOR PROFESSIONS

A large and increasing number of Haverford College students desire on graduation to enter upon courses of study fitting them for professions. For students desiring intensive preliminary training in engineering, medicine, and other highly specialized subjects, the College offers combinations of courses which admit to the best professional schools in the country with full standing, and in many cases with advanced credit.

To illustrate this feature of the curriculum there are presented on the following pages sample outlines of study for the four years, preparatory to specialization in Engineering, Medicine, Law, and Business Administration. Similar outlines might be prepared for other professions—Teaching, the Ministry, Journalism, Industrial Chemistry, etc. The student will in all cases consult with his Faculty Adviser and the professors concerned in his choice of courses.

N.B.—It is understood that each of the outlines following is a sample only, presenting one among many possibilities, and is not intended to be a prescribed program.

Preparation for Engineering.—Engineering today covers an extremely broad field of service, and there is accordingly no standard type of training suitable for all students preparing themselves for an engineering career.

Students not intending to enter the highly specialized fields of design and research will find the Haverford course ample for their needs. Graduates of Haverford who have majored in engineering are admitted to the student-engineer's courses of the leading industrial companies on equal terms with graduates of the larger engineering colleges.

A typical course in General Engineering similar to those variously announced as "Engineering Administration," "General Engineering," etc., is outlined immediately below.

Preparation for Medicine.—A student intending to study medicine should plan his college courses carefully in order to avoid conflicts between necessary courses and to avoid overloading with laboratory work in his Junior and Senior years. All the leading medical schools require the equivalent of the following Haverford courses: Freshman English, Biology 1, Chemistry 1, 2, 3a and 4, Physics 2 and either French 1 or German 1. Johns Hopkins University requires both French and German, and also elementary Latin. The University of Pennsylvania requires an additional course in English. Johns Hopkins and Harvard require the equivalent of Chemistry 8a. There is no restriction as to what Major a pre-medical student may elect, since he can concentrate in almost any Major Field, qualifying for either the A.B. or S.B. degree, and at the same time complete the requirements for admission to medical school. The outline program which follows therefore merely indicates a suitable distribution of courses that are required or advised by medical schools. The electives must be so chosen as to satisfy Major Concentration and other requirements for graduation, as well as any special requirements of the medical school to which application is to be made.

Preparation for the Law.—Even those law schools which require that a person must hold a college degree to be eligible for admission do not usually specify what studies he shall have pursued in his undergraduate course. It is obvious, however, that a choice of electives may be made which will be of great value to the student later in the study of law and in the practice of his profession. It is recommended that the following courses be included in a student's program. In the case of those advanced courses which are given only in alternate years some variation in this program may be necessary.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

ART

1. Introduction to Art.—M. Tu. F. 11:30. DR. BERNHEIMER.

Though mainly historical, this course is intended to serve also as a general introduction to the Fine Arts, for the individual work of art will be used as a basis for the discussion of general principles.

Foremost consideration will be given to the appreciation of Architecture as the leading art of the Middle Ages, but Sculpture, Painting and the Industrial Arts will receive full attention.

The period covered by the course extends from Constantine to Julian II. Lectures with lantern slides, reports, and class discussion.

[Not offered in 1938-39; to be offered in 1939-40.]

2. Art and Culture of the Renaissance.—M. Tu. F. 11:30. DR. BERNHEIMER.

The field covered by this course is wider than its short title seems to indicate; for beside the development of Art in Italy from the 14th to the 16th century, that of the North in the same period will be studied. Emphasis will be laid upon the social and philosophical changes which accompany the changes in artistic style. The course will end with a short discussion of the baroque.

Open to Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors.

[Offered in 1938-39; not to be offered in 1939-40.]

ASTRONOMY

The William J. Strawbridge Memorial Observatory, newly built and equipped, affords students the means of becoming familiar with a variety of astronomical instruments, and of acquiring from actual observation a practical acquaintance with astronomy.

The equipment consists of two equatorially mounted telescopes with 10-inch and $4\frac{1}{2}$ -inch objectives respectively; a reflecting telescope with 8-inch mirror and alt-azimuth mounting; a meridian circle telescope of $3\frac{3}{4}$ -inch aperture; a zenith telescope of $2\frac{1}{4}$ -inch aperture; a spectro-helioscope; an astrographic mounting provided with a 4-inch Ross lens and a 4-inch guiding telescope; two clocks;

a chronograph by Bond; charts, globes, and other instruments. The astronomical library is housed in the Observatory.

Major Requirements (For the Class of 1940)

Astronomy 2 and 4.

Mathematics 1, 2, and 3, and Physics 2.

A comprehensive examination, partly oral, based on the subject matter of the above-named courses.

1a. Descriptive Astronomy.—M. W. F. 10:30, first half-year. MR. GUMMERE.

A culture class open to all students.

The leading facts of astronomy, with elementary explanation of the methods and instruments by which they are ascertained. A portion of the time is devoted to the study of the constellations, the handling of the telescopes, and simple problems.

2. Descriptive and Practical Astronomy.—Two class hours and one evening to be arranged. MR. GUMMERE.

This course covers the same ground as Astronomy 1a, together with practical work in the Observatory.

Use of sextant, transit, and equatorial; determination of instrumental constants, latitude, and time. The course is opened with a brief review of the essentials of spherical trigonometry. Prerequisite, Plane Trigonometry and Solid Geometry.

3a, 3b. Observational Astronomy.—Three hours, to be arranged, either half-year. MR. GUMMERE.

The subject matter will be chosen to meet the needs of the students. Prerequisite, Astronomy 2.

4. Celestial Mechanics and Orbit Determination.—Three hours, to be arranged, throughout the year. MR. GUMMERE.

An introduction to mathematical astronomy. Prerequisite, Astronomy 2, Mathematics 3, or in conjunction with Mathematics 3.

BIBLICAL LITERATURE

A gift has made possible field explorations and excavations which have yielded considerable archaeological material. Many objects illustrative of the life in biblical lands have been gathered in the Museum which is at present on the third floor of Sharpless Hall.

Major Requirements (For the Class of 1940)

Six half-year courses in Biblical Literature.

Six other half-year courses in either Biblical Literature or related departments.

Special study of one selected Biblical field, e.g., history, literature, the Old or New Testament.

A comprehensive examination covering the history, literature, and criticism of the Bible; and the religious and moral life of the Hebrews, Jews, and Christians.

1a. Introduction to the Old and New Testaments.—M. F. 2:30; W. 11:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR FLIGHT.

The literature of the Bible with its historical background.

2a. The Life and Letters of Paul.—Tu. Th. S. 8:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR FLIGHT.

This course deals with the rise, early development and spread of the Christian movement as reflected in the book of Acts and the letters of Paul.

3a. Ancient History of the Near East.—M. W. F. 10:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR FLIGHT.

The Beginnings of Western Civilization in the Cultures of the Near East; Archaeological and Historical.

3b. Development of Christian Thought within the Bible.—Tu. Th. S. 10:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR FLIGHT.

A study of the origins and development of the basic ideas in the teaching of religious leaders from the prophets to Paul.

4b. Comparative Religion.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR FLIGHT.

A comparative study of the great living religions, their founders, their scriptures, their characteristic ideas and ideals.

[Not offered in 1938-39; to be offered in 1939-40.]

5b. The English Bible.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR FLIGHT.

History and literary art of the English Bible, particularly the King James version, and its influence on general literature.
[Offered in 1938-39; not to be offered in 1939-40.]

6a. or 6b. Biblical and Oriental Conference.—Hours to be arranged, either half-year. PROFESSOR FLIGHT.

Individual work to be elected by the student from one or more of the following divisions of the field: literature, archaeology, history, philosophy. Prerequisite, other work in the department, in which a grade of B has been attained.

8. Hebrew.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR FLIGHT.

Grammar, composition, and reading of simple Old Testament prose.

BIOLOGY

Preparation for Graduate Study.—Practically all Medical Schools require Biology 1. As a prerequisite for Graduate work in Biology, most graduate schools require a reading knowledge of French and German, Chemistry 2, Physics 2, and at least Biology 1 and 2. For experimental biology, Chemistry 4 is necessary. For work in natural history, Geology 1 may be substituted for Physics 2.

Major Requirements

(For the Class of 1940)

Biology 1, 2, 7, and one of 3, 4, and 5.

Two courses chosen from Physics 2, Chemistry 2, and Geology 1.

Reading and reporting on approximately 15 biological books, besides those read in connection with courses. This is to be done at any time between the end of sophomore year and the date of the comprehensive examination.

The comprehensive examination on the courses taken and the reading done is required to be passed. This examination will be partly written (approximately 4 hours), and partly oral.

1. General Zoölogy.—Lectures, Tu. S. 11:30; laboratory, W. F. 1:05-3:30. PROFESSOR DUNN and MR. HENRY.

The lectures of this course include a survey of the structure and relationships of animals, of the fundamental principles of living organisms, and an outline of the more important questions relating to evolution, heredity, and distribution. The laboratory periods are devoted to obtaining an acquaintance with the more important types of animal life. Two lectures and two laboratory periods a week.

2. General Botany.—Lectures, W. F. 8:30; laboratory, Tu. Th. 1:05-3:30. MR. HENRY.

The laboratory work of this course consists of the dissection and study of typical representatives of the principal groups of plants. Two lecture or recitation and two laboratory periods a week.

3. Comparative Anatomy of Vertebrates.—Lecture, Th. 10:30; laboratory, Tu. Th. 1:05-3:30. PROFESSOR DUNN.

The laboratory work of this course includes the dissection of a specimen of each of the major types of vertebrates. The lectures deal with the origin, status, and evolution of the organ systems of vertebrates. One lecture and two laboratory periods a week. Prerequisite, Biology 1.

4. Local Flora.—Lecture, F. 11:30; laboratory hours to be arranged. MR. HENRY.

The work of this course consists of the identification of representative Angiosperms, together with the study of their taxonomy and distribution. Collecting in the field will supplement laboratory work. One lecture and two laboratory periods a week. Prerequisite, Biology 2.

[Offered in 1938-39; not to be offered in 1939-40.]

5. Entomology.—Lecture, F. 11:30; laboratory hours to be arranged. MR. HENRY.

This course has been designed to give the student a knowledge of the anatomy and physiology of insects. The laboratory work consists of the dissection of a representative of each of the larger Orders. Particular emphasis is placed on the structures used in identification and permanent mounts are made of many of them. The preparation of a local collection is required as part of the work. One lecture and two laboratory periods a week. Prerequisite, Biology 1.

[Not offered in 1938-39; to be offered in 1939-40.]

7. Evolution, Heredity, and Other General Biological Problems.—Tu. Th. S. 8:30. PROFESSOR DUNN.

This is a general cultural course, intended not only for students of Biology, but for all who wish to be informed on current biological matters, especially students of Sociology, Philosophy and History, and of other sciences. Special emphasis is given to the modern theories of evolution and of heredity. Open, without prerequisite, to Juniors and Seniors.

[Offered in 1938-39; not to be offered in 1939-40.]

10. Seminar Courses. Hours to be arranged. Required of candidates for Honors in Biology.

Open only by permission of the Instructor.

Vertebrate Zoölogy—Classification and evolution of vertebrate groups. Prerequisite, Biology 1; Biology 3 or with Biology 3. PROFESSOR DUNN.

Advanced Morphology—Study of morphological problems in animals. Prerequisite, Biology 3. PROFESSOR DUNN.

Ecology and Distribution—Problems of habitat relationships or geographical relationship of plants and/or animals. Prerequisite, Biology 1 or Biology 2. PROFESSOR DUNN and MR. HENRY.

Genetics—Problems of Genetics. Primarily for Graduate Students. PROFESSOR DUNN.

CHEMISTRY

Students planning to do graduate work in chemistry are advised to complete at least the following courses in other departments: French 1, German 1, Mathematics 2, and Physics 3. Courses in chemistry required for admission to most medical schools are 1, 2, 3a, 4, 5b; to meet the requirements for admission to Harvard or Johns Hopkins medical school, course 8a must be taken also. Courses 4, 5b, 6, 7a, 7b, 8a, 9b, 10a and 10b, may be taken for credit by Graduate Students.

In addition to the laboratory fee referred to on page 88, each student is required to make a deposit of $10 to cover breakage and other special charges. This deposit must be paid before a laboratory desk is assigned. Any balance remaining is refunded at the end of the year.

Major Requirements

(For the Class of 1940)

Chemistry 2, 3a, 4, 5b, and one half-year course in each half of the Senior year selected from 7a, 7b, 8a, 9b, 10a, and 10b.

Physics 2 and Biology 1 or Mathematics 2.

Additional reading on history of chemistry and on recent developments in chemistry.

The major examination consists of a detailed examination on the subject-matter of Chemistry 2, 3a, 4, 5b, and, in part, Chemistry 1, and a comprehensive examination covering the same general field together with the historical background and recent developments.

1. Elementary Inorganic Chemistry.—Lectures, Tu. Th. and occasionally S. 9:30; laboratory, Tu. or W. 1:05–3:30. MR. CADBURY.

Primarily for Freshmen and Sophomores who have not had chemistry in preparatory school. Limited to thirty-two students. Additional reading required of Juniors and Seniors.

Lectures and laboratory work dealing with the preparation, properties, and uses of the more common elements and their compounds; fundamental laws and theories; and the general principles of chemistry applied to industrial processes.

2. Advanced Inorganic Chemistry and Qualitative Analysis.—Lectures, Tu. Th. and occasionally S. 9:30; laboratory, Tu. Th. or W. F. 1:05–3:30. PROFESSOR MELDRUM and DR. JONES.

Primarily for Freshmen and Sophomores who have had chemistry in preparatory school or who have passed Chemistry 1. Fundamental laws and theories. Reaction velocity and equilibrium. Theories of ionization and atomic structure applied to explain solution and electrolytic phenomena and the mechanism of chemical reactions. Qualitative analysis constitutes the laboratory work.

3a. Quantitative Analysis.—Lectures, Tu. and Th. 10:30; laboratory, two periods from M. Tu. W. 1:05–3:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR MELDRUM and DR. JONES.

Lectures on the general principles of gravimetric, volumetric, electrolytic, and other methods of analysis. In the laboratory, typical methods are applied. Prerequisite, Chemistry 2 and Mathematics 1.

4. Organic Chemistry.—Lectures, W. F. and occasionally M. 10:30; laboratory, Tu. or W. 1:05–3:30. PROFESSOR MELDRUM.

A study of aliphatic, aromatic, and heterocyclic compounds. Prerequisite, Chemistry 2.

5b. Physical Chemistry.—Lectures, Tu. Th. S. 10:30; laboratory, Th. or F. 1:05–3:30, second half-year. MR. CADBURY.

An introductory course adapted to the requirements of pre-medical students. Gases; colloids and adsorption; osmotic pressure and other properties of solutions; the phase rule; conductance, electromotive force, and hydrogen ion concentration; reaction velocity and catalysis. Prerequisite, Chemistry 3a.

6a, 6b. Special Topics in Theoretical Chemistry.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR MELDRUM and MR. CADBURY.

Open only to graduate students.

7a, 7b. Advanced Physical Chemistry.—Lectures, M. W. F. 9:30. MR. CADBURY and DR. JONES.

Thermodynamics and its application in physical chemistry. Photochemistry. Modern theories of solutions. Applications of the Modern Theories of Atomic Structure. Prerequisite, Chemistry 2, Mathematics 2, and Chemistry 5b or Physics 2.

8a. Advanced Organic Chemistry.—Lectures, W. F. 8:30; laboratory, W. or Th. 1:05–3:30, first half-year. DR. JONES.

Special topics in organic chemistry. Organic analysis constitutes the laboratory work.

9b. Advanced Quantitative Analysis.—Lectures, W. F., 8:30; laboratory, two periods from M. Tu. W. 1:05–3:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR MELDRUM, and DR. JONES.

10a, 10b. Chemistry Research.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR MELDRUM, MR. CADBURY, and DR. JONES.

Open only to chemistry majors and graduate students in chemistry. May be elected as one or more courses.

ECONOMICS

Economics 1 is elective for Sophomores and is prerequisite to all other courses in economics. It may be taken by Juniors and Seniors only with the permission of the professor in charge.

Major Requirements

(For the Class of 1940)

Six half-year courses in Economics in addition to Economics 1.

Sociology 1a, and three other half-year courses in supporting fields, as approved by the professors concerned.

Selected readings on the history of economic thought and on current economic problems.

A seven-hour comprehensive examination covering a review of the major courses and the readings. A part of the comprehensive examination may be oral.

1. Elementary Economics.

Section 1—M. W. F. 8:30. PROFESSOR TEAF.

Section 2—M. W. F. 9:30. PROFESSOR FETTER.

Section 3—M.W.F. 11:30. PROFESSOR TEAF.

(The three sections will meet together occasionally at the 11:30 hour on Wednesday. All students electing the course must have this hour free.)

The purpose of this course is to acquaint the student with the main features of modern economic life, and to develop an understanding of the principles underlying economic relationships. Emphasis is laid on the application of these principles to present day problems.

2a. Industry and Society.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR WATSON.

A sociological appraisal of modern industrialism. The course includes a detailed study of certain social problems, such as wages, hours of labor, unemployment, and other forms of economic insecurity, to discover, if possible, any causal connection between them and industry as such. The wider implications of the Machine Age are examined, together with proposed antidotes and remedies for its alleged evils.

Also called Sociology 4a.

3b. Human Relations in Industry.—Tu. Th. S., second half-year. PROFESSOR WATSON.

A study of business organization and the philosophy of management, with special reference to the fields of personnel administration and industrial relations. The course surveys scientific management since Taylor and includes an analysis of the nature, objects, and technique of labor management, employee representation, and plans of union-management co-operation. Prerequisite, Economics 2a.

Also called Sociology 5b.

[Offered in 1938-39; not to be offered in 1939-40.]

4a. Money and Banking.—M. Tu. F. 11:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR FETTER.

A study of the history and principles of money, credit, and banking, with particular reference to American conditions. Such problems as monetary standards, price movements and their effects, foreign exchange, commercial banking, central banking and the Federal Reserve System, are considered.

5b. International Trade and Finance.—M. Tu. F. 11:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR FETTER.

A study of foreign trade and exchange, international payments and trade problems connected therewith, money and banking in their international aspects, and international indebtedness. Prerequisite, Economics 4a.

6b. The Corporation.—M. W. F. 9:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR TEAF.

Economic functions and legal responsibilities of the corporation and its members; fixed capital, and the analysis of financial statements; policies involving surplus, reserves, dividends, etc.; expansion, combination, and reorganization. Social problems created by the growth of corporations are given special attention. Prerequisite, Economics 11a.

7b. Transportation.—M. W. F. 10:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR FETTER.

A study of the historical development and present status of railroads, inland waterways, and highway and air transportation in the United States. Among the problems discussed are public regulation of common carriers; rate making; valuation, consolidation, and intercorporate relations of railroads; the relation of railroads to other transportation agencies.

8b. Government Finance.—M. W. F. 8:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR HERNDON.

A study of the general principles of public expenditures, public revenues, public indebtedness, and financial administration, and of the principles of equity in the distribution of tax burdens.

Also called Government 8b.

[Offered in 1938-39; not to be offered in 1939-40.]

9a. Modern Economic Problems.—Tu. Th. S. 8:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR FETTER.

A study of selected economic problems of modern times, with special attention to their relation to economic theory. A conference course limited to ten students.

10a. Government and Business.—M. W. F. 10:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR TEAF.

A study of the historical development, economic basis, and the present problems of the regulation of business organization and policies by government. Special attention is given to such topics as the trust movement, anti-trust legislation, the Federal Trade Commission, competitive practices, cartels and trade associations, and the regulation of securities and securities exchanges.

11a. Accounting.—M. W. F. 9:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR TEAF.

The balance sheet and statement of profit and loss, the classification of accounts, the theory of debit and credit, the books of original entry and of record, opening and closing the books, corporation accounts, reserves, etc. Discussion is accompanied by practice problems. This course is intended to provide an understanding of accounting sufficient for students going into the professions as well as a foundation for advanced accounting courses for those who will go into business.

ENGINEERING

The work in engineering is carried on in the Hilles Laboratory of Applied Science, a commodious building of stone and concrete completed in 1929. It contains offices, classrooms, drawing rooms, a departmental library, mechanical and electrical laboratories, locker rooms, etc.

The engineering courses are designed to give a thorough training in fundamental engineering principles and, as far as practicable, to illustrate the application of these principles to their associated industries.

Exceptional facilities for observing the practical side of the work are offered by the many manufacturing companies in and near Philadelphia, and frequent inspection trips are made.

The lack of a general or broad education and of thoroughness in fundamentals has been universally recognized as limiting the usefulness and opportunities of many in the engineering profession. To provide against these deficiencies students electing courses in engineering will be required to pursue studies of a general nature (history, ethics, economics, languages, etc.) throughout the four years, and to concentrate largely on mathematics, physics, and chemistry, the fundamentals of all engineering. This combination of breadth with thorough groundwork prepares the way for the highest professional development.

By a careful selection of electives from the several departments, a student should be able to meet the fundamental requirements of any branch of engineering activity which he may later undertake.* Haverford graduates who desire more specialized training before entering the active work of the profession are granted substantial credit toward advanced standing in technical institutions or are admitted to their graduate schools.

The specific courses offered each year are described below; but, in addition, others may be arranged to cover special needs. Application for admission to such courses should be made to the professor in charge. Engineering 10 and 11 may be counted as courses in Physics for the purpose of satisfying any curriculum requirements.

Major Requirements

(For the Class of 1940)

Engineering 1, 2b, 4a, 5b, 10.

Mathematics 2, Physics 2 and two additional half-year courses from Engineering, Mathematics, Physics, or Chemistry.

An active interest in current professional work.

Comprehensive examination.

* See p. 39 for sample schedule in General Engineering.

A. Shop Methods.—Hours to be arranged, first or second half-year.
MR. RANTZ.

Machine-tool work on the lathe, planer, milling machine, shaper, etc. Modern production methods; costs and time studies. Prerequisite, Engineering 1. Reference library.

1a. Principles of Engineering Drawing and Shop Methods.—Drawing Tu. Th. 1:05-3:30; shop period and inspection trips to be arranged, first half-year. DR. HETZEL and MR. RANTZ.

Lettering, conventions, projection, perspective, sketching, detail and assembly drawings, checking and blue printing. Text: Giesecke, Mitchell and Spencer, Technical Drawing. Pattern and foundry work in shop. Reference library.

1b. Engineering Orientation.—Tu. Th. 1:05-3:30; shop period and inspection trips to be arranged, second half-year. PROFESSORS RITTENHOUSE, HOLMES, DR. HETZEL and MR. RANTZ.

The purpose of this course is to inform students as to the nature and scope of various fields of engineering and to acquaint them with typical engineering equipment. Exercises in machine-tool work, in plane surveying and in the mechanical and electrical laboratories. Discussions and reports. Reference library.

2a. Mechanism.—Tu. Th. 10:30; laboratory, W. 1:05-3:30; first half-year. PROFESSORS RITTENHOUSE, HOLMES and DR. HETZEL.

Velocity diagrams, quick return motions, transmission gears, cams, etc. Two recitations and one drafting room period a week. Text: Schwamb, Merrill, and James, Elements of Mechanism.

2b. Analytical Mechanics.—Tu. Th. S. 10:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR HOLMES.

A study of forces and moments of forces; determination of stresses in trusses and cranes; centroids and center of gravity; rectilinear and curvilinear motion; translation and rotation of bodies; work, power, and energy; impulse and momentum; balancing and moments of inertia. Text: Seely and Ensign, Analytical Mechanics for Engineers. Prerequisite or parallel course, Mathematics 2.

3a or 3b. Descriptive Geometry.—Hours to be arranged; PROFESSOR HOLMES.

Advanced orthographic projections; applications to engineering structures. Theory and plates.

4a. Heat Engineering.—M. W. F. 8:30; laboratory period and inspection trips to be arranged, first half-year. PROFESSOR HOLMES and DR. HETZEL.

This course includes a study of steam and gas engines, turbines, condensers, air-compressors, steam boilers, power-plant economies, and cost of power. The thermodynamic principles involved are considered in the first part of the course. Text: Severns and Degler, Steam, Air and Gas Power.

In general, one laboratory period a week is required. The laboratory exercises parallel the classroom work and include boiler and engine testing, fuel tests, gas analyses, calibration of instruments, etc. Comprehensive reports for each test are required. Reference library.

5a. Materials of Engineering.—Two class hours, laboratory periods and inspection trips to be arranged; first half-year. PROFESSOR HOLMES.

A study of the production and engineering properties of metals, their alloys and the more important non-metallic materials. Laboratory exercises on the testing machine, heat treatment, microscopic study of metals and alloys, hardness testing, etc. Text: Mills, Materials of Construction. Reference library.

[Offered in 1938-39; not to be offered in 1939-40.]

5b. Strength of Materials.—W. F. 8:30; laboratory period and inspection trips to be arranged; second half-year. PROFESSOR HOLMES and MR. RANTZ.

A study of stress and strain; of beams and columns; of shafting; of girders, trusses, combined stresses, etc. A series of tests on the screw testing-machine is made by each student. Text: Poorman, Strength of Materials.

6b. Internal Combustion Engines.—Three hours, to be arranged, second half-year. DR. HETZEL.

A course on gasoline and Diesel engines, with particular attention to thermodynamics and the subject of fuels. Special topics may be arranged according to the interests of the group. Lectures, assigned reading, problems, laboratory experiments, inspection trips. Text: Streeter and Lichty, Internal Combustion Engines.

7a. Hydraulics.—Three class hours, laboratory periods and inspection trips to be arranged, first half-year. PROFESSOR HOLMES.

A study of the principles of hydrostatics and hydrokinetics including the laws governing static and dynamic pressure, the flow of water through orifices, tubes, nozzles, weirs, pipe lines and open channels. The theory of hydraulic machinery and flow of water is supplemented by laboratory exercises.

[Not offered in 1938-39; to be offered in 1939-40.]

8a or 8b. Mechanical Laboratory.—Hours to be arranged, first or second half-year. PROFESSOR HOLMES and DR. HETZEL.

Operation, testing, and theory of steam, gas, hydraulic, and air machinery. Two periods of experimental work. Reports. If taken as 8a, the course may be continued through the second half-year by arrangement. Prerequisite, Engineering 4a. Reference Library.

10a. Elements of Applied Electricity.—M. Tu. F. 11:30, laboratory, W. or Th. 1:05-3:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR RITTENHOUSE.

This course while fundamental to the more advanced electrical courses is adapted to the needs of those students desiring practical experience with the common applications of electricity. It includes a study of circuits, generators, motors, lamps, transformers, heaters, the telephone, etc. The instruction is carried on by textbook and laboratory work.

10b. Alternating Current Theory and Practice.—M. F. 11:30; laboratory, W. or Th. 1:05–3:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR RITTENHOUSE.

A continuation of course 10a, with a more detailed study of alternating current apparatus.

11a. Electric, Magnetic and Communication Circuits.—Hours to be arranged, first half-year. PROFESSOR RITTENHOUSE and DR. HETZEL.

Circuit theory and laboratory work covering electronic tubes, rectifiers, amplifiers, oscillators, magnetic circuits, polyphase circuits, etc. Text: Weinbach, Alternating Current Circuits.

11b. Electrical Circuits and Measurements.—Hours to be arranged, second half-year. PROFESSOR RITTENHOUSE and DR. HETZEL.

A continuation of course 11a with a selection from a wide line of communication, power and electronic apparatus.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

The unrestricted courses in literature (not marked with asterisks) are non-technical, and the books are studied without extensive reference to the continuity of literary history. The courses marked with asterisks, though not necessarily more difficult, involve a more thorough study of literary history and are designed primarily for students majoring in literature or in a closely related field.

Major Requirements

(For the Class of 1940)

An individual program equal to six full-year courses, made up principally from the starred English courses with the approval of the Major Supervisor, and stressing Elizabethan and nineteenth-century literature. Greek 6b is usually prescribed.

English Aa. Methods and Techniques of College Work.—Lecture M. 8:30, and one additional hour to be arranged. First half-year. PROFESSOR REITZEL and MR. WATSON.

This course is used to make sure that students have been adequately prepared in the routines that the faculty believes necessary for efficient college work. These routines are specified as follows:

1. The Use of a Library
2. The Standard Forms and Principles of Documentation
3. Elementary Research
4. An elementary knowledge of Logical Methods and their occurrence in college work
5. A practical skill in Expository Writing.

Students can obtain release from this work as soon as they satisfy the instructors of their proficiency, though normally this is not before the end of the first quarter.

No numerical grade is recorded for this course: the student is registered as Satisfactory or Unsatisfactory.

Public Speaking Aa.—One hour to be arranged. First half-year.
PROFESSOR MONTGOMERY.

A diagnosis of the student's voice and speech needs, with recommendations for their improvement. Instruction and practice in extemporaneous speaking.

Students cannot normally obtain release from this work.

No numerical grade is recorded for this course: the student is registered as Satisfactory or Unsatisfactory.

N.B. English Aa and Public Speaking Aa, although under the direction of the English Department, are fundamental to the entire curriculum of the College and not only to the English Department's plan of courses in literature.

English 1a. Advanced Freshman English.—Three hours to be arranged; first half-year. Elective for those students who satisfy the Instructor and the Administration of their eligibility for advanced work.
PROFESSOR REITZEL.

English 2b. The History of English Literature.—T. Th. S. 10:30, second half-year. Required of all Freshmen. PROFESSOR REITZEL.

3a. Shakespeare.—Tu. Th. S. 8:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR HUBLER

Rapid reading of several plays with emphasis on features of general and popular interest. Not restricted, but offered primarily for Sophomores.

4b. The Contemporary Drama.—Tu. Th. S. 8:30, second half-year.
PROFESSOR SNYDER.

A study of the technique and practice of the modern drama, as illustrated in the works of Ibsen and the best modern dramatists of England and America. Not restricted, but offered primarily for Sophomores.

5a.* Elizabethan Literature.—M. W. F. 9:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR HUBLER.

Plays, lyrics, and pastorals by authors other than Shakespeare. The Faerie Queene. Offered primarily for Juniors majoring in English or a foreign literature. Prerequisite, English 3a.

6a.* Advanced Composition.—Tu. Th. 1:30–3:00, first half-year.
PROFESSOR HUBLER.

Writing is done in connection with individual courses in reading. Limited to twelve Juniors and Seniors. Apply in advance.

[Offered in 1938–39; not to be offered in 1939–40.]

* Students whose field of major concentration is remote from English may not elect the course without permission of the instructor.

8a.* Chaucer.—Tu. Th. S. 10:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR HOTSON.
The Canterbury Tales and a wide selection of the other poems. Open to Juniors and Seniors.
[Not offered in 1938–39; to be offered in 1939–40.]

12a.* Eighteenth-Century Literature.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR SNYDER.

Essays, dramas, and Boswell's Life of Johnson. Open to Juniors and Seniors.

12b.* Eighteenth-Century Literature.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR SNYDER.

Novels, poetry, and biographies of leading men of letters. Prerequisite, English 12a.

13a.* Nineteenth-Century Poetry.—M. W. F. 10:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR SNYDER.

A study of six poets: Coleridge, Wordsworth, Shelley, Byron, Keats, and Tennyson. Lectures and classroom discussions.

14b.* Nineteenth-Century Prose.—M. W. F. 10:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR REITZEL.

A study of the prose of the period 1830–1900, with special emphasis on fiction and on critical writings. The relation between economic and literary tendencies is emphasized.

16a. American Literature to the Civil War.—Tu. Th. S. 10:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR SNYDER.

Elective for all Juniors and Seniors.

[Not offered in 1938–39; to be offered in 1939–40.]

16b. American Literature Since the Civil War.—Tu. Th. S. 10:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR SNYDER.

Elective for all Juniors and Seniors.

[Not offered in 1938–39; to be offered in 1939–40.]

17b.* The Development of the Drama.—Second half-year. PROFESSOR SNYDER.

A rapid survey of the development of the drama in Greece, Italy, Spain, France, and Germany, illustrated by famous plays read chiefly in translation. Emphasis is put on comedy. Open to Juniors and Seniors. Prerequisite, English 3a or 4b.

[Offered in 1938–39; not to be offered in 1939–40.]

18a. Special Topics in Shakespeare.—M. W. F. 1:30; first half-year. PROFESSOR HUBLER.

Prerequisite, English 5a. Required of Seniors majoring in English and open, by permission of the instructor, to a few others especially well qualified. Apply in advance.

* Students whose field of major concentration is remote from English may not elect the course without permission of the instructor.

21a. Special Topics in Poetry.—M. W. F. 9:30, first half-year.
PROFESSOR SNYDER.

Important treatises on poetics from Aristotle to Whitman. An intensive study of Browning's poems. Required of Seniors majoring in English and open, by permission of the instructor, to a few others especially well qualified. Apply in advance. Prerequisite, English 13a.

22b. Special Topics in Prose of the Romantic Period.—M. W. F. 9:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR REITZEL.

Required of Seniors majoring in English and open, by permission of the instructor, to a few others especially well qualified. Apply in advance.

FRENCH

Major Requirements (For the Class of 1940)

French 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6.

Latin 2 or German 2.

History of France 1515–1870.

A comprehensive examination, written and oral, including pronunciation and sight reading.

A. Elementary French.—M. F. 11:30; W. 2:30. MR. MELCHIOR.

Elementary grammar and the reading of simple texts. Emphasis will be laid on pronunciation.

1. Intermediate French.

Section 1—M. W. F. 9:30. MR. MELCHIOR.

Section 2—Tu. Th. S. 9:30. MR. MELCHIOR.

Grammar, composition, and reading, both in the classroom and as outside work. Prerequisite, French A or entrance French 2.

2. Advanced Intermediate French.

Section 1—M. W. F. 9:30. PRESIDENT COMFORT.

Section 2—M. W. F. 10:30. PROFESSOR WILLIAMSON.

Section 3—Tu. Th. S. 9:30. PRESIDENT COMFORT.

Composition. Reading of French classics, both in the classroom and as outside work. Prerequisite, French 1 or entrance French 3.

3. Advanced French.—M. W. F. 9:30. PROFESSOR WILLIAMSON.

Rapid reading course in French literature of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, both in the classroom and as outside assignments. Prerequisite, French 2.

4. History of French Literature.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30. PRESIDENT COMFORT first half-year, PROFESSOR WILLIAMSON second half-year.

Lectures, with collateral reading and reports on the history of French literature from its origins to the present time. Prerequisite, French 2.

[Not offered in 1938–39; to be offered in 1939–40.]

5. Advanced French Composition and Conversation.—Tu. Th. S. 8:30. MR. MELCHIOR.

6a. French Literature of the Seventeenth Century.—Hours to be arranged, first half-year. PROFESSOR WILLIAMSON.

Lectures, reports and discussions on the main currents of thought and outstanding literary figures of the century. Prerequisite, French 3 or French 4.

[Offered in 1938-39; not to be offered in 1939-40.]

6b. French Literature of the Eighteenth Century.—Hours to be arranged, second half-year. PROFESSOR WILLIAMSON.

Lectures, reports and discussions on the main currents of thought of the Age of Reason. Prerequisite, French 3 or French 4.

[Offered in 1938-39; not to be offered in 1939-40.]

(French 5, 6a, and 6b may be elected only by qualified Juniors and Seniors after consultation with the professor in charge.)

GEOGRAPHY AND GEOLOGY

The college has collections of minerals and fossils, maps, charts, etc. These are housed in the upper two floors of Sharpless Hall.

1. Geography and Geology.—Tu. Th. S. 8:30. PROFESSOR DUNN.

A discussion of the general principles of the sciences, with special reference to North America, and to the Philadelphia region. Practical work in mineralogy, physiography, and stratigraphy is required. Three lectures a week (one omitted at option of instructor). Open to Juniors and Seniors without prerequisite.

[Not offered in 1938-39; to be offered in 1939-40.]

GERMAN

Major Requirements

(For the Class of 1940)

German 2, 3, 4a, 5a, 5b, 6, and 7b.

Supporting courses to be arranged in conference with Professor J. A. Kelly.

A comprehensive examination covering: 1. German language; 2. History of the German language; 3. German literature; 4. German history, 1517-1914; and 5. A special period, literary movement, or writer.

A. Elementary German.—Section 1—M. W. F. 9:30; Section 2—M. W. F. 10:30. PROFESSORS J. A. KELLY and PFUND.

Grammar, conversation, and the reading of simple texts.

1. Intermediate German.—Section 1—M. W. F. 9:30; Section 2—M. W. F. 10:30. PROFESSORS J. A. KELLY and PFUND.

Texts of moderate difficulty are read both in class and as outside work. One hour a week is devoted to composition. Prerequisite, German A or entrance German 2.

2. German Language and Literature.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30. PROFESSOR PFUND.

Reading of standard works of German Literature. Composition. Prerequisite, German 1 or entrance German 3.

3. Lessing, Goethe, Schiller.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR J. A. KELLY.

Prerequisite, German 2 or the equivalent.

4a. Advanced Composition and Conversation.—M. 2:30, and one evening session; first half-year. PROFESSOR PFUND.

Prerequisite, German 2 or the equivalent.

5a. General View of German Literature, from its origins to the eighteenth century.—Hours to be arranged, first half-year. PROFESSOR PFUND.

Prerequisite, German 2.

5b. General View of German Literature, from the eighteenth century to the present time.—Hours to be arranged, second half-year. PROFESSOR PFUND.

Prerequisite, German 2.

6. German Literature of the Nineteenth Century.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR J. A. KELLY.

[Offered in 1938–39; not to be offered in 1939–40.]

7b. Faust.—Hours to be arranged, second half-year. PROFESSOR PFUND.

[Offered in 1938–39; not to be offered in 1939–40.]

8a. The Life and Works of Richard Wagner.—Hours to be arranged, first half-year. PROFESSOR J. A. KELLY.

[Not offered in 1938–39; to be offered in 1939–40.]

GOVERNMENT

Government 1 is a prerequisite for any other course in this department.

Major Requirements

(For the Class of 1940)

Six half-year courses in Government.

Six other half-year courses in Economics, Sociology, and History.

A four-hour examination covering a review of the major field.

A three-hour examination covering readings in political philosophy.

1. American Government.—Section 1, Tu. Th. S. 9:30. Section 2, Tu. Th. S. 10:30. PROFESSOR HERNDON.

A study of the practical working of the American system of government, national, state, and local, with a careful consideration of the leading court decisions.

2b. Political Debates.—Tu. 1:30–3:30; Th. 2:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR HERNDON.

Limited to twelve Juniors. Principles of argumentation and debating, and practical work in political debating.

[Not offered in 1938–39; to be offered in 1939–40.]

3a. Constitutional Law.—M. W. F. 8:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR HERNDON and MR. COOK.

A study of the principal decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, together with practice in the preparation of cases and the writing of opinions.

4a. International Relations.—W. 11:30, Th. 7:30–9:30 P.M., first half-year. PROFESSOR HERNDON and MR. FRENCH.

The Practice of Diplomacy. A critical study of the quest of empire and the foreign policies of the Great Powers.

5b. International Law.—W. 11:30, Th. 7:30–9:30 P.M., second half-year. PROFESSOR HERNDON and MR. COOK.

The nature of international public law, the history of its growth, the so-called laws of war and neutrality are subjects covered in this course. The United States Government requires of those entering its foreign service such a knowledge of international law as may be obtained from this course.

[Offered in 1938–39; not to be offered in 1939–40.]

6b. Comparative Government.—M. W. F. 10:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR HERNDON.

A comparative study of the modern constitutional systems of the principal European states.

[Not offered in 1938–39; to be offered in 1939–40.]

8b. Government Finance.—M. W. F. 8:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR HERNDON.

A study of the general principles of public expenditures, public revenues, public indebtedness, and financial administration, and of the principles of equity in the distribution of tax burdens. (Also called Economics 8b.)

[Offered in 1938-39; not to be offered in 1939-40.]

GREEK*

Students presenting two units of Greek for entrance (see page 26) will be admitted to Greek 1; those who have passed three units, to Greek 2.

Major Requirements

(For the Class of 1940)

Greek 2, 3, and two half-year courses from Greek 4a, 4b, 5a, 5b, 6b, and History 10.

Three additional courses to be arranged in conference with Professor Post.

If Greek 1 is not taken in college, an additional half-course will be required.

A comprehensive examination on Greek language and literature, Greek history and Greek civilization.

A. Elementary Greek.—M. W. F. 9:30 PROFESSOR POST and DR. WALTON.

Thorough study of the elements of the language followed by the reading of simple Attic prose. This course gives adequate preparation for Greek 1.

1. Intermediate Greek.—M. Tu. F. 11:30. PROFESSOR POST.

A rapid reading course in such authors as Homer, Herodotus, and Euripides.

2a, 2b. Advanced Intermediate Greek.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30. PROFESSOR POST.

Selections from Plato, Menander, Aristophanes, and the tragedians are read.

3a, 3b. Advanced Greek.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR POST.

The instructor will arrange with students electing this course for systematic study of special subjects in Greek philosophy, history, or literature in connection with the reading of Greek authors.

* See also History 10.

4a, 4b. Advanced Greek.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR POST.
A continuation of the work done in Greek 3.

5a, 5b. Advanced Greek Prose Composition.—Hours to be arranged.
PROFESSOR POST.

This course should be taken by all candidates for final honors in Greek.

6b. Greek Literature in English.—M. W. F. 8:30, second half-year.
PROFESSOR POST.

Lectures on Greek literature. Reading of Greek poetry, drama, and literary criticism in translation. Essays and discussions. No knowledge of Greek is required in this course, but a general acquaintance with English literature is essential.

HISTORY

Major Requirements

(For the Class of 1940)

Four full-year courses (or three full-year courses and two half-year courses) in History.

Two full-year courses or their equivalent in related departments.

Four review examinations of three hours each.

1. English History.—M. W. F. 10:30. PROFESSOR LUNT.

A survey of political, constitutional, economic, and social history, intended as an introductory course. Open to Freshmen and Sophomores.

2. Foundations of the United States, 1492-1865.—M. W. F. 8:30.
PROFESSOR DRAKE.

Lectures, reading, and discussion in American colonial and early national history. Not open to Freshmen.

3. National Development of the United States, 1865 to the Present.—
Tu. Th. S. 8:30. PROFESSOR DRAKE.

A study of institutional growth, with the larger social and political issues of the present considered in their historical setting. A lecture, reading, and discussion course as described in History 2. Intended primarily for Juniors and Seniors.

4. English Constitutional History.—M. W. F. 9:30. PROFESSOR LUNT.

A study of the formation and growth of English institutions, designed to be useful particularly to those who are interested in government and law. Elective for Juniors, Seniors, and Graduates.

[Not offered in 1938-39; to be offered in 1939-40.]

5. Mediaeval History.—M. W. F. 9:30. PROFESSOR LUNT.

A survey of the history of Europe from the time of the barbarian invasions to about 1500. Elective for Juniors, Seniors, and Graduates.

Sophomores who have had History I may also enter this course. Graduate students should have a reading knowledge of Latin, French or German.

[Offered in 1938-39; not to be offered in 1939-40.]

6. Modern European History.—M. W. F. 1:30, PROFESSOR LUNT.

A survey of the history of Europe from about 1500 to the present. Elective for Juniors and Seniors. Sophomores who have had History I may enter the course.

[Not offered in 1938-39; to be offered in 1939-40.]

10. Greek History.—T.Th.S. 8:30, PROFESSOR H. COMFORT.

Elementary course. A knowledge of Greek is not required.

11b. Roman History.—T.Th.S. 8:30, second half-year, PROFESSOR H. COMFORT.

Elementary course. A knowledge of Latin is not required.

[Not offered in 1938-39.]

ITALIAN

A. Elementary Italian.—M. W. F. 1:30, PROFESSOR WILLIAMSON.

Grammar, composition, and reading. Not open to Freshmen.

[Offered in 1938-39; not to be offered in 1939-40.]

1. Italian Literature.—Hours to be arranged, PROFESSOR WILLIAMSON.

The Divina Commedia and Italian classics both in the classroom and as outside work. Prerequisite, Italian A.

[Not offered in 1938-39; to be offered in 1939-40.]

LATIN*

One Latin (or Greek) course is required for the A.B. degree, but students who have passed only three units of Latin for entrance must take Latin 1 as prerequisite for the required Latin course, which may be any course except Latin 1 or Latin 10.

Major Requirements

(For the Class of 1940)

Four full-year courses in Latin.

Two such additional full-year courses in other departments as are arranged in conference between the student and Professors Lockwood and H. Comfort.

A comprehensive examination focused on Roman history, literature, and civilization, and the classical heritage of mediaeval and modern times.

1. Preparatory Latin.—Hours to be arranged. First half-year, PROFESSOR H. COMFORT and DR. WALTON; second half-year, PROFESSORS LOCKWOOD and H. COMFORT.

Vergil's Aeneid or Cicero's Orations.

2. Survey of Classical Roman Literature.—First half-year, PROFESSOR H. COMFORT and DR. WALTON; second half-year, PROFESSORS LOCKWOOD and H. COMFORT.

Section 1—M. F. 9:30; W. 11:30.

Section 2—M. F. 2:30; W. 11:30.

Rapid reading of classical authors from Plautus to Suetonius. This course supplements the intensive foundation work of the preparatory school with extensive reading over a broader range of Latin literature illustrating Greco-Roman life and thought. Emphasis will be laid on literary history and appreciation.

3a. Roman Drama.—Hours to be arranged, first half-year. PROFESSOR POST and DR. WALTON.

Plautus, Terence, Seneca.

[Offered in 1938-39; not to be offered in 1939-40.]

3b. Roman Imperial Prose.—Hours to be arranged, second half-year. PROFESSOR H. COMFORT.

Petronius, Tacitus, Pliny's Letters.

[Offered in 1938-39; not to be offered in 1939-40.]

4a. Roman Historians.—Suggested hours, Tu. Th. S. 10:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR H. COMFORT.

Livy, Caesar, Cicero's Letters.

[Not offered in 1938-39; to be offered in 1939-40.]

* See also History 11b.

4b. Poetry of the Golden Age.—Suggested hours, Tu. Th. S. 9:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR H. COMFORT.

Catullus, Vergil, Horace, Ovid.

[Not offered in 1938-39; to be offered in 1939-40.]

Any of the following courses may be repeated with change of content, for full credit.

5. Survey of European Latin Literature.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR LOCKWOOD.

Rapid reading of selections from the post-classical, Christian, mediaeval, and modern Latin writers; study of the phases of European civilization represented in Latin letters.

Note: Offered only as a half-year course 5b in 1938-39.

10a or 10b. Prose Composition.—Hours to be arranged, either half-year. First half-year, PROFESSOR H. COMFORT. Second half-year, PROFESSOR LOCKWOOD.

Required of candidates for Final Honors in Latin.

14a or 14b. Readings in Latin Literature.—Hours to be arranged. First half-year, PROFESSOR H. COMFORT; second half-year, PROFESSOR LOCKWOOD.

Individual work. Each student may select a field of reading which is correlated with his other college courses (e.g., in philosophy, history, Romance languages, or English literature) or he may pursue more intensive work in one of the periods or one of the literary types surveyed in Latin 2, 3, 4 or 5.

15. Roman Law.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR LOCKWOOD.

Reading of selections from the Institutes, the Digest, and other texts and sources of Roman Law.

Note: Offered only as a half-year course 15b in 1938-39.

MATHEMATICS

Freshmen who have passed courses in Solid Geometry and Trigonometry will be placed in an advanced section of Mathematics 1.

Mathematics 3 should be taken by students contemplating advanced work in Chemistry, Engineering or Physics.

Candidates for the Master's degree will be required to present a thesis.

Major Requirements

(For the Class of 1940)

Mathematics 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6a and 7b.

Prescribed parallel reading on the history and general principles of Mathematics.

Two written comprehensive examinations, each three hours in length, one on Algebra and Geometry, and one on Analysis.

It is recommended that facility in reading French and German be acquired as early in the College Course as possible.

1. Freshman Mathematics.—M. F. 11:30, Tu. Th. 8:30. PROFESSORS WILSON and OAKLEY and DR. ALLENDOERFER.

Plane Trigonometry, including logarithms and the solution of triangles, with applications. Topics in Algebra, including complex numbers, combinations and permutations, determinants, and the elements of the theory of equations. Solid Geometry: lines and planes, solid angles, and the sphere. Analytic Geometry: general methods, with applications to conic sections and other curves; introduction to geometry of three dimensions.

2. Calculus.—M. W. F. 8:30. PROFESSOR WILSON and DR. ALLENDOERFER.

Differential and Integral Calculus, with applications. Prerequisite, Mathematics 1.

3. Advanced Calculus and Differential Equations.—M. W. F. 8:30. PROFESSOR OAKLEY. Prerequisite, Mathematics 2.

4a, 4b. Introduction to Higher Algebra.—3 hours, to be arranged. PROFESSOR WILSON.

The number system, theory of equations, determinants and matrices, elements of group theory. Prerequisite, Mathematics 2.

5a, 5b. Introduction to Higher Geometry.—3 hours, to be arranged. PROFESSOR WILSON.

Advanced methods in analytic geometry of two and three dimensions. Projective geometry, synthetic and analytic methods. Prerequisite, Mathematics 4, 6a. Partial Differential Equations and Fourier Series.—3 hours, to be arranged, first half-year. DR. ALLENDOERFER.

Problem course, with many applications to Chemistry, Engineering and Physics. Prerequisite, Mathematics 3.

7b. Theory of Functions of a Complex Variable.—3 hours, to be arranged, second half-year. PROFESSOR WILSON. Prerequisite, Mathematics 3.

8a. Introduction to Statistics.—M. W. F. 10:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR OAKLEY.

Tabular and graphic methods, frequency distribution, averages, measures of central tendency, dispersion and skewness, correlation. Lectures and laboratory. Prerequisite, Mathematics 1.

Elective for Juniors and Seniors.

9a. Introduction to the Theory of Probability and Finite Differences.—M. W. F. 10:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR OAKLEY.

This course is designed for students who are interested in actuarial work. Prerequisite, Mathematics 2.

[Not offered in 1938-39; to be offered in 1939-40.]

MUSIC

1. Introduction to Music, Analysis of Musical Forms, and Historical Survey.—M. Tu. F. 11:30. PROFESSOR SWANN.

As indicated above, the purpose of the course is a three-fold one: to define and clarify the scope of music for the average listener, to attain to a knowledge of the rudiments of music that will enable the student to analyse such classical forms as the fugue, sonata, or rondo, and to present the material in historical order, pointing out the place of music and the rôle of individual composers in the successive epochs of the Christian era (up to the middle of the 19th century).

PHILOSOPHY

Major Requirements

(For the Class of 1940)

Philosophy 1a, 4, 7a.

Four other half-year courses in Philosophy.

Four half-year courses in related fields to be arranged in conference with the professor in charge.

A comprehensive examination in two parts: three hours on the history of philosophy and three hours on one optional field selected from Topics in Philosophy since 1800, or Religious Thought, or Psychology.

1a. Elementary Psychology.—M. F. 1:30, Tu. 11:30 or W. 1:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR THOMAS R. KELLY and DEAN MACINTOSH.

The problems of human nature will be faced in this course by means of lectures, discussions, and assigned readings. A textbook will be used to acquaint the student with the major findings of modern scientific investigators in this field, and group experiments will be conducted to illustrate important points. The student will be introduced to the significant rival schools of psychology.

2b. Advanced Psychology.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR STEERE.

A study of the nature and functioning of personality by an examination of personality in difficulties. Both the forms of abnormal behavior and the modern theories of psychotherapy will be studied. Lectures, class reports, and occasional trips to clinic. Elective for twelve Juniors and Seniors and only by consent of instructor. Prerequisite, Philosophy 1b.

[This course is designed for advanced students and graduates only.]

3a. Introduction to Philosophy.—M. W. F. 8:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR THOMAS R. KELLY.

In this introductory course an attempt is made to orient the student in the whole field of philosophy, preparing him for the more specialized disciplines, such as ethics, logic, and the philosophy of science. The course deals with the philosophy of nature, the theory of knowledge, and the philosophy of spirit.

4. History of Philosophy.—M. W. F. 10:30. PROFESSORS STEERE and THOMAS R. KELLY.

A study of the development of philosophy with special reference to Plato, Aristotle, Descartes, Locke, Berkeley, Hume, Spinoza, Leibnitz, Kant, and Hegel. First-hand acquaintance with selected writings of these philosophers, reports, lectures, and class discussions.

5b. Nineteenth-Century Thinkers.—Hours to be arranged, second half-year. PROFESSOR STEERE.

Selected writings of Schopenhauer, Nietzsche, Tolstoy, and Bergson. Open only to Juniors and Seniors, except by permission of instructor.

6b. Logic.—Tu. Th. S. 8:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR THOMAS R. KELLY.

The course is designed to acquaint the student with the logic of scientific method and to develop facility in the classical deductive logic. In addition, the recent expansion of this latter field through the development of symbolic logic is examined. Elective for Juniors and Seniors.

[Not offered in 1938-39; to be offered in 1939-40.]

7a. Ethics.—M. F. 2:30, W. 11:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR STEERE.

This course will study (1) conflicts of ethical values involved in contemporary life; (2) certain classical ethical devices for resolving those conflicts; (3) the role of the individual and of the group in the realization of ethical values. Case material drawn from contemporary situations and from literature will be widely used. Discussions, lectures and papers.

7b. Oriental Philosophy.—M. W. F. 8:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR THOMAS R. KELLY.

An introduction to life ideals and philosophic speculations of Eastern peoples, particularly those of China and India. Each year in which the course is offered, special emphasis will be laid upon the thought of one country. The emphasis during 1938-39 will be upon the philosophy of India.

[Offered in 1938-39; not to be offered in 1939-40.]

8. Philosophical Seminar.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSORS STEERE and THOMAS R. KELLY.

Specialized work in some restricted field of philosophic or religious thought is undertaken, the precise subject depending upon the needs of the students and the general interests of the group. Primarily designed for seniors majoring in philosophy or for graduates.

9a. Classics of Religious Literature.—Tu. Th. S. 8:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR STEERE.

A study which will include such books as Augustine, Confessions; Bernard of Clairvaux, On Consideration; Meister Eckhart, Sermons; Little Flowers of Francis of Assisi; Thomas à Kempis, Imitation of Christ; Theologica Germanica; Theresa of Avila, Autobiography; Frances de Sales, Introduction to the Devout Life; Lancelot Andrewes, Preces Privatae; Pascal, Thoughts; Isaac Penington, Letters; John Wesley, Journal; John Henry Newman, Apologia; George Tyrell, Autobiography.

[Not offered in 1938-39; to be offered in 1939-40.]

10b. History and Philosophy of Quakerism.—M. F. 2:30, W. 11:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR THOMAS R. KELLY.

The Quaker Movement is studied in its relation to other intellectual and religious movements of its time, particularly those found in English philosophy. The development of the dominant Quaker conceptions is traced to the present day and critically examined. The course is designed for non-Friends as well as for Friends. Not open to Freshmen.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The college equipment for outdoor athletics includes: Walton Field for football and track and field sports, with a concrete and wood grandstand and 440-yard oval and 220-yard, six-lane straightaway cinder tracks; the Class of 1888 and Merion Fields for Association (soccer) football, both of which are used for baseball in the spring; a skating pond; Cope Field for cricket, with players' pavilion and shed for winter practice; an athletic field, presented by the Class of 1916; a baseball field, presented by the Class of 1922 and used also for soccer in the fall; and twelve tennis courts, five of which were presented by the Class of 1923.

The Gymnasium contains a main floor, sixty by ninety feet, equipped with the most improved gymnastic apparatus, and used for basketball. It has an inclined running track, five feet in width. Adjoining the main floor are offices for the use of the directors in physical examination and measurement, and for special student conferences. Adjoining the main hall is a large and comfortable reading room and apartments for the use of the College athletic coaches and alumni. The basement contains dressing rooms, a number of well ventilated lockers, shower baths, a pool, a wrestling room and storage room for athletic equipment. There is a special dressing room provided for visiting athletic teams. A fencing room is located in the Chemistry building, next to the Gymnasium. Through the courtesy of the Merion Cricket Club and the Merion Golf Club, facilities for squash and golf are available.

A thorough physical examination with a series of efficiency tests is given to each student upon entrance, and another at the end of Sophomore year. A Tuberculin Test is given to all Freshmen, followed by an X-ray if necessary, as part of this required examination. No student whose physical condition is unsatisfactory will be permitted to represent the College on any athletic team.

Course 1 is required of Freshmen; Course 2, of Sophomores; Course 3, of Juniors.

These courses are arranged in accordance with the plan for all-year physical training during Freshman and Sophomore years, and part-year physical training during Junior year. For Physical Education 1 and 2—a half course credit will be given. For Physical Education 3—a pass or failure will be shown.

1. Physical Education.—Three hours, entire year. MR. EVANS, MR. HADDLETON, and others.

A course of elementary instruction in athletic games, including football, soccer, cross country, track, baseball, cricket, tennis, golf, partly elective, first and fourth quarters; and, when a student has not been released from it, in systematic gymnastic training, second and third quarters.

2. Physical Education.—Three hours, entire year. MR. EVANS, MR. HADDLETON, and others.

A course of advanced instruction in athletic games, partly elective, first and fourth quarters, and, when a student has not been released from it, in advanced gymnastic training, second and third quarters.

3. Physical Education.—Three hours. MR. EVANS, MR. HADDLETON, and others.

PHYSICS

Course 2 is the basic course for further work in physics or in engineering. It covers the work required for admission to medical schools and other graduate institutions.

Major Requirements

(For the Class of 1940)

Physics 2, 10 and one and one-half or two full-year courses from Physics 3, 4a, 5a, 6a, 6b, 7a, 8b.

History of Physics.

Mathematics 2, and one or one and one-half courses from Chemistry 1 or 2, Engineering 10, 11, Astronomy 1a, 2b, or additional mathematics.

A comprehensive examination based upon above-mentioned courses.

1a. Elementary Physics.—M. W. F. 9:30, first half-year. MR. ELDER.

A survey course designed for students who have had no previous study of physics. Its purpose is to acquaint students with physical laws and their applications to daily life. Emphasis is laid upon the solution of problems. The various fields of physics are studied, stressing mechanics, heat, sound, and light, with less time spent upon electricity and magnetism inasmuch as it is expected that a student will, in general, continue the complementary half of this course by electing Physics 1b.

1b. Elements of Radio Communication.—M. W. F. 9:30, second half-year; laboratory, Tu. 1:05-3:30. MR. ELDER.

An introductory course in the fundamentals of high frequency transmission and reception, with laboratory experiments illustrating the functions of the different parts of receiving and transmitting circuits. Prerequisite, Entrance Physics or Physics 1a. Text: Morecroft, Elements of Radio Communication.

2. General Physics.—Lectures, M. W. F. 9:30; laboratory, W. or Th. 1:05-3:30. PROFESSORS PALMER and SUTTON, MR. ELDER and MR. LILJENSTEIN.

Mechanics, heat, sound, magnetism, electricity, and light are studied with the help of problems and lecture demonstrations. A feature of this course is the laboratory work, the chief aim of which is accuracy of observation and measurement. Text: Weld and Palmer, A Textbook of Modern Physics. Prerequisites, Trigonometry, and Entrance Physics or Physics 1a.

3. Ions, Electrons, Radiations, and Atomic Structure.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30, first half-year PROFESSOR PALMER, second half-year MR. ELDER.

A large amount of reading supplementary to the lectures is required in the library of reference books. Experiments are performed by the class as a whole upon such subjects as: measurement of atomic and molecular dimensions, weight, and numbers; magnitude of charge and ratio $E \div M$ for electrolytic ions; $e \div m$ for cathode rays; properties of gaseous ions; measurement of the electronic charge e by Millikan's oil-drop method; current and space charge in an electron tube; photoelectric effect; radiation and ionization potentials; X-ray spectra; rate of decay of thorium emanation, and of the active deposit from radon; counting the alpha particles from a specimen of polonium. Prerequisite, Physics 2.

4a. Electricity and Magnetism.—Tu. Th. 10:30; laboratory, Tu. 1:05–3:30, first half-year. MR. ELDER.

Lectures and laboratory experiments in precision electrical measurements. This course treats such topics as Kirchhoff's laws, Gauss's theorem, magnetic circuits, potential, capacity, inductance, alternating current, and the laws of the electromagnetic field. Textbook: Page and Adams, Principles of Electricity. Prerequisites, Physics 2 and Mathematics 2.

[Offered in 1938–39; not to be offered in 1939–40.]

5a. Introduction to Mathematical Physics.—Tu. Th. 8:30, W. 11:30, first half-year. MR. ELDER.

Lectures and problems in the underlying principles of mechanics, wave motion, and theory of electric fields, applying the methods of calculus and developing the use of vectors. Textbook: Page, Introduction to Theoretical Physics. Prerequisites, Physics 2 and Mathematics 2.

6a. Intermediate Radio Communication.—M. W. F. 10:30; laboratory W. 1:05–3:30. PROFESSOR SUTTON.

Lecture and laboratory course in high frequency transmission and reception. Textbook: Terman, Radio Engineering. Prerequisites, Physics 2 and Mathematics 2.

[Not offered in 1938–39; to be offered in 1939–40.]

6b. Radiation and Quantum Theory.—M. W. F. 11:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR SUTTON.

Lectures on topics relating to the laws of radiation. Historical development of the quantum theory and its applications to spectroscopy and atomic structure. Textbook: Richtmyer, Introduction to Modern Physics, together with readings from current literature. Prerequisite, Physics 5a.

7a. Physical Optics.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR SUTTON.

Lectures and advanced laboratory work in diffraction, dispersion, interference, polarization, and other optical phenomena, extending the treatment given to light in Physics 2. Two lectures and one laboratory period a week, first half-year.

[Not offered in 1938–39; to be offered in 1939–40.]

8b. Sound.—M. W. F. 11:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR SUTTON.

A course of lectures, readings and class experiments designed to familiarize the student with recent developments in acoustics. Study is given to the fundamentals of sound wave propagation, modern electrical and mechanical acoustic systems, architectural acoustics, supersonics, speech and hearing, and the analysis of musical sound. Prerequisite, Physics 2.

[Offered in 1938-39; not to be offered in 1939-40.]

10. Physics Seminar.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSORS PALMER and SUTTON, and MR. ELDER.

Advanced students in physics are encouraged to do individual work in special fields of investigation. Each student devotes the time equivalent to a full course in pursuing comprehensive reading and experimental work on some particular topic. Weekly meetings are held with the members of the department to discuss the progress in each field of investigation, so that each student becomes familiar with other problems than his own. In this course, the accomplishment of scholarly work of a nature preliminary to research work is the basis for awarding credit toward a degree.

SOCIOLOGY

Sociology 1a and 2b are elective for Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors. Other courses are open to Juniors, Seniors or Graduate Students only. Students planning to major in Sociology are urged to complete as many courses as possible in related fields before their Junior year.

Major Requirements

(For the Class of 1940)

Six half-year courses in Sociology.

Six other half-year courses or their equivalent, chosen from the following: Biology 7, Philosophy 1a, Philosophy 2b, Government 1, Economics 1 and Mathematics 8a, in consultation with the major supervisor.

A four-hour comprehensive examination covering the field of Sociology and related courses.

A three-hour examination, written or oral or both, covering a special field in Sociology chosen by the student.

1a. An Introduction to Sociology.—First half-year. PROFESSOR WATSON.

Section 1.—M. W. F. 9:30.

Section 2.—M. W. F. 11:30.

This course is an introduction to the scientific study of society. Its purpose is to study (1) those social forces and social processes whereby original nature is transformed into human nature, and (2) a description of the social organization man has evolved and the interaction between it and himself.

2b. Social Problems.—M. W. F. 9:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR WATSON.

A study of (1) the failure of society to provide sound heredity and equal opportunities for all, resulting in such major social problems as poverty, mental disease, neglect of child life, delinquency, and crime; (2) society's resources for solving the foregoing problems; and (3) the methods for dealing adequately with the victims of social maladjustment and the prevention of additional social failures. Prerequisite, Sociology 1a.

3b. Problems of the Modern Family.—M. W. F. 11:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR WATSON.

A seminar course on problems of the modern family and education for parenthood. A discussion of relationships of husband-wife; parent-child; and family-community. The emphasis throughout is on factors making for normal family life and successful adjustment thereto. Restricted to a limited number of upper classmen or graduate students. Apply in advance. Prerequisite, Sociology 1a.

4a. Industry and Society.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR WATSON.

A sociological appraisal of modern industrialism. The course includes a detailed study of certain social problems, such as wages, hours of labor, unemployment, and other forms of economic insecurity, to discover, if possible, any causal connection between them and industry as such. The wider implications of the Machine Age are examined, together with proposed antidotes and remedies for its alleged evils. Prerequisite, Economics 1.

Also called Economics 2a.

5b. Human Relations in Industry.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR WATSON.

A study of business organization and the philosophy of management, with special reference to the fields of personnel administration and industrial relations. The course surveys scientific management since Taylor and includes an analysis of the nature, objects, and technique of labor management, employee representation, and plans of union-management coöperation. Prerequisite, Sociology 4a.

Also called Economics 3b.

6a. Advanced Sociology.—Tu. Th. S. 10:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR WATSON.

A seminar in social theory and social reform. Open to Seniors majoring in Sociology or graduate students whose major work is in Sociology and, by permission of the instructor, to a few others especially well qualified. Prerequisites, Sociology 1a and 2b. Apply in advance.

SPANISH

A. Elementary Spanish.—M. W. F. 10:30. MR. MELCHIOR.

Grammar, composition, and reading.

1. Spanish Literature.—M. W. F. 10:30. MR. MELCHIOR.

Reading in class of selected works by authors of the Golden Age and of the Nineteenth Century. Prerequisite, Spanish A.

[Offered in 1938-39; not to be offered in 1939-40.]

LIBRARY

The College Library contains about one hundred forty thousand volumes, besides numerous classified but uncatalogued pamphlets. All readers have free access to the shelves and are permitted to withdraw from the library any volume except those reserved for special reasons.

About eight thousand dollars is expended yearly for the purchase of books and periodicals. The library receives from various sources many substantial gifts and bequests; it is also a government depository.

The collection of Quaker literature is probably the most complete in America. The William H. Jenks collection of Friends' tracts, mostly of the seventeenth century, numbers about fifteen hundred separately bound titles.

The Library possesses the fine Harris collection of over sixty Hebrew, Greek, Latin, Arabic, Syriac, and Ethiopic manuscripts collected by J. Rendel Harris; a collection of more than four hundred Babylonian clay tablets dating from 2500 B.C.; and seven hundred reproductions in fictile ivory of ancient and mediaeval carved ivories.

Over four hundred literary and scientific periodicals are taken, besides many annual reports, yearbooks, and the like.

The Library is open, with some exceptions, on week days from 8:30 A.M. to 10 P.M., and on Sundays from 1:30 to 10 P.M. While designed especially for the use of the officers and students, it affords to others the privilege of consulting and, under certain restrictions, of withdrawing books.

THE CHARLES ROBERTS AUTOGRAPH COLLECTION

This autograph collection, formed by the late Charles Roberts of Philadelphia, a graduate (1864) and for many years a manager of the College, was in 1902 presented to the College by his wife, Lucy B. Roberts. It consists of more than 15,000 items, embracing not only autograph letters of European and American authors, statesmen, scientists, ecclesiastics, monarchs, and others, but also several series of valuable papers on religious and political history. The general exhibit room, under the care of Miss Anna B. Hewitt, is open daily. Special papers from the vault may be inspected on application to Professor Drake.

LECTURESHIPS

HAVERFORD LIBRARY LECTURES

The income of $10,000 received in 1894 from the estate of Mary Farnum Brown, is available by the terms of the gift "to provide for an annual course or series of lectures before the Senior Class of the College, and other students, on the Bible, its history and literature, and as way may open for it, upon its doctrine and its teaching."

THOMAS SHIPLEY LECTURES ON ENGLISH LITERATURE

The sum of $5,000, presented in 1904 by Samuel R. Shipley, in memory of his father, Thomas Shipley, constitutes the Thomas Shipley Fund. The income of this fund is ordinarily to be used "for lectures on English literature."

THE MORRIS INFIRMARY

The Morris Infirmary, presented by John T. Morris, '67, has been in operation since the fall of 1912. It contains ten beds, a surgical room, and isolation ward for contagious diseases, and accommodations for physician and nurse. Every provision has been made for medical and surgical treatment of all cases among students during the college year. The danger of infection through illness in the college dormitories is thus minimized.

No charge is made for dispensary treatments, for the services of the college physician and the nurse, or for residence in the infirmary not exceeding one week in each case of illness. Any additional medical or surgical service, including special examinations which cannot be made in the infirmary, will be at the expense of the student. For residence in the infirmary beyond the limit of one week the charge is $3 a day.

Dr. Herbert W. Taylor is the physician in charge, Miss Mabel S. Beard the resident nurse.

CONSULTANTS IN PSYCHOLOGY, PSYCHIATRY AND VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE

Dr. Earl D. Bond and his associates on the staff of The Institute of the Pennsylvania Hospital are available without charge as consultants in Psychology, Psychiatry, and Vocational Guidance, for a limited number of students.

When a thorough study and examination are required, and treatment is necessary, financial arrangements are to be made with the parents and college physician or family physician.

ADMINISTRATION GRADING OF STUDENTS

In determining the standing of the student, daily recitations, hour examinations, and final examinations are all considered. Reports, with numerical grades and averages, are issued semi-annually.

Grouped according to averages for the semester, the sections in each class are as follows:

Section	Freshmen	All others
A	90 to 100	90 to 100
B	80 to 90	80 to 90
C	65 to 80	70 to 80
D	50 to 65	60 to 70
	Failures	Failures
E	35 to 50	50 to 60
F	Below 35	Below 50

+ or - following the average for the semester indicates that it is above or below the student's average for the preceding semester.

DELINQUENT STUDENTS

A student who obtains grade E (35 to 50 for Freshmen, 50 to 60 for upper-classmen) as his half-year mark in any course is allowed a re-examination in the September following the failure (on the Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday immediately preceding the opening of College). To Seniors who obtain the Grade E (except in the Major examination, see page 35) re-examinations will be given in June during Commencement week. Re-examinations (at a fee of $5 per half-year course) are scheduled only upon written request received by the Registrar before September 10, upon which date copies of the re-examination schedule will be mailed to all applicants, and after which date additional subjects will be scheduled only upon advance payment of an additional fee of $10. Late applicants (after September 10) for examinations already scheduled must make an additional advance payment of $5 per subject before their acceptance as candidates for re-examination. A student who obtains grade F (below 35 for Freshmen, below 50 for others) as his half-year mark in any course is not permitted to take a re-examination in that course.

A student with F as his half-year grade, or with E as his half-year grade in any course after the re-examination privilege has lapsed, must repeat the course if it is a required course (repeated courses take precedence in the case of conflict, and are recorded and averaged in the year of repetition), or may substitute some other course if the failure is an elective course. No course may be repeated more than once; failure to pass a repeated required course will consequently prevent a student from obtaining his degree.

A fee of $15 per half-year is charged for all repeated or substituted courses and for any course dropped after two weeks.

A student who is repeating a course, or who is substituting one (unless he has an extra course to his credit), or who has conditions in excess of two half-courses, shall have his name appear in the student list of the current Catalogue marked with an asterisk (*) to indicate that he is not in full class standing.

A Sophomore who fails to attain promotion average (see page 80), and who has not more than two failures, may have the privilege of taking re-examinations in the two half-courses in which he has received the lowest grades, provided that these grades be better than F. A Senior or Junior who fails to attain promotion average (see page 80), and who has not more than one failure, may take a re-examination in the half-course in which he has received the lowest grade, provided that this grade be better than F.

Any student whose record is such as to justify the belief that he is not availing himself of the opportunities offered by Haverford College may be dropped. Usually a student who has more than two half-courses of failures against him at the opening of College in September will be dropped.

HONORS

Honors are awarded for excellence in the studies of single departments. They are never given merely for performance of routine work in courses, but a considerable amount of extra work is demanded in every case.

Honors are of three kinds: Honorable Mention, Sophomore Honors, and Final Honors.

*Honorable Mention will be awarded at the end of the Freshman or Sophomore years for work in a single course meeting at least two hours per week throughout the year, plus additional work to the total amount of not less than 75 hours. Candidates for Honorable Mention must obtain a minimum grade of 85 in the regular work of the course and pass creditably an examination on the additional work required. Two half-courses in the same department may be construed as a single course.

A Freshman who has received the prescribed grade in the regular work of a course required for Honorable Mention, but who has not done the additional work required in connection with such course, may, with the consent of the professor in charge, do so during the Sophomore year.

Sophomore Honors will be awarded at the end of the Sophomore year for work in not less than two full courses in a single department, plus additional work to the total amount of not less than 150 hours. Candidates for Sophomore Honors must obtain a grade of at least B in all courses required for such honors and a grade of A in such of these courses as are taken in the Sophomore year, and must pass creditably examinations on the additional work required.

Final Honors are graded as Honors, High Honors, or Highest Honors. They will be awarded upon graduation only to students whose work in a major field of concentration has been done with marked distinction and has been more profound or more extensive in its scope than the minimum required. The award of Honors is at the discretion of the major department, but the award of High or Highest Honors is to be made by vote of the Faculty upon recommendation of a department or group of related departments. In order to receive High or Highest Honors, the student will usually be given a public oral examination, and for Highest Honors, the verdict of an outside examiner may be obtained if deemed desirable. The various departments and divisions will adopt such specifications for Final Honors as they see fit.

At the time of the award of Honors there shall be added to the general average for the year of each student receiving Honors, one-half of one per cent for each award of Honorable Mention or Sophomore Honors. Honors, High Honors, and Highest Honors shall automatically add one, two, and three per cent respectively to the average for the Senior year of each student receiving such award.

DEGREES

BACHELOR OF ARTS AND BACHELOR OF SCIENCE

Students who have received credit for the full number of courses in prescribed and elective studies, provided they have for the Junior and Senior years respectively a general average, for the year, of 70 or above, are granted the degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science. For the difference in the requirements for the two degrees, see page 33. The fee for the Bachelor's degree is $15.

MASTER OF ARTS AND MASTER OF SCIENCE

Admission to Candidacy.—Graduates of Haverford College or of an institution of equivalent standing, who present satisfactory evidence of character, seriousness of purpose, and scholarly attainments, may be admitted as candidates for the degree of Master of Arts or Master of Science.

Requirements.—A candidate who is well prepared for advanced study in his special field is required to pass four advanced courses (each with a grade of not less than 80) and to do satisfactory additional intensive work, equivalent at least to a full course, which may take the form of a thesis or other research. At least two of the courses and the additional intensive work must be in the same field and the remaining courses in allied subjects. In addition, the candidate may, at the discretion of the professor in charge, be required to pass a comprehensive examination upon the field of his major subject. The scope of the examination will be determined by the professor in charge, and will be communicated to the candidate when he is admitted as a graduate student. The entire plan of study must be drawn up by the candidate in consultation with the professor under whom he proposes to do the major part of his work. This plan must be submitted for approval before October 1 to the Chairman of the Committee on Advanced Degrees. After approval by this Committee, the program must be filed with the Registrar.

A minimum of one year's residence is required, and a candidate, if well prepared, should be able to complete his work for the degree in this time. If his preparation is inadequate a longer period of residence may be necessary, but candidates for the Master's degree must complete the required work in not more than two academic years. Courses taken before the registration of the candidate as a graduate student at Haverford College will not usually be counted toward the degree.

Candidates who engage in any occupation or employment other than graduate study will not in general be able to satisfy the requirements for the degree in one year.

Charges.—The charges in the Graduate Department are: tuition, $400; board, $250; lodging, $250. The fee for the degree is $20. Laboratory fees, supplies, breakage, and incidentals are extra.

Fellowships.—Eight graduate fellowships covering tuition, board, and lodging are available annually primarily for the graduates of other Friends' Colleges in the United States, with permission to study for the Master's Degree in any department of Haverford College which may be selected, provided the proposed schedule of study is approved by the Committee on Advanced Degrees. Any recipient of a graduate fellowship should have additional resources at least in the sum of $200.

Applications should be accompanied by a certified list of the applicant's courses and grades as an undergraduate, three letters concerning the character, personality, financial condition and qualifications of the applicant, and a copy of the catalogue of the institution in which the applicant was an undergraduate. Applications and material should be in the hands of the President of Haverford College before March 1st to secure consideration for the following year.

Courses Offered.—The following courses are open to graduate students: Astronomy 3a, 3b, and 4; Biblical Literature 3a, 3b, 4b, 5b, 6; Biology 3, 7, 10; Chemistry 4, 5b, 6, 7a, 7b, 8a, 9b, 10a and 10b; Economics 2a, 3b, 4a, 5b, 6b, 7b, 8b, 9a, 10a; Engineering 4a, 5a, 6b, 7a, 8, 10, 11; English 8a, 12, 13a, 14b, 17b, 18a, 21a, 22b; French 4, 5, 6; Geology 1; German 3, 4a, 5a, 5b, 6, 7b, 8a; Government 3a, 4a, 5b, 6b, 8b; Greek 2, 3, 4, 5, 6; History 2, 3, 4, 5; Italian 1; Latin 5, 10, 14, 15; Mathematics, 4, 5, 6a, 7b (Mathematics 3, 8a, 9a open to students majoring in other departments); Philosophy 2b, 4, 5b, 6b, 7a, 7b, 8, 9a, 10b; Physics 3, 4a, 5a, 6b, 7a, 8b, 10; Sociology 2b, 3b, 4a, 5b, 6a; Spanish 1. Additional work may be required of graduate students in any of these courses. Certain other courses may be taken by graduate students as subsidiary to their major field of work, with the consent of the Committee on Advanced Degrees and the instructor in charge.

Entering Freshmen are assigned rooms in the order in which their application blanks for admission (see page 24) are received. It is, of course, not always possible to meet the desire of Freshmen for the cheapest rooms. Twelve of the $725 rooms are regularly reserved for Freshmen. The College assumes that a new student will accept any available room of approximately the same price as the room for which a preference is expressed. The choice of rooms by other students is governed by published rules.

A deposit of $15 is required of all students, old and new, before a room is reserved. In case the student occupies the room, the amount will be deducted from his bill for the following year; otherwise it will be forfeited, unless the student be excluded by the College for failures or other sufficient reason, in which case the fee will be refunded upon request.

Students are expected to treat their own and College property with the same consideration as in their own homes. A student is held financially responsible for any damage to his room, and any damage wilfully done will be sufficient reason for requested withdrawal from the College.

The College does not hold itself responsible for the safe-keeping of private property left by the students in their rooms, or elsewhere on the campus.

EXPENSES

The combined charge for tuition ($400), board ($250), and room rent ($75 to $200, according to location), varies from $725 to $850 a year. This includes heat, electric light, attendance, and the use of necessary bedroom furniture, i.e., a chiffonier and a bed, the linen for which is furnished and laundered by the College. Students will supply their own study furniture, blankets and towels. In general two students share one study and each has his private bedroom adjoining. A few single rooms are also available. The number of students accommodated in the several halls is as follows:

Merion Hall.....	9 at $725 each
Merion Hall.....	10 at $750 each
Merion Hall.....	22 at $775 each
Founders Hall.....	14 at $725 each
Founders Hall.....	11 at $750 each
Founders Hall.....	3 at $775 each
Founders Hall.....	2 at $825 each
Barclay Hall.....	30 at $725 each
Barclay Hall.....	3 at $750 each
Barclay Hall.....	5 at $775 each
Barclay Hall.....	24 at $800 each
Barclay Hall.....	47 at $825 each
Lloyd Hall.....	66 at $800 each
Lloyd Hall.....	32 at $850 each

The charge for tuition of day-students is $400 a year; for tuition and mid-day meal, $480 a year. A laboratory fee (average, five to ten dollars per half-year) and the cost of materials consumed and of apparatus broken are charged in each of the laboratories. The fee for dropping a course after two weeks is $15. The fee for the Bachelor's degree is $15. For fees in the Graduate Department, see page 85.

The Board of Managers requires that first half-year bills (rendered October 1) for three-fifths of the student's total cash indebtedness for the current year for room, board, and tuition must be paid in full before November 1. Second half-year bills (rendered February 1) must be paid in full before March 1. Failure to pay within the specified time automatically cancels the student's registration.

Scholarships are of two kinds, competitive, and those awarded upon merit and individual need. All scholarships are given for one year only.

No scholarship will be given to a student who has conditions.

No scholarship will be given to a student who is in debt to the college.

All preliminary correspondence and applications for undergraduate scholarships for 1939-1940, together with supporting letters from parents or guardians should be in the hands of the President before Tuesday, April the 4th, 1939.

It is assumed that requests for scholarships will not be made by those whose expenses can be met by their parents or from other sources.

I. Corporation Scholarships.—Sixteen scholarships of the annual value of $300 each, are awarded, without formal application, to the four students in each class who have the highest average scholarship. This is determined in the case of upper classmen by their general average for the year. In the case of the incoming Freshman Class the scholarships will be assigned immediately after the June examinations (see page 29) to those candidates entering by any plan of admission who are judged to be best prepared to do the work of the College.

II. Isaiah V. Williamson Scholarships.—Two scholarships of $350 each. One will usually be awarded to a Senior and one to a Junior.

III. Richard T. Jones Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of $200.

IV. Edward Yarnall Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of $200.

V. Thomas P. Cope Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of $200.

VI. Sarah Marshall Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of $200.

VII. Mary M. Johnson Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of $200.

VIII. Joseph E. Gillingham Scholarships.—Four scholarships of the annual value of $200 each “for meritorious students.”

IX. Isaac Thorne Johnson Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of $225 available for a student of Wilmington College or a member of Wilmington (Ohio) Yearly Meeting of Friends.

X. Jacob P. Jones Scholarships, amounting to $1500 annually. Usually these will be awarded in sums of $150 each, and in return for them certain academic duties may be required of the beneficiaries.

XI. Jacob P. Jones Scholarships.—Eight scholarships of the annual value of $100 each.

XII. Caspar Wistar Memorial Scholarship.—A scholarship of $250 is annually available, preferably for sons of parents engaged in Christian service, including secretaries of Young Men’s Christian Associations, or students desiring to prepare for similar service in America or other countries.

XIII. Louis Jaquette Palmer Memorial Scholarship.—This Scholarship of $250 is awarded on application, preferably to a member of the Freshman Class, who in the opinion of a committee representing the donors and the President of the College shall give evidence of possessing the qualities of leadership and constructive interest in student and community welfare which his friends observed in Louis Jaquette Palmer of the Class of 1894.

XIV. J. Kennedy Moorhouse Memorial Scholarship, $300.—Special application should be made for this Scholarship, which is intended for the member of the Freshman Class who shall appear best fitted to uphold at Haverford the standard of character and conduct typified by the late J. Kennedy Moorhouse, of the Class of 1900—"a man modest, loyal, courageous, reverent without sanctimony; a lover of hard play and honest work, a leader in clean and joyous living." Special application for this Scholarship should be made before April 15.

XV. Paul W. Newhall Memorial Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of $200.

XVI. Robert Martin Zuckert Memorial Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of $250, preference to be given to "a native of New York or Connecticut and who now resides in one of those states."

XVII. Samuel E. Hilles Memorial Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of $200.

XVIII. Class of 1913 Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of about $125. Preference is to be given to sons of members of the Class of 1913 who may apply and who meet the usual requirements of the College.

The scholarships named on this and the preceding pages are permanent foundations. In addition, the New York Alumni maintain a scholarship for competition in the New York metropolitan district. The New England Alumni maintain one Freshman scholarship of $300 to be awarded annually to a New England boy from a New England school. Inquiry regarding these scholarships should be directed to the Secretary of the Alumni Association, Haverford College, Haverford, Pa.

FELLOWSHIPS

The Clementine Cope Fellowship, of the annual value of $700, may be awarded by the Faculty to the best qualified applicant from the Senior Class. He is required to spend the succeeding year in study at some American or foreign university approved by the Faculty. Applications for the Clementine Cope Fellowship should be in the hands of the President of the College before March 1.

Teaching Fellowships.—With the remaining funds from the Clementine Cope Foundation there may be appointed one or more graduates of Haverford College as Teaching Fellows, with or without specific duties at Haverford College; or a second Cope Fellow may be appointed with a stipend of $400 or $500, as the residue of the Fund may permit.

Graduate Fellowships.—For information regarding graduate fellowships, see page 85.

LOAN FUND

A loan fund has been established for deserving students other than members of the Freshman Class who may require financial assistance during their college course. Further information concerning this fund may be obtained from the President of the College.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

In connection with the Dean's office there is an Employment Bureau through which students may be put in touch with such kinds of remunerative employment as may be available.

PRIZES

All essays submitted in competition for prizes should be deposited with the Registrar under assumed names, with a sealed envelope containing the writer's real name, before May 1.

All prizes awarded in books are marked with appropriate bookplates. As soon as possible after the award a list of standard books, from which selection is to be made, should be submitted for approval to the head of the department awarding the prize. Books selected from the approved list may then be ordered through the College Office or elsewhere. The College grants an average discount of ten per cent on prize books, and supplies the bookplates.

ALUMNI PRIZE FOR COMPOSITION AND ORATORY

The Alumni Association, in the year 1875, established an annual prize of $50 in money for excellence in composition and oratory. This prize is now divided between the two members of the winning team in the Senior-Junior debate.

THE EVERETT SOCIETY MEDALS

To the members of the winning team in the annual Sophomore-Freshman extempore debate, medals are given in memory of the Everett Society.

THE CLASS OF 1896 PRIZES IN LATIN AND MATHEMATICS

These are two prizes worth $10 each. They will be awarded in books at the end of the Sophomore year to the students who have done the best work for the two years in Latin and Mathematics, respectively.

THE LYMAN BEECHER HALL PRIZE IN CHEMISTRY

The Class of 1898 on the twenty-fifth anniversary of their graduation established a prize in honor of Lyman Beecher Hall, Professor of Chemistry at Haverford College from 1880 to 1917.

This prize amounts to $100 and may be awarded to a student who has attained a high degree of proficiency in chemistry and who shows promise of contributing substantially to the advancement of the science. This prize may be awarded to a Junior, to a Senior, or to a graduate of Haverford College within three years after graduation. It may be awarded more than once to the same student, or may be withheld.

THE CLASS OF 1902 PRIZE IN LATIN

The Class of 1902 offers a prize of $10 in books to the Freshman whose work in Latin, in recitation and examinations combined, shall be the most satisfactory to the professor in charge of the department.

THE DEPARTMENT PRIZES IN MATHEMATICS

A first prize of $15 and a second prize of $10 are awarded on the basis of a three hour examination on selected topics in Freshman Mathematics. The examination is held on the first Monday after the Spring Recess, and is open to Freshmen only.

THE ELLISTON P. MORRIS PRIZE

A prize of $80, open to all undergraduates and to graduates of not more than three years' standing, is offered in alternate years for the best essay bearing on the general problem of "International Peace and the Means of Securing It." No prize will be awarded unless a high standard of merit is attained. Essays should be deposited with the Registrar before May 1. The judges shall be appointed by the President of the College. For the 1938-39 competition the following subjects are offered:

1. Modifications of Existing Concepts of Nationalism that May Be Necessary for the Achievement of World Peace.
2. The Prospect for the Conquest of Violence by the Use of Techniques of Non-Cooperation.
3. The Consumers' Cooperative Movement as a Factor in World Peace.

The presentation should be not merely a catalogue of events but also an interpretation and estimate of them. Each essay should contain references, in the form of footnotes and bibliography, to the authorities consulted.

Essays submitted by undergraduates for this prize may also be submitted for the Elizabeth P. Smith Prize.

THE ELIZABETH P. SMITH PRIZE

A prize of $35 is offered annually to the undergraduate who presents the best essay on international peace. Essays submitted for the Elizabeth P. Smith Prize may also be submitted for the Elliston P. Morris Prize. Essays for this prize should be deposited with the Registrar before May 1. The judges shall be appointed by the President of the College.

PRIZES IN PHILOSOPHY AND BIBLICAL LITERATURE

A prize of $40 in books will be offered each year to the student who, in the judgment of the professor in charge, does the most satisfactory amount of outside reading in philosophy in connection with the courses in that department. A second prize of $25 in books will also be offered.

A prize of $40 in books will be offered each year to the student who, in the judgment of the professor in charge, does the most satisfactory amount of reading on the Bible and related subjects. A second prize of $25 in books will also be offered.

These prizes may be competed for during any year of the College course.

THE SCHOLARSHIP IMPROVEMENT PRIZES

A first prize of $50 and a second prize of $45 will be given at the end of the Senior year to the two students who, in the opinion of the judges appointed by the President of the College, show the most steady and marked improvement in scholarship during their college course.

THE LOGAN PEARSALL SMITH PRIZE

An annual award of $50 in books will be made to that member of the Senior Class who, in the opinion of the Committee on Prizes, has the best personal library. Consideration of the books collected will be entirely independent of their cost.

THE FOUNDERS CLUB PRIZE

A prize of $25 is offered by the Founders Club to the Freshman who is adjudged to have shown the best attitude toward college activities and scholastic work.

THE S. P. LIPPINCOTT PRIZE IN HISTORY

A prize of $100 is offered for competition in the Department of History under the following general provisions:

First—The prize may be withheld in any year, if the conditions listed below are not met by any of the competitors to the satisfaction of a majority of the judges.

Second—The prize shall not be awarded twice to the same student.

Third—Competition is open to Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors who have taken or are taking work in the Department of History.

Conditions

In competition for this prize an essay shall be submitted of not less than 5,000 words, offered as evidence of scholarly ability in the collection and presentation of historical material, treating a subject selected from a list announced by the Department of History before November 15. The essay should contain references in footnotes to the authorities consulted and a bibliography of works cited.

The essay shall be typewritten and deposited under an assumed name with the Registrar before May 1.

The judges shall consist of the President of the College and two historians to be selected by him.

For the competition of 1938-39 the following subjects are submitted:

1. English Social Life, 1700-1760.
2. The Relations Between England and Ireland, 1868-1914.
3. The History of the American Merchant Marine from the War of 1812 to the Civil War.
4. The Background and Significance of the Election of Wilson to the Presidency in 1912.

THE NEWTON PRIZE IN ENGLISH LITERATURE

The Newton Prize in English Literature ($40) will be awarded annually on the basis of Final Honors in English, provided that the Department judges the work of the leading candidate merits such award.

THE WILLIAM ELLIS SCULL PRIZE

The William Ellis Scull Prize ($50) will be awarded annually to the upper classman who shall have shown the "greatest achievement in voice and the articulation of the English language."

THE GEORGE PEIRCE PRIZE IN CHEMISTRY OR MATHEMATICS

In memory of Dr. George Peirce, 1903, a prize of $25 is offered annually to a student of Chemistry or Mathematics "who has shown marked proficiency in either or both of these studies and who intends to follow a profession which calls for such preparation. Preference is to be given to a student who has elected organic chemistry, and failing such a student, to one who has elected Mathematics or some branch of Chemistry other than organic. Should there be two students of equal promise, the one who is proficient in Greek shall be given preference." The prize is offered, however, exclusively for students who expect to engage in research, and it will not be awarded unless the candidate has this expressed intention.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT 1937-38

The college year 1938-39 has opened with an attendance of 327, 315 being undergraduates and 12 being graduate students. There are 90 freshmen entering from 59 different schools, of which 31 are private and 28 are public, a total of 51 students from private and 39 from public schools. Of the freshmen, 70 are sons of college men and 20 of non-college men; 51 are sons of professional men and 31 of business men; the fathers of 2 are retired and the fathers of 6 are not living. 40 students in the college are sons of Haverfordians. In the student body 29 states are represented and 4 foreign countries as follows:

California	1	New York	37
Connecticut	8	North Carolina	3
Delaware	5	Ohio	7
District of Columbia	5	Oregon	1
Illinois	7	Pennsylvania	152
Indiana	1	Rhode Island	1
Iowa	2	Tennessee	3
Kentucky	3	Texas	1
Maine	2	Vermont	1
Maryland	12	Virginia	3
Massachusetts	12	West Virginia	2
Michigan	1	Wisconsin	7
Minnesota	4
Missouri	2	China	3
Montana	1	England	2
New Hampshire	1	Germany	1
New Jersey	36	Portugal	1

Ten years ago, in 1928-29, 19 states were represented and 7 foreign countries. In that same year 164 students of the total registration of 299, or 55%, came from Pennsylvania; this year only 46% of 327 live in Pennsylvania.

The religious census of the student body is as follows:

Episcopal	80
Presbyterian	78
Society of Friends	47

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

The steadily increasing territory represented by our students is to be noted. It may be that we are thus laying the foundation for a broader national influence in the future than has been exerted in the past. There are excellent schools in the midwestern states which Dean MacIntosh annually visits, from which we now have a small but steady stream of applicants. Where the entering class is so small as at Haverford, the addition of every such source is interesting to us and is at once felt.

Concerning the personnel of the Faculty, the following movements may be recorded: On sabbatic leave, Professor Hotson is absent for the year and Professors Lockwood and Sutton for the first term; returned for this year after absence are Professors Palmer, Lunt and Pfund. Those teaching here for the first time this year are Dr. Edward Hubler, a member of the Faculty of Princeton University, in English for the first term; Dr. Carl B. Allen-doerfer '32, who took a First as a Rhodes Scholar, is appointed Instructor in Mathematics; Dr. Francis R. Walton '32, who after two years as Fellow at the American Academy in Rome and graduate study at Harvard, will teach Latin and Greek. Retiring this year is Elihu Grant after twenty-one years of service in the department of Biblical Literature; Henry V. Gummere retires from the Mathematics Department, but will continue his invaluable service to the College as Director of the Strawbridge Observatory in charge of the course in Astronomy; Oscar M. Chase has been relieved at his request of his duties as Registrar, but will continue his service in a financial capacity.

A college like Haverford must be on its guard against over-extension of its plant and personnel in a time of such economic and social uncertainty as the present. It would require very little disturbance to embarrass us seriously in the financial field. Happily, our debt is negligible at the present time, due to the cooperation of the Faculty in taking reduced salaries during the worst of recent years, of the Alumni who have contributed $75,000, of the Carnegie Foundation which has contributed $20,000 for debt reduction to date, and of the patrons of the College who have paid an increased tuition fee. This fee has now reached the sum of $400 for tuition alone, and is as high as I should like to see it rise. Those enthusiastic persons who are always ready to suggest some new attractive but expensive enterprise at the College must remember that without new funds little more can be accomplished. The student body cannot well yield more income than at present, and the income from endowment under present economic conditions is falling rather than mounting. Expenses must be cut or endowment increased, unless we are prepared to roll up a corporation debt. While so many other institutions in our country are cheerfully incurring debts which will never be paid, it has seemed to me that we could set a praiseworthy example of decency and thrift by living within our means, and to that purpose I have devoted myself for several years.

It has been gratifying to receive during the year a number of gifts, some of which have been for specific purposes. Some of these as reported by the Treasurer are as follows: the Centenary Fund received a total of $7,700 which has been applied to overcome the deficit for the fiscal year 1937-38; from Professor Elihu Grant, $2,000 for the Beth Shemesh Exploration Fund; from the Class of 1918, $1,753, from which a portrait of the late Professor Rayner W. Kelsey by the artist Molarsky has been painted for the College, and the balance of the fund devoted to endowment for the Library; $1,000 from Leonard L. Greif, of Baltimore, to establish an endowment fund in the name of his two sons who are graduates of the College; from Edward M. Wistar '72, $2,500 for general endowment; from Harry M. Zuckert, of New York, $2,000 additional for the Robert Martin Zuckert Memorial Scholarship; from the Class of 1888, $5,250 and books for the Library endowment. These and other good-will offerings and contributions for special purposes are here gratefully acknowledged.

Any mention of finances brings us to the question of the future existence of a college like this—a college so conscious of a distinct purpose and which has sought for over a century to fulfil this purpose in its own unhampered fashion. Most of us agree upon the expediency of maintaining Haverford as a small college for exacting students, with a distinct moral purpose and with close relations provided between teachers and taught. That is, we believe in an education requiring the most expensive system possible, for which we must be prepared to pay. Some may not realize what dangers threaten the future existence of the small privately—and often inadequately—endowed colleges in America. At the last meeting of the Association of College Presidents of Pennsylvania, President Stanford, of Villanova College, made an impressive address in reference to present and future dangers.

HAVERFORD COLLEGE

What he said was briefly summarized by him as follows: "In the first place, there are increasing governmental subsidies to State institutions of higher learning to an extent that will encourage these institutions to duplicate or replace the facilities already afforded by privately supported colleges and universities. Secondly, there are evidences of Federal and State encroachments in the field of the voluntary accrediting agencies. Finally, there are threats of taxation against privately supported institutions of higher learning." These dangers may never have to be met. But we are going toward them, and it is well for intelligent voters and college men to take account of them as state and national debts are allowed to rise.

The Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings has kept the college property in the usual good condition. The lighting of the Library has been greatly improved; one room of the Union has been given as an office for the Secretary of the Alumni Association; the Alumni room in Founders Hall has been handsomely furnished as an undergraduate recreation room with funds received from a number of individuals as well as from the Class of 1938; the biological museum on the third floor of Sharpless Hall has been fitted up as a laboratory, and the museum installed in the corresponding room on the second floor; the usual painting and redecorating of buildings in rotation has been done this summer, but with much less expense for dormitory repairs than was required a few years ago when students were not so considerate of college property; the roof of the Gymnasium required extensive repairs against leakage around the skylights; the Strawbridge Observatory has been repaired and some new apparatus has been secured for it. The turf on the athletic fields is in such beautiful condition when college opens that it seems to be almost a pity to tear it up!

The College has for the present year assumed responsibility for the salary of all coaches of athletic sports, including fencing, wrestling and tennis. The erection of the new ice-skating rink upon ground formerly belonging to the College has furnished an opportunity to skate all through the winter for a number of our students. A period of one afternoon each week was subscribed for in conjunction with Bryn Mawr College.

For several years there has been a growing interest among the undergraduates in art and music. The interest in the history and appreciation of music has been partially satisfied by Mr. Swann's course. The past year there was added a course on the history and appreciation of art given by Dr. Richard Bernheimer, who also lectures at Bryn Mawr. It is hoped that in the near future it may be possible to carry further this instruction and even to foster more personal participation in the exercise of these arts as a recreation. Professor Williamson and some of his associates astonished the community by arranging two art exhibitions —one of work by students and others on the campus, and a second of work by former students, such as Maxfield Parrish, Peter Hurd and Stephen Etnier. Both exhibitions attracted a gratifying attendance, and at the second a number of sales were effected.

The following lectures outside of the regular course have been given during the year:

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

All the activities of the Library are still conditioned by the inadequacy of the building and by the cramped quarters available for readers and for the staff. Under present conditions no amount of contriving can produce any more shelf-space, work-space, or reading-space. The next moves will have to be revolutionary—and, I hope, temporary: shelf-space will have to be gained by building a gallery in the south wing and by finding a larger storeroom for rarely used sets; and reading-space will have to be gained by making more use of department libraries. Increase of space for staff-work seems to be impossible. Meanwhile the new building remains a hope, but the hope seems to have drawn nearer and to have become more tangible through the decision of the Managers to abandon the expensive project for a new structure of imposing dimensions and to incorporate the old building in a new plan. This decision has already had the happy result of opening the way for certain permanent and immediate improvements in the old building. The first of these improvements was carried out during the summer; the lighting system was completely reorganized in accordance with the latest modern standards—an improvement not dictated by a desire for luxury, but necessitated by the steady increase in the number of books and readers. The next improvements that should be considered are the heating, the ventilation, and the construction of an adequate and dignified entrance to the old building.

During the past year the librarian has revised and roughly classified the collection of duplicates and discards, thus paving the way for the more careful disposal thereof through exchange, donations and possibly sale—though the profitable sale of a few odd duplicates by a college library is almost out of the question, requiring (as it does) business acumen and considerable clerical routine. The two departments of duplicates for which we have, so to speak, a permanent and natural outlet on the exchange basis are Quakeriana and Haverfordiana. The Quakeriana are being efficiently handled by Professor Drake; and the librarian has undertaken to keep the Haverfordiana in order and to supply them to other libraries on an exchange basis when requested.

The work with the Haverfordiana duplicates led the librarian to revise the original or main collections as well. These collections in the main library are now in good condition, and as soon as adequate quarters are provided in the new building, an interesting selection of documents and publications, illustrating the history and growth of the college, can be put on exhibition without delay. May I again urge alumni (if any read this report) to donate to the library old catalogues, reports, student publications, or other items of interest.

During the past year an unusual use was made of a manuscript classified under Haverfordiana, namely, the graduation thesis for the B.S. degree in engineering of Willard Everett Swift, ex-1903, entitled "A labor-saving device, to be constructed for the purpose of feeding automatically envelopes into clasp machinery." The thesis was loaned to the Massachusetts Court as evidence in a suit for patent rights. The deciding factor was its dated blue-print.

Although a record of inter-library loans is included in the statistical portion of this report, special mention should be made (for the edification of scholars here and elsewhere) of the librarian's search for a rare Italian publication of the eighteenth century. The Union Catalogues of the Library of Congress and of Philadelphia revealed no copies of the book in the United States. The next move was to inquire of the Bibliographical Bureau in Berlin. A copy was fortunately located in the Prussian State Library. When a request was made for information about the publication and for certain photostats, the Prussian Library suggested that the book be mailed to Haverford on inter-library loan. The cost was negligible. The librarian hereby expresses his thanks to the authorities of the Prussian State Library for their kindly cooperation.

At the time of writing this report the librarian has made a bibliographical tour of Lombardy and Tuscany and is once more sniffing the ancient atmosphere of the Vatican Library.

Datum Romæ Idibus Octobr.

DEAN P. LOCKWOOD,
Librarian.

The total number of volumes in the library at the close of August, 1938, was 141,143. During the past year 3,090 volumes were added; 1,481 by purchase, 1,372 by gift, and 237 sent by the United States government for the Government Depository Collection, besides numerous pamphlets filed in our government pamphlet collection. 183 books were discarded.

The numerous gifts which we have received from friends of the college, from students and faculty members, as well as from learned societies and other organizations, have been most acceptable. Some of the larger gifts are evidence of increasing interest in Haverford's excellent Quaker collection. The following are outstanding:

From Friends' World Conference	85 volumes
From the family of James W. Cromwell.....	63 volumes
From the Harold Peirce estate	60 volumes
From Nancy Morris Wood	60 volumes
From the estate of Amelia M. Gummere	58 volumes
From Frederick S. Bigelow	44 volumes
From John C. Lober	38 volumes
From John L. Nickalls	34 volumes
From Susan J. Dewees	33 volumes
From S. B. Coggeshall	29 volumes
From Christian Brinton	22 volumes
From Caroline Allinson	20 volumes
From Alan S. Fitzgerald	19 volumes

The circulation of the library books from the main building was 23,816. Of this number, 3,546 were loaned to professors, 15,505 to students, and 4,765 to borrowers not connected with the college. In addition to these numbers, many books were borrowed from the five departmental libraries in other buildings. Also, "reserved books" for special courses were in constant use in the library.

LIBARIAN'S REPORT

The inter-library loan department is active and efficient, 44 books having been borrowed and 75 loaned. However, we frequently find that when books are obtainable from Bryn Mawr College, the University of Pennsylvania, and other nearby libraries, a great many students and professors prefer to do their own borrowing. We have had excellent coöperation from the libraries concerned and in addition should mention the fine service rendered by the Union Catalog Committee in Philadelphia.

AMY L. POST,
Assistant Librarian.

REPORT OF THE CURATOR OF THE QUAKER COLLECTION

The manuscripts in the Quaker Collection and the Roberts Autograph Collection have been augmented by gifts from thirty-one donors during the year. These accessions by gift are the principal source of increase in the College manuscript collections. The funds which are available for the purchase of Quakeriana are largely devoted to the buying of new books or old and out-of-print books in the Quaker field. Exchanges of Quaker books have also been arranged with twenty libraries and historical societies in such a manner as to bring profit both to Haverford and to the other institutions concerned, and to widen the distribution of Quaker materials.

The function of the Curator's office as a clearing house for research in Quaker history is a continuing one, with almost daily requests by mail for information and assistance in this field. Answering these inquiries is facilitated by the system of cataloguing and special indexes which has been built up over a period of years, and which is being developed and improved. These facilities are also placed at the disposal of research students who find it profitable to use Haverford's Quaker books and manuscripts at some length. Seventeen such research workers in Quaker history were at Haverford at various times during the year, coming from places as far distant as Nova Scotia, North Carolina and Oklahoma, as well as from the Philadelphia area.

Of particular importance is the work that was done by Mary Hoxie Jones in sorting, arranging, and partially cataloguing the large collection of manuscript records of the American Friends Service Committee. A grant of funds from the Service Committee made this work possible, and the records are now safeguarded and arranged so that they are available for research purposes, pending the time when they can be permanently housed with the other Quaker manuscripts in the larger quarters which the further growth of the College's collection will require.

On May 17, 1938, Haverford's collection of Whittier materials was displayed to some two hundred guests who joined in a "Whittier Evening" sponsored by the College. Mr. T. Franklin Currier, Whittier's bibliographer, and Professor Edward D. Snyder were the speakers of the evening. Professor Snyder described the Nicholson-Whittier Notebooks which have been placed on loan at Haverford by Dr. Percival Nicholson. The interest evoked by this occasion has resulted in the gift of several new Whittier items to the College.

THOMAS E. DRAKE, Curator.

*Mr. William A. Battey, Chairman,
Committee on Accounts,
The Corporation of Haverford College,
Haverford, Penna.*

Dear Sir:

We have completed an examination of the accounts of your Treasurer, J. Henry Scattergood, for the fiscal year ended August 31st, 1938.

Cash balances were verified by direct correspondence with your depository. The securities held by the Provident Trust Company of Philadelphia were examined by us, while those held by the Girard Trust Company and the First National Bank and Trust Company, Minneapolis, Minnesota, were certified to us by them and found to be in accordance with the Treasurer's report.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements set forth the result of operation of The Corporation of Haverford College for the fiscal year ended August 31st, 1938.

Very truly yours,

WRIGHT, CARMINT & COMPANY
(Signed) Roy A. Wright,
Certified Public Accountant.

ENDOWMENT FUNDS

FUNDS FOR GENERAL PURPOSES

GENERAL ENDOWMENT FUND

Founded in 1847 with subscriptions of $50,000 by a number of Friends. Additions were made as follows: 1868, from an anonymous source, $5,000; 1869, bequest of Ann Haines to increase the compensation of professors, $2,670; 1870, bequest of Richard D. Wood, $18,682.96; 1872, from William Evans, $1,000; 1874, from executors of Jesse George, deceased, $5,000; 1880, bequest of Dr. Joseph W. Taylor, $5,000; 1901, legacy of Ann Williams, $2,425.50. Present par value, $104,692.00; book value, $96,995.14. The income is used for salaries and scholarships.

JOHN FARNUM MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1878 by the heirs of John Farnum by gift of $25,000 as a memorial to him. Added to in 1899 by legacy of $10,000 from Elizabeth H. Farnum, widow of John Farnum. Present par value, $42,700.45; book value, $41,447.71. The income only is to be used to endow a "professorship of some practical science or literature." The chair of chemistry was designated as the "John Farnum Professor of Chemistry." The principal is held in the name of three Trustees for the benefit of The Corporation of Haverford College.

JOHN M. WHITALL FUND

Founded in 1880 by bequest of $10,000 from John M. Whitall, Sr. Present par value, $11,087.59; book value, $10,565.09. The bequest is upon the condition that the art of drawing, especially mechanical drawing, shall be taught, and the income only is to be used and for this purpose.

DAVID SCULL FUND

Founded in 1885 by bequest of $40,000 from David Scull, Sr. Present par value, $48,941.08; book value, $44,806.59. The income only is to be used to endow a professorship. The chair of biology was designated as the "David Scull Professor of Biology."

EDWARD L. SCULL FUND

Founded in 1865 by net bequest of $9,500 from Edward L. Scull, '64. The legacy was added to the General Endowment Fund, but in 1888 it was set apart as a separate fund. Present par value, $9,128.93; book value, $11,364.35. The income only is to be used. The bequest is free from any legally binding conditions, but it was the testator's desire "that some judicious means shall be employed by the Managers to further advise students on the subjects of diet and reading."

HAVERFORD COLLEGE

WISTAR MORRIS MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1892 by gift of $5,000 in bonds by Mary Morris, widow of Wistar Morris, as a memorial to him. Present par value, $5,281.74; book value, $5,144.24. There are no restrictions. The income is used for general college purposes.

ISRAEL FRANKLIN WHITALL FUND

Founded in 1896 by net legacy of $9,667.83 from Israel Franklin Whitall. Present par value, $11,141.37; book value, $10,727.32. The income only is to be used for the payment of professors or teachers.

JACOB P. JONES ENDOWMENT FUND

Founded in 1897 by residuary legacy of Jacob P. Jones. This amounted when received to par value of $279,021.60; book value, $332,301.60, and sundry real estate. The real estate has all been sold, netting $847,709.92. Present par value of the fund, $1,250,507.60; book value, $1,300,323.09. The income only is to be used for general college purposes, and out of said income there shall be admitted a portion at least of the students either free of charge or at reduced rates. In accordance with this provision, about $7,100 per annum is used for scholarships, and the balance of income for general college purposes. Jacob P. Jones' will contains the following: "My hope is that under the blessing and favor of God there will come from this source a revenue which shall be productive of growth and vigor in the institution as well as help at this critical period of their lives to many deserving young men of slender patrimony."

JOHN FARNUM BROWN FUND FOR THE STUDY OF THE BIBLE, BIBLICAL HISTORY AND LITERA- TURE, PHILOSOPHY, AND KINDRED SUBJECTS

Founded in 1900 by the late T. Wistar Brown as a memorial to his son, John Farnum Brown, '93. The original gift was in cash and securities of a par value of $43,000, shortly afterwards increased by further gifts of $15,000. The founder made further gifts of cash and securities until 1915, the total being $19,381 cash and $48,500 par of securities with book value of $41,490. His total gifts therefore had a book value of $234,970.81. Of this, $5,000 donated in 1910 is for endowment of prizes in Biblical History and in Philosophy. A portion of the income is capitalized each year to keep intact the full value of the fund. Present par value, $289,055.40; book value, $275,048.12. The income only is to be used for the purpose of making provision for the regular study of the Bible and Biblical History and Literature, and as way opens for religious teaching. In 1910, the scope and title of the Fund were enlarged to include "and Philosophy and Kindred Subjects." Income up to $200 may be used for prizes in Biblical Literature and Philosophy.

ELLEN WALN FUND

Founded in 1900 by legacy of $10,000 from Ellen Waln. Present par value, $12,238.10; book value, $11,117.10. There are no restrictions. The income is used for general college purposes.

ENDOWMENT FUNDS

CLEMENTINE COPE ENDOWMENT FUND

Founded in 1904 by bequest of $25,000 from Clementine Cope. Present par value, $25,784.49; book value, $21,493.67. There are no restrictions. The income is used for general college purposes.

NATHAN BRANSON HILL TRUST

Founded in 1904 by deposit with First National Bank and Trust Co., Minneapolis, Minn., trustee, of a paid-up life insurance policy for $5,000 by Samuel Hill, '78, being in memory of his father, Nathan Branson Hill. The income is to be used to aid the maintenance of Haverford College so long as it shall remain under the auspices of the Society of Friends. In 1931, Samuel Hill died and the policy realized $5,039. Present par value, $4,987.34; book value, $5,095.86.

JOSEPH E. GILLINGHAM FUND

Founded in 1907 by bequest of $50,000 from Joseph E. Gillingham. Present par value, $42,120.61; book value, $46,799.46. The testator said, "I request, but I do not direct, that part of the income of this legacy may be used for free scholarships for meritorious students." In accordance with this request, $800 is appropriated annually from the income for scholarships, the balance being used for general college purposes.

HENRY NORRIS FUND

Founded in 1907 by bequest of $5,000 from Henry Norris. Present par value, $6,069.76; book value, $5,858.70. There are no restrictions. The income is used for general college purposes.

ELIZABETH H. FARNUM FUND

Founded in 1891. The original principal of this fund, amounting to $10,000, is held by the Provident Trust Co. of Philadelphia under a deed of trust created by Elizabeth H. Farnum. The first income accrued to the College in 1914. Present par value, $10,211.69; book value, $10,220. There are no restrictions to the use of the income, and same is applied to general college purposes.

JAMES R. MAGEE FUND

Founded in 1915 by bequest of $10,000 from James R. Magee, '59, and added to in 1925, 1926, 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, 1936, and 1937, by additional payments of $29,182.84, $1,694.84, $499.31, $499.68; $488.85, $207.33, $400, and $250 under his legacy. Present par value, $42,501.27; book value, $44,618.88. There are no restrictions except that the income only is to be used. This is applied to general college purposes.

HAVERFORD COLLEGE

ALBERT K. SMILEY FUND

Founded in 1915 by gift of $1,000 from Daniel Smiley, '78, as a memorial to his brother, Albert K. Smiley, '49, and added to in 1924 and 1926. Present par value, $1,517.50; book value, $1,500. There are no restrictions except that preference was expressed that the income only should be used. This is applied to general college purposes.

THE HINCHMAN ASTRONOMICAL FUND

Founded in 1917 by bequest of $10,000 par value securities from Charles S. Hinchman. Increased in 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935, and 1936 by donations of $28,926.95 from a friend of the College. Present par value, $37,625.24; book value, $39,505.48. The income only to be used "to increase the salary of the astronomical professorship so as to provide a suitable instructor in the ennobling study of the heavens."

WALTER D. AND EDITH M. L. SCULL FUND

Founded in 1918 by bequest of Walter D. Scull, whose death followed shortly after the death of his sister, Edith M. L. Scull. Each left his or her estate to the other, unless predeceased; in this latter case both American estates were left to Haverford College. Both were children of Gideon D. Scull, '43, and resided in England. Income accumulated before the receipt of the fund by the College amounted to $16,887.66, of which $15,078.51 was added to the principal of the fund. Present par value, $122,967.30; book value, $174,512.81. The fund was created to establish a professorship of modern English constitutional history, and the chair has been designated as the Walter D. and Edith M. L. Scull Professorship of History.

ALBIN GARRETT MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1919 by legacy of $25,000 from Mary Hickman Garrett, in memory of her late husband, Albin Garrett, '64. Present par value, $36,558.75; book value, $26,771.00. There are no restrictions. The income is used for general college purposes.

ARNOLD CHASE SCATTERGOOD MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1919 by gift of $30,000 in securities from Maria Chase Scattergood in memory of her son, Arnold Chase Scattergood, of the Class of 1919, who died in his Junior year. Present par value, $26,566.06; book value, $24,381.59. The income only is to be used toward the payment of professors' salaries. Should Haverford at any time in the future give instruction or offer courses in Military Training, the fund must be surrendered to Committee on Education of Yearly Meeting of Friends of Philadelphia.

ENDOWMENT FUNDS

FRANCIS B. GUMMERE MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1920. This fund was started by a gift of $25,000 from the late Miss Emily H. Bourne, of New York, conditional upon the raising of $100,000 additional for an endowment of the Chair of English Literature in memory of her friend, Professor Francis Barton Gummere. A committee of alumni, consisting of J. Stogdell Stokes, '89, chairman; E. R. Tatnall, '07, treasurer; Hans Froelicher, '12, secretary; Charles J. Rhoads, '93; Alfred M. Collins, '97; Winthrop Sargent, Jr., '08, and Parker S. Williams, '94, working with President Comfort, organized a comprehensive campaign among the alumni and friends of the College to raise $375,000 for this purpose and for increase of professors' salaries; the first $100,000 of unspecified gifts was used to complete the Francis B. Gummere Memorial Fund to at least $125,000, and the balance comprised the Isaac Sharpless Memorial Fund. Total par value, $121,582.24; book value, $125,291.26.

ISAAC SHARPLESS MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1920. The alumni of the College conducted during 1920 a campaign for $375,000 additional endowment for the College to make possible additional salaries to the professors. Appeal was made to found two new funds, the Francis B. Gummere Memorial Fund and the Isaac Sharpless Memorial Fund. The funds received, except where otherwise specified, were first applied to the completion of the former up to $125,000 (see above). Specified gifts and donations thereafter received were then applied to the Isaac Sharpless Memorial Fund. The income only is to be used for salaries of professors. Total par value, $223,024.88; book value, $218,728.43.

GENERAL EDUCATION BOARD FUND

The General Education Board of New York appropriated $125,000 in 1920 to the campaign for increase of endowment when the Francis B. Gummere Memorial Fund and the Isaac Sharpless Memorial Fund, totaling $375,000, were raised. Interest at five per cent was paid on the full sum for three years, and the $125,000 in full payment was completed in 1926-1927. Total par value, $119,120.26; book value, $125,303.84.

HAVERFORD IMPROVEMENT FUND

Founded in 1922 to hold the Corporation's undivided share in College Lane land and eight houses. This property was turned over to the Corporation free of debt on Third Month 17, 1922, and with same the then debt of the Corporation amounting to $155,942.15 was liquidated. The fund started with an undivided interest of $19,000. There was added in 1922, $9,000; and in 1925, $2,000. In 1926, $5,000 of this fund was sold and the proceeds were appropriated for the alterations to Roberts Hall. The balance of this fund, $25,000, was also used in 1927 for the same purpose. The income was used for general college purposes. It is hoped that this fund may be refunded from the Centenary Campaign, a part of which was planned to cover the Roberts Hall alterations.

HAVERFORD COLLEGE

The College Lane land was purchased in 1886 for the benefit of the College by David Scull, Justus C. Strawbridge, Richard Wood and Francis Stokes, Managers of the College and now all deceased. With contributions raised by them and by mortgages on which they went on the bonds, funds were raised to build six dwelling houses, and two houses were built by the Corporation itself. From the income of the houses the debt against the properties was gradually reduced until it was entirely liquidated in 1919. The net income from 1919 until 1922, when the property was turned over to the Corporation, was applied toward the reduction of the Corporation's debt.

CENTENARY FUND

Centenary Fund (1) was founded in 1926 by gifts to the College in anticipation of the one hundredth anniversary of its founding in 1833. There were no restrictions and the income was used for general college purposes until 1935, when the principal was used in the liquidation of debt.

In 1935 a further campaign among the Alumni was conducted under the direction of William M. Wills, '04, to add to the funds raised in commemoration of the Centenary. This was designated as Centenary Fund (2), but in 1935-1936 the payment of pledges to (1) were merged with (2) at the request of donors, and the two accounts are now considered as one.

During 1936-1937, $9,000 additional donations were made by members of the Strawbridge family, and of these $3,372.63 were transferred for the final cost of the William J. Strawbridge '94 Memorial Astronomical Observatory, and $5,627.37 were set aside to establish the Strawbridge Observatory Maintenance Fund. Other additional gifts of $16,017.04 were made in 1936-1937, and $7,700 in 1937-1938, bringing the totals contributed to both funds to date, for the Observatory $47,000, and for other uses $143,782.55.

From the $16,017.04, together with $1,550 realized from a previous gift of an investment, the balance of the debt for pension contributions $12,022.57 was met, $5,544.47 was applied to the debt for accrued deficits, and $7,700 was applied to the operating year 1937-1938.

There remains one investment in this fund not yet realized upon with a par value of $750 and book value of $240.

WILLIAM PENN FOUNDATION

Started in 1926 toward a fund of $120,000 to establish a chair or lectureship in Political Science and International Relations. This fund forms a part of the Centenary program to raise $1,000,000. This foundation is to be devoted, at the discretion of the Managers, to providing adequate undergraduate instruction in the theory and practice of our own and other governments, in the history of past attempts to secure international agreements and in the methods by which good international understanding may be promoted and maintained. Par value, to date, $91,728.73; book value, $102,077.27.

ENDOWMENT FUNDS

WALTER CARROLL BRINTON MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1920 by gift of $5,000 by the family of Walter Carroll Brinton, Class of 1915, who died in France, Twelfth Month 8, 1918, while engaged in Friends' Reconstruction Work. The fund sustained the Walter Carroll Brinton Scholarship until 1926-27. It was then increased $6,000 by further gifts of the founders, and at their request the purpose was changed from a scholarship fund to form a separately named fund of the William Penn Foundation, with its income to be used for the same objects. Present par value, $14,359.42; book value, $14,108.65.

CORPORATION FUND

Founded in 1928 by setting aside $70,000 of proceeds from sale of 5.811 acres of land on the southern boundary and at the southeastern corner of the College farm. In 1937, the fund was increased $8,810, being proceeds of the sale of 1.762 acres of land to the Philadelphia Skating Club and Human Society for their new ice skating rink. Present par value, $37,127.75; book value, $80,010.00. The fund is invested and the income used for general college purposes, until otherwise directed by the Managers.

ELIZABETH J. SHORTRIDGE FUND

Founded in 1930 by bequest from Elizabeth J. Shortridge, without restrictions. The fund is invested, and until otherwise directed by the Managers, the income only is used for general purposes. Present par value, $10,938; book value, $10,000.

HOWARD COMFORT MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1934 and added to in 1935, 1936, and 1937 by donations totaling $5,000 from President William Wistar Comfort in memory of his father, Howard Comfort, Class of 1870, who was a Manager from 1880 until his death in 1912, and Secretary of the Board of Managers from 1884 until 1908. The income only is to be used, and for general purposes. Present par value, $5,051.95; book value, $5,000.00.

EMMA RIDGWAY COMLY FUND

Founded 1935 by bequest of $50,000 from Emma Ridgway Comly, a Philadelphia Friend. The bequest was unrestricted as to both principal and income. The income is used for general purposes. Present par value, $21,279.06; book value, $50,000.

ELLEN W. LONGSTRETH FUND

Founded 1935 bequest of $20,000 and her residuary estate from Ellen W. Longstreth, a Friend belonging to Haverford Meeting, and living in Bryn Mawr. The principal and income are both unrestricted. The bequest of $20,000 and $84,416.28 in 1935-1936, $3,338.69 in 1936-1937, and $73.33 in 1938 from the residuary estate have been received, making $107,828.30 in all. There are some parcels of real estate not yet liquidated, which will somewhat increase this fund. The income is used for general purposes. Present par value, $97,889.57; book value, $111,008.09.

HAVERFORD COLLEGE

ALBERT L. BAILY FUND

Founded in 1936 by an unrestricted bequest of $5,000 from Albert L. Baily, '78. The income is used for general purposes. Present par and book values, $5,000.

ELIZABETH B. WISTAR WARNER FUND

Founded First Month 16, 1937, by unrestricted bequest of $4,950 from Elizabeth B. Wistar Warner, of Germantown, widow of George M. Warner, '73. The income is used for general purposes. Present par value, $57.46; book value, $4,950.

T. ALLEN HILLES BEQUEST

Founded First Month 19, 1937, by receipt of the proceeds of a trust fund created in 1935 by T. Allen Hilles, class of 1870, formerly of Wilmington, Delaware, recently of Glen Mills, Pa., who died 11th Month 15, 1935. The amount received in stocks and cash was $285,000. Proceeds of mortgages of $7,460.94 in 1938 brought the total bequest to $292,460.94, but this is subject to a future reduction estimated not to exceed $30,000 for inheritance taxes when determined. Accumulated income of $12,489.77 was received at the same time. In the trust created by the donor in 1935 he provided: "The gift to Haverford College shall constitute a fund to be known as 'The Hilles Bequest,' and the income shall be used for repair, upkeep and improvement of the building which I have given to Haverford College known as the Hilles Laboratory of Applied Science of Haverford College. My purpose in making this gift is primarily to relieve the Corporation of Haverford College from any additional expense on account of the erection of the building which I have given them, and the accompanying expansion of its educational activities, but whenever and if the Board of Managers or other governing body of the College shall determine it to be for the best interest of the College to devote the whole or any part of the income of the fund to uses other than those above specified, such income may be applied to such uses and in such manner as the Board of Managers or other governing body may in its absolute discretion determine." Present par value, $114,762.20; book value, $292,460.94.

LEONARD L. GRIEF, JR., AND ROGER L. GRIEF FUND

Founded Ninth Month 29, 1937, by gift of $1,000 from Leonard L. Grief, '34, and Roger L. Grief, '37, of Baltimore. The gift was unrestricted, but the Managers have set aside this fund as endowment for general purposes, the income only to be used, until otherwise determined by them. Present par and book values, $1,000.

EDWARD M. WISTAR FUND

Founded First Month 9, 1938, by gift of $2,500 from Edward M. Wistar, '72, for endowment, the income only to be used for general purposes. Present par value, $475.40 and no par stock; book value, $2,500.

ENDOWMENT FUNDS

FUND FOR GRADUATE SCHOOL

MOSES BROWN FUND

A trust founded by T. Wistar Brown, in 1906, as a memorial to his father, Moses Brown. Transferred to the College in 1916 after his death, having at that time a par value of $372,821.91 and book value of $318,823.56. Present par value, $366,502.62; book value, $346,725.04. The fund was created to establish a graduate course in religious study in harmony with and supplementary to the teaching and study provided for by the John Farnum Brown Fund. The income only is to be used; at least ten per cent of the total income must be capitalized each year. The unused income, if any, is likewise capitalized at the close of each fiscal year. The graduate school supported by the Moses Brown Fund was designated "The Thomas Wistar Brown Graduate School." In 1927 the former separate school was discontinued and eight graduate scholarships were created.

In 1937-1938, an arrangement has been made for cooperation in courses with Pendle Hill, a school for religious education, located at Wallingford, Pa.

FUNDS FOR INFIRMARY

INFIRMARY ENDOWMENT FUND

Founded in 1911 from subscriptions totaling $9,072.55, raised among alumni and friends of the College. Present par value, $9,750.94; book value, $9,653.44. The income is used toward the expenses of the Morris Infirmary.

JOHN W. PINKHAM FUND

Founded in 1911 by legacy of $5,000 from Dr. John W. Pinkham, '60, being transmitted by gift from his widow, Cornelia F. Pinkham. Present par value, $5,499.50, and book value, $5,059.50. There are no binding conditions, but as she expressed an interest in the Morris Infirmary, then building, the Board of Managers directed that the income of this fund should be used in the support and maintenance of the Infirmary.

FUND FOR HAVERFORD UNION

HAVERFORD UNION FUND

Founded in 1920 by gift of $1,000 par value of bond at book value of $800 and $678.59 cash, and all the personal property in the Union from the Haverford College Union. The College assumed the responsibility for the care of the building First Month 16, 1920. The income is used toward the maintenance of the Union building. Present par value, $2,212.32; book value, $1,878.82.

HAVERTFORD COLLEGE
FUNDS FOR SCHOLARSHIPS
THOMAS P. COPE FUND

Founded in 1842 by gift of sixty shares of Lehigh Coal and Navigation Co. stock, par value $3,000, from Thomas P. Cope. Present par value, $4,244.69; book value, $5,247.82. The income only is to be used "for the education of young men to qualify them to become teachers, but who are not of ability to pay their own schooling." The fund sustains the Thomas P. Cope Scholarships.

EDWARD YARNALL FUND

Founded in 1860 by bequest of $5,000 from Edward Yarnall. Present par value, $5,719.33; book value, $6,069.23. The income only is to be used for "the support of free scholarships." The fund sustains the Edward Yarnall Scholarships.

ISAIAH V. WILLIAMSON FUND

Founded in 1876 and increased in 1883 by gifts of sundry ground rents from Isaiah V. Williamson. Present par value, $22,791.56; book value, $19,817.40. The income only is to be used for free scholarships. The fund sustains the Isaiah V. Williamson Scholarships.

RICHARD T. JONES SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded in 1885 by bequest of $5,000 from Jacob P. Jones as a memorial to his late son, Richard T. Jones, '63. Present par value, $5,896.25; book value, $5,056.25. The income only to be used to sustain the "Richard T. Jones Scholarship."

MARY M. JOHNSON SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded in 1897 by bequest of $5,000 from Mary M. Johnson. Accrued interest before payment to the College increased the fund by $3,062.95. Present par value, $7,614.35; book value, $7,023.61. The bequest was to establish a "perpetual scholarship." The fund sustains the Mary M. Johnson Scholarships.

SARAH MARSHALL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded in 1897 by bequest of $5,000 from Sarah Marshall. Accrued interest before payment to the College increased the fund by $2,589.49. Present par value, $7,095.83; book value, $7,910.76. The bequest was to establish a "perpetual scholarship." The fund sustains the Sarah Marshall Scholarships.

CLEMENTINE COPE FELLOWSHIP FUND

Founded in 1899 by gift of $25,000 from Clementine Cope. Present par value, $26,270.77; book value, $22,845.86. The gift was to establish the "Clementine Cope Fellowship Fund to assist worthy and promising graduates of Haverford College in continuing their course of study at Haverford or at some other institution of learning in this country or abroad." The selection of the Fellows is made by the Board of Managers upon nomination by the Faculty.

ENDOWMENT FUNDS

ISAAC THORNE JOHNSON SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded in 1916 by gift of $5,000 from Isaac Thorne Johnson, '81. Present par value, $8,005.94; book value, $7,802.94. The gift was to establish "The Isaac Thorne Johnson Scholarship to aid and assist worthy young men of Wilmington Yearly Meeting or of the Central West to enjoy the privileges of Haverford College." Unused income is added to the principal of the fund.

CASPAR WISTAR MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded in 1920 by gift of Edward M. and Margaret C. Wistar of $5,000 par value in bonds in memory of their son, Caspar Wistar, of the Class of 1902, who died in Guatemala in 1917 while engaged in mission service in that country. The income only is to be used for scholarships, primarily for sons of parents engaged in Christian service, including secretaries of Young Men's Christian Associations, or students desiring preparation for similar service in America or other countries. Present par value, $5,278.97; present book value, $2,951.21.

J. KENNEDY MOORHOUSE SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded in 1926 by gifts totaling $3,000, with $1,000 added in 1926, and $1,000 in 1928 and $1,000 in 1929 from the Class of 1900 in memory of their classmate, J. Kennedy Moorhouse. The scholarship provided by this fund is "to be awarded, whenever a vacancy shall occur, to the boy ready to enter the Freshman class, who in the judgment of the President of the College appears best fitted to uphold at Haverford the standard of character and conduct typified by J. Kennedy Moorhouse, 1900, as known to his classmates: A man, modest, loyal, courageous, reverent without sanctimony; a lover of hard play and honest work; a leader in clean and joyous living." Present par value, $6,074.60; book value, $5,244.60.

LOUIS JAQUETTE PALMER SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded in 1928 by gift of $5,000 from Triangle Society, as follows: "The Triangle Society of Haverford College herewith presents to the Corporation of Haverford College a fund of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) to be hereafter known and designated as the 'Louis Jaquette Palmer Scholarship Fund';

"This fund represents contributions from the members of the Triangle Society of Haverford College who have been thus inspired to perpetuate the memory of their fellow member, Louis Jaquette Palmer, of the Class of 1894, one of the founders of the Triangle Society, whom they admired for his cooperative spirit and constructive interest in student and community welfare. The fund is placed with the Corporation of Haverford College with the understanding:

"That such student shall be selected from a list of those eligible for entrance to Haverford College, who shall have combined in his qualifications the fulfillment of such conditions as apply to applicants for the Rhodes Scholarships under the terms of its creation, and furthermore that the student so selected and entered in Haverford College may continue to receive said scholarship fund throughout his course at College, subject to the approval of the Committee, otherwise preference shall be given to applications for the Freshman Class;

"That the selection of said student and the determination of the qualities and conditions hereinbefore mentioned shall be subject to the decision and control of a committee of three (3), which committee shall be composed of two (2) members of the Triangle Society and the President of Haverford College, the said members of the Triangle Society to select and recommend the applicants and the committee as a whole to determine their qualifications and eligibility.

"Finally, in the event that no student is selected by the Triangle Society or that a vacancy occurs, the income from said funds and any additions shall accumulate as provided under the customary rules and regulations of the Corporation of Haverford College."

Par value, $5,097.50; book value, $5,000.

PAUL W. NEWHALL MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Established in 1931 by bequest of $5,045.60 from Mary Newhall in memory of her father, Paul W. Newhall, a Manager, 1844-48, for the establishment of a scholarship fund. The income only to be used for free scholarship purposes. Present par value, $3,635.60; book value, $5,045.60.

ROBERT MARTIN ZUCKERT MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded in 1935 by gift of $750, $2,000 in 1935-1936, $2,000 in 1936-1937, and $2,000 in 1937-1938 by Harry M. Zuckert, New York, in memory of his son, Robert Martin Zuckert, of the Class of 1936, who was killed in an accident in June, 1935. The income is to be used for a scholarship and the donor said, "I should prefer a boy who is a native of New York or Connecticut and who now resides in one of those States." Present par and book values, $6,750.00.

SAMUEL E. HILLES ENDOWMENT CREATED BY MINA COLBURN HILLES

Founded in 1935 by gift of $5,000 from Mrs. Mina Colburn Hilles, of Orlando, Fla., in memory of her husband, Samuel E. Hilles, Class of 1874, formerly of Cincinnati, who died in 1931. This fund was created under a trust deed with Central Title and Trust Co., Orlando, Fla., to whom annual reports are to be made. The income only is to be used for scholarships for worthy students who are unable to finance their expenses at Haverford College. Present par value, $5,049.45; book value, $5,000.00.

CLASS OF 1913 SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded Fourth Month 15, 1937, by gift of $3,000 from Class of 1913 for the endowment of scholarship aid. The income only is to be used for scholarship aid, to be awarded annually to a worthy student of any undergraduate class. Preference is to be given to sons of members of the Class of 1913 who may apply and who meet the usual requirements of the College. Present par and book values, $3,000.

ENDOWMENT FUNDS
FUNDS FOR THE LIBRARY
ALUMNI LIBRARY FUND

Founded in 1863 by contributions from the alumni and other friends of the College. In 1909 the unexpended balance (about $5,000) of a fund of $10,000 raised in 1892, and known as the "New Library Fund," was merged into the Alumni Library Fund. Present par value, $19,-300.67; book value, $17,435.06. The income is used for binding and miscellaneous expenses of the Library.

MARY FARNUM BROWN LIBRARY FUND

Founded in 1892 by gift of $20,000 from T. Wistar Brown, executor of the Estate of Mary Farnum Brown. Additions were made by T. Wistar Brown in 1894, $10,000 for a lecture fund, and in 1913, $20,000. In 1916, after T. Wistar Brown's death, there was added to this fund $34,499.78 par value of securities, book value, $30,149.78, being a trust which he had created for this purpose in 1908 and to which he had made additions in subsequent years. Present par value, $67,261.34; book value, $64,709.68. The purpose of this fund (except $10,000) is for the increase and extension of the Library. The income only is to be used for the purchase of books, and one-fifth of same is to be spent for books promoting the increase of Christian knowledge. The books purchased with the income of this fund are marked by a special book-plate. The income of $10,000 of the fund is to provide for an annual course of lectures upon Biblical subjects designated "The Haverford Library Lectures." Unused income from the fund, if any, must be capitalized at the end of each fiscal year.

WILLIAM H. JENKS LIBRARY FUND

Founded in 1910 by gift of $5,000 from Hannah M. Jenks, widow of William H. Jenks. The fund was first known as "Special Library Fund," but after the death of Hannah M. Jenks was changed, in 1916, to "William H. Jenks Library Fund." Present par value, $6,102.12; book value, $5,000. The purpose of this fund is that the income shall be used for the care of the collection of Friends' books made by William H. Jenks and given by his widow to Haverford College, and to make appropriated additions thereto. Any income not used for these purposes may be used toward the general needs of the Library.

MARY WISTAR BROWN WILLIAMS LIBRARY FUND

Founded in 1914 by gift of $20,000 from Parker S. Williams, '94, as a memorial to his late wife, Mary Wistar Brown Williams. Present par value, $20,381.74; book value, $20,306.74. The income only is to be used for the purchase of books for the Library, preferably books coming within the classes of history, poetry, art, and English and French literature. The books purchased with the income of this fund are marked by a special book-plate.

HAVERFORD COLLEGE

ANNA YARNALL FUND

Founded in 1916 by residuary bequest of $13,000 par value of securities with book value of $7,110, and one-half interest in suburban real estate from Anna Yarnall. Additional amount under bequest was received in 1918. Present par value, $173,117.92; book value, $180,184.97. The real estate was sold in 1923 and netted the College $164,820.50. The bequest was made for the general use of the Library. The testatrix says, "I do not wish to restrict the managers as to the particular application of this fund, but desire them to use the income arising from it as in their best judgment and discretion shall seem best, for the purchase of books and manuscripts, book cases, rebinding of books, and, if need be, the principal or portions thereof, or the income or portions thereof, for additions to the present Library building, or the erection of new Library buildings. I direct that all books purchased with this fund shall be plainly marked 'Charles Yarnall Memorial' in memory of my father, Charles Yarnall."

F. B. GUMMERE LIBRARY FUND

Founded in 1920 by gift of $635.47, raised among the students by the Students' Association of the College as a memorial to Professor Francis Barton Gummere. The income only is to be used to buy for the Haverford College Library books on the subjects that he taught or was interested in.

The Students' Association voted also to raise twenty-five dollars for a special shelf in the Library to be known as the "F. B. Gummere Memorial Shelf." This shelf, with its proper inscription, holds the books purchased by this fund. Present par and book values, $635.47.

EDMUND MORRIS FERGUSSON, JR., CLASS OF 1920 MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1920 by memorial gift of $1,000 from the family of Edmund Morris Fergusson, Jr., Class of 1920, who died at the College in his Senior year. The income only is to be used for the maintenance and increase of the Library's Department of English and American Literature. The books purchased with the income of this fund are marked by a special book-plate indicating its source. Present par and book values, $1,002.34.

CLASS OF 1888 LIBRARY FUND

Founded Sixth Month 15, 1938, by gifts totaling $5,250 from members and families of the Class of 1888, on the occasion of their fiftieth anniversary. The conditions of the gift are as follows:

- (1) A fund is to be established, to be known as "THE CLASS OF 1888 LIBRARY FUND."
- (2) The income only of this fund is to be used exclusively for the purchase of books for the Haverford College Library, except as noted below (in Clause 6).

ENDOWMENT FUNDS

- (3) The fund established now will be added to later by gift or bequest.
- (4) Members of the Class also expect to donate books to the Library, with the understanding that when such books are duplicates of books already in the Library, they may be exchanged for books needed, or sold, and the money so obtained used in the same way as the income of the fund.
- (5) All books purchased by the income of the fund (or obtained as in 4) are to be provided with a special book-plate to be furnished by the Class.
- (6) Income from the Class Fund or moneys obtained by sale of duplicate books may, when necessary, be used for binding or repair of books designated as belonging to the Class collection.

FUNDS FOR PENSIONS

PRESIDENT SHARPLESS FUND

Founded in 1907 by contributions from interested friends of the College, finally amounting to $40,000. Present par value, $42,991.99; book value, $41,237.08. The income is to be used for the teachers and professors of Haverford College as the President of the College and his successors, with the approval of the Board of Managers, may decide. The income from this fund is annually transferred to the Haverford College Pension Fund for old style pensions, or, if not needed for pensions, is capitalized in said fund.

WILLIAM P. HENSZEY FUND

Founded in 1908 by gift of $10,000 from William P. Henszey, donated in connection with the raising of the President Sharpless Fund, but kept as a separate fund. Increased in 1909 by legacy of $25,000 from William P. Henszey. Present par value, $36,894.66; book value, $36,758.66. The income is to be used, as in the President Sharpless Fund, for the teachers and professors of Haverford College as the President of the College and his successors, with the approval of the Board of Managers, may decide. The income from this fund is annually transferred to the Haverford College Pension Fund for old style pensions, or, if not needed for pensions, is capitalized in said fund.

JACOB P. JONES BENEFIT FUND

Founded in 1909 and increased in 1910 by proceeds of land sold for account of Jacob P. Jones legacy. Present par value, $71,728.93; book value, $68,113.78. The income is to be used, as in the President Sharpless Fund, for the teachers and professors of Haverford College as the President of the College and his successors, with the approval of the Board of Managers, may decide. The income from this fund is annually transferred to the Haverford College Pension Fund for old style pensions, or, if not needed for pensions, is capitalized in said fund.

HAVERFORD COLLEGE

PLINY EARLE CHASE MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1909 by transfer to the College of a fund raised in 1887 in memory of Professor Pliny Earle Chase, and amounting to par value of $4,173.04. Present par value, $4,166.04; book value, $3,272.24. The income of this fund is used, as in the President Sharpless Fund, for the teachers and professors of Haverford College as the President of the College and his successors, with the approval of the Board of Managers, may decide. This income is transferred annually to the Haverford College Pension Fund, for old style pensions, or, if not needed for pensions, is capitalized in said fund.

HAVERFORD COLLEGE PENSION FUND

Founded in 1920 and added to since, being accumulations of income from the President Sharpless Fund, the William P. Henszey Fund, the Jacob P. Jones Benefit Fund and the Pliny Earle Chase Memorial Fund, not needed for pensions. Present par value, $110,429.76; book value, $112,020.73. The income from this fund, together with the income from the four above-mentioned funds, is used for old style pensions. Income not needed for pensions was capitalized until 1932; then any unused income was used toward the College's share in cost of new contributory pensions with the Teachers' Annuity and Insurance Association. Now the old style pensions call for more than the income of all these Pension Funds. When the proper time comes in an actuarial sense, the principal of this fund can be used as well as the income for the old style pensions until they cease.

FUNDS FOR SPECIAL PURPOSES

THOMAS SHIPLEY FUND

Founded in 1904 by gift of $5,000 from the late Samuel R. Shipley as a memorial to his father, Thomas Shipley. Present par value, $5,363.10; book value, $5,248. The income only to be used for lectures on English Literature at the College. In case of actual need, at the discretion of the President of the College, the income can be used for general expenditures.

ELLISTON P. MORRIS FUND

Founded in 1906 by gift of $1,000 from Elliston P. Morris, '48. Present par value, $1,199.25; book value, $1,126.75. The income is to be used as a prize for essays to be written by students on the subject of Arbitration and Peace. "The Elliston P. Morris Prize" of $80 is given in alternate years, the competition being open to all undergraduates and to graduates of one year's standing.

In 1929, it was determined, with the consent of the family of Elliston P. Morris, that until otherwise disposed this prize shall be discontinued and the income shall be used for the purchase of library books on arbitration and peace.

ENDOWMENT FUNDS

JOHN B. GARRETT READING PRIZE FUND

Founded in 1908 by a gift in bonds by the late John B. Garrett, '54. Present par and book values, $617.87. It was the purpose of the donor to ensure the permanence of a prize or prizes for Systematic Reading, which he had given for a number of years. The prizes have not been awarded in recent years.

SPECIAL ENDOWMENT FUND

Founded in 1909 by gift of $12,000 par value of bonds, book value $11,800, from an anonymous donor. Present par value, $6,201.19; book value, $9,227.07. The income only of this fund to be used "to furnish opportunity for study of social and economic and religious conditions and duties connected therewith, especially from a Christian point of view." The income is used toward the expenses of Summer Schools for Religious Study, which have been held at Haverford and Swarthmore Colleges from time to time, and also for religious education under Friends' care.

On Fifth Month 16, 1930, the Managers adopted the following amendment, made at the suggestion of the donor, now revealed to be John Thompson Emlen, 1900: "If, however, it shall be in the course of time advisable by the President and the Managers that the income of this fund can be used more profitably by the College for other purposes than those herewith stated, it is my desire that they shall act in accordance with their judgment."

SCHOLARSHIP IMPROVEMENT PRIZE FUND

Founded in 1913 by gift of $2,000 par value of bonds, book value, $1,200, from John L. Scull, '05. Present par value, $1,969.49; book value, $2,131.22. The income only to be used to establish two prizes of $50 and $45 annually to the two students in the graduating class showing the most marked and steady improvement in scholarship during their college course.

ELIZABETH P. SMITH FUND

Founded in 1915 by bequest of $1,000 from Elizabeth P. Smith. Present par value, $1,032; book value, $1,027. The income only to be used as a prize for the best essays on Peace written by students of the College.

S. P. LIPPINCOTT HISTORY PRIZE FUND

Founded in 1917 by gift of $2,500 par value of bonds, book value, $2,546.88, from beneficiary of the estate of S. P. Lippincott, '86. Present par value, $2,500; book value, $2,546.88. The income only to be used as an annual history prize, which is designated "The S. P. Lippincott History Prize." The award is to be made on the basis of Final Honors. In any year when no award is made, the income is to be used for the purchase of library books in the field of the unawarded prize.

HAVERFORD COLLEGE

FRANCIS STOKES FUND

Founded in 1919 by gift of $5,000 in securities, book value, $5,000, from Francis J. Stokes, '94, in memory of his father, Francis Stokes, of the Class of 1852, and a Manager of Haverford from 1885 until his death in 1916. Present par and book values, $5,120.30. The income is to be used for extending the planting of trees and shrubs on the College grounds. The wish is expressed, but not as a binding condition of the gift, that the Campus Club should have the direction of the expenditure of this income.

GEORGE PEIRCE PRIZE FUND

Founded in 1919 by gift of $600, and increased in 1920 by further gift of $400, from Harold and Charlotte C. Peirce in memory of their deceased son, George Peirce, '03. Present par and book values, $1,911.89. The income only is to be used for a prize, to be called the George Peirce Prize in Chemistry or Mathematics, to the student who, in the opinion of the Faculty, has shown marked proficiency in either or in both of these studies and who wishes to follow a profession which calls for such preparation. Unused income is capitalized, as requested by the founders of the fund.

LYMAN BEECHER HALL PRIZE FUND

Founded in 1924 by donation of securities of par value, $2,000, book value, $1,820, from the Class of 1898 in commemoration of their 25th anniversary of graduation to establish an annual prize of $100 in Chemistry in honor of Doctor Lyman Beecher Hall, Professor of Chemistry at Haverford College from 1880 to 1917. Present par and book values, $2,155.00.

NEWTON PRIZE FUND

Founded in 1925 by donation of five shares of General Electric Co. stock by A. Edward Newton, par value, $500, and book value, $1,348.25. Present par value, $120.46 and no par shares; book value, $1,397.75. The income only is to be used for "The Newton Prize in English Literature to the undergraduate who shall submit the best essay on some subject connected with English literature." In 1930, the award was changed to be on the basis of Final Honors, and in any year when no award is made the income is to be used for the purchase of library books in the field of the unawarded prize.

EDWARD B. CONKLIN ATHLETIC FUND

Founded in 1925 and added to in 1926, 1927 and 1929 by Frank H. Conklin, '95, in memory of his brother, Edward B. Conklin, '99. Present par value, $2,307, and book value, $2,400. The income is to be used without restriction in any branch of athletics.

ENDOWMENT FUNDS

ARBORETUM FUND

Founded in 1928 by setting aside $5,000 from proceeds from sale of 5.811 acres of land on the southern boundary and southeast corner of the College farm. Until otherwise ordered by the Managers, the fund is to be invested and the income only is to be used under the direction of the Campus Club for trees and shrubs upon the College grounds, or for their care, or for other similar purposes. Present par value, $5,853.31; book value, $4,587.75.

WILLIAM ELLIS SCULL PRIZE FUND

Founded in 1929 by William Ellis Scull, '83, by a gift of $2,000. The income is to be used annually, so long as the Managers may judge expedient, as a prize to be awarded at Commencement by the Faculty to that upper classman who in their judgment shall have shown the greatest improvement in voice and the articulation of the English Language. The prize is to be known as "The William Ellis Scull Prize." Present par and book values, $2,000.

C. WHARTON STORK ART FUND

In First Month, 1930, C. Wharton Stork, of Class of 1902, donated to the Corporation securities of a then value of $69,000 on account of a contemplated gift for the purpose of erecting, equipping, and furnishing an Art Museum at the College. Purchases were made by C. Wharton Stork of paintings, which are now exhibited on loan at the Pennsylvania Museum of Art.

PAUL D. I. MAIER FUND

Founded Tenth Month 7, 1936, by bequest of $1,000 from Paul D. I. Maier, '96, of Bryn Mawr, Pa. The bequest provides for the continuance of the Class of 1896 Prizes of $10 each in Latin and Mathematics, and any balance of income is to be used for general purposes. Present par and book values, $1,000.

STRAWBRIDGE OBSERVATORY MAINTENANCE FUND

Founded Second Month 13, 1937, from donations of $5,627.37 from members of the Strawbridge family, being the amount in excess of the actual cost of the rebuilding and reequipment of the William J. Strawbridge, '94, Memorial Astronomical Observatory. The income is used for the maintenance and equipment of the observatory. The principal can be used for additional equipment, if so determined by the Board of Managers. In 1938 an astrographic camera was so purchased at a cost to date of $610. Present par and book values, $5,017.37.

STATED MEETINGS OF THE CORPORATION AND THE MANAGERS

The Annual Meeting of "The Corporation of Haverford College" is held on the second Third-day in the Tenth month, at 3 o'clock P.M.

The Stated Meetings of the Managers for 1939 will be held on the second Sixth-day of First and Third months, and on the third Sixth-day of Fifth, Ninth and Eleventh months.

HAVERFORD COLLEGE
ATHLETICS

1938-1939

THE YEAR 1938-39

The football team had its best season in some time, winning four and losing two by close scores. It proved itself to be a hard-playing well-coached team showing steady improvement through the season, and many felt that it was just approaching its peak as the season ended.

At long last the soccer team cashed in on its potential power to become the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Champions. In addition the team was also the M. A. S. C. A. C. Championship team. From a spectator's point of view the game with Swarthmore was the high point, both teams playing skillful, aggressive soccer.

Both the basketball and wrestling teams had very indifferent seasons, both undergoing a rebuilding process. The fencing team split even on its schedule.

The track team continued its winning ways extending the string of undefeated dual meets to twenty-seven. The team was third in the M. A. S. C. A. A. Championships at Rutgers. Tom Steiger was crowned Middle Atlantic High Hurdle Champion, and Co-Captain Harry Derr both Broad-jump and Low Hurdle Champion. Dave Shihadeh broke our own two-mile record, and Tom Steiger equaled our high hurdle record.

A late spring with lots of cold and rain held back both the baseball and tennis teams. Both had poor seasons from the point of view of victories.

To Bob Jackson and Harry Derr went the Varsity Club's Cup.

Detailed accounts of all contests may be found in the Haverford News on file in the Library, and manager's reports on each contest are on file in the Athletic Office.

The Virginia Cup

The Virginia Cup was presented to Haverford College in 1925 by Professor Legh W. Reid. Tournament play for the Cup is held in May each year and is participated in by not more than sixteen players. The eight members of the first and second teams are permitted to compete for the Cup. The matches are the best three out of five sets. The name of each winner is engraved on the Cup.

HAVERFORD COLLEGE

HISTORY AND DESCRIPTION

Haverford College was founded in 1833. It owes its origin to the insight and energy of a few members of the Society of Friends from Philadelphia and New York who, in the spring of 1830, conceived the idea of founding an institution for education in the higher branches of learning. Its object, in the words of the founders, was "to combine sound and liberal instruction in literature and science with a religious care over the morals and manners, thus affording to the youth of our Society an opportunity of acquiring an education equal in all respects to that which can be obtained at colleges."

The founders were incorporated in 1833 under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania into the Haverford School Association, a body now known as the Corporation of Haverford College. This corporation elects a board of managers for the control of its affairs and for the administration of its funds. For the founding of the School sixty thousand dollars was raised, but the sum proved insufficient for its maintenance, and for many years the financial deficit was met by liberal subscriptions of friends.

From 1845 to 1848 the School was closed in order to allow the funds to accumulate and to give time for the collection of an endowment. Since that time, by a number of generous bequests and donations, the amount of invested funds yielding interest has been increased to over four million dollars.

The first building of the College was Founders Hall, erected in 1833. The Observatory was built in 1852, and enlarged in 1883. Alumni Hall was built in 1863, and enlarged in 1898 and 1912 to meet the growing needs of the Library. In 1877 Barclay Hall, a dormitory, was erected by friends of the College. The Mechanical Laboratory was established in 1884, and was provided with a new building in 1890; this was burned down in 1896, and Whitall Hall, a new three-story structure, was built. The old Biological Laboratory was established in 1886; Chase Hall for lectures and recitations and the old Physical Laboratory were built in 1888. The Cricket Shed was erected in 1893. In more recent years, during a period of rapid development, made possible largely by the general and unfailing coöperation of the alumni, the following additions have been made to the College equipment: in 1899, the Logan and Norris section of Lloyd Hall, a dormitory; in 1900, a large and well-equipped gymnasium; in 1903, Roberts Hall, the gift of Lucy Branson Roberts, with college offices and a large auditorium; in 1903, Merion Hall, a dormitory, remodeled from the old Haverford Grammar School building; in 1905, an additional wing to Founders Hall for dining halls and kitchen; in 1906, a permanent building for the heating and lighting plant; in 1907, the enlargement of Merion Hall; in 1909, the Haverford Union, a building presented by Alfred Percival Smith, '84; in 1910, the Lyman Beecher Hall Chemistry Laboratory; in 1912, the Morris Infirmary, given by John T. Morris, '67; in 1913, a new section of Lloyd Hall, given by the estate of the late Justus C. Strawbridge, and a concrete grandstand, the gift of Horace E. Smith, '86; in 1916, the Smith section of Lloyd Hall, from the same donor, and the Kinsey section; in 1917, Isaac Sharpless Hall, for biology and physics; in 1927, completing the dormitory, four additional sections of Lloyd Hall; in 1928, the Hilles Memorial Laboratory of applied science; and, in 1933, the William J. Strawbridge Memorial Observatory. In addition to these College buildings there are a number of residences on the grounds which are occupied for the most part by professors and their families.

The College has a pleasant and healthful location in the township of Haverford, Delaware County, Pennsylvania, nine miles west of the center of Philadelphia. It is accessible by the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad and by the Philadelphia and Western Railway. The selection of this site is thus described by the first managers: "We wished to procure a farm in a neighborhood of unquestionable salubrity—within a short distance of a Friends' meeting—of easy access from this city at all seasons of the year . . . recommended by the beauty of the scenery and a retired situation." And they reported that they had purchased for the sum of $17,865 "an oblong tract of 198½ acres . . . nearly south of the eight mile stone on the Lancaster Turnpike." This property has since been increased to two hundred sixteen acres with an estimated present value of about one million, seven hundred thousand dollars. While a portion is retained as farm and woodland, a lawn of sixty acres was long ago graded and tastefully planted with trees and shrubs by a landscape gardener, so that the natural beauty of the location has increased with passing years. The grounds include six fields, for cricket, baseball, football and soccer, a running-track, twelve tennis courts, and a pond for skating.

Parallel with its material growth there have been changes in the inner life of the College which have affected the methods of administration rather than the essential principles on which the institution was founded. It has gradually increased in number of students, but still enjoys the advantages of a small college. From the first it gave instruction of collegiate scope and grade. Accordingly, in 1856, the name was changed from school to college and the right to confer degrees was granted by the Legislature. In 1861 the preparatory department was abolished. General courses are now given in arts and science. The endowment for salaries and pensions enables the College to maintain a faculty of unusual size in proportion to the number of students, and to expend for the instruction, board, and lodging of each student much more than he pays.

In accordance with the modern ideals of religious and moral education, the students enjoy ample liberty, safeguarded by their wholesome physical life, by the traditions of the College, and by the intimate association with their professors and fellow students.

All examinations, quizzes, and tests are conducted under an Honor System administered by the Students' Association. Under the Honor System no person, either student or faculty member, acts as official proctor during examinations. The responsibility for the proper conduct of all examinations is entirely in the hands of each student. Each incoming student is required to sign a pledge accepting the Honor System and all its implications. At the end of all examinations each student shall sign a pledge that he has neither given or received aid in the examination, and that if he has seen anyone else do so either he or the offender will notify the Students' Council within twenty-four hours. The Students' Council receives and investigates any report of a violation. If the accused person be found guilty, the Council will recommend to the college authorities that the offender's connection with the College be severed for not less than one half year.

The religious tradition bequeathed by the Quaker founders has been carefully cherished, and high ideals of life and conduct are maintained. Three times a month the College attends Friends meeting in a body. The aims of Haverford have been gradually developing and its function is becoming more and more clear—"to encourage the growth, among a limited number of young men, of vigorous bodies, scholarly minds, strong characters, and a real religious experience."

ADMISSION

An applicant for admission to Haverford College, as an undergraduate, must present evidence that he has received satisfactory ratings on the College Board examinations required of him in accordance with one of the three systems of admission described below. In addition he must present, on blanks furnished by the College, his school record and a certificate of character signed by his school principal, and a health certificate signed by his family physician, including a statement that the applicant has been vaccinated within two years. The school certificate must show satisfactory attainment in 15 units* of work as follows:

English.....	3 units
Mathematics.....	3 units
2 Foreign Languages.....	5 units†
Electives.....	4 units†
Scholastic Aptitude Test‡

The three plans for admission are described as Plan A, Plan B, and Plan C.

If the candidate seeks admission under Plan A, he must take entrance examinations in all the subjects for which he seeks entrance credit. He may take examinations in any of these subjects as preliminary examinations a full year or more before he intends to enter Haverford College, but only the June examinations of the College Entrance Examination Board are accepted as preliminary examinations.

If a candidate seeks admission under Plan B, he must take entrance examinations in three subjects—English, Mathematics, and one foreign language.

The Mathematics will be both Mathematics A and C, or Mathematics β ; or Mathematics γ , which will gain advanced standing in Mathematics in College. Mathematics α will not be accepted for entrance.

The one foreign language required will be, for the A.B. degree, Latin 4;§ or Greek 2 and Greek H; or Greek 3; for the S.B. degree, Latin 3 or Greek 3 or German 3 or French 3 or Spanish 3. Ordin-

* "A unit represents a year's study in any subject in a secondary school, constituting approximately a quarter of a full year's work. A four years' secondary school curriculum should be regarded as representing not more than 16 units of work."

† If 4 units of Latin are offered, 6 units will be required for the two foreign languages, thus reducing the elective requirements to 3 units.

‡ May be omitted only by special arrangement with the admissions office.

narily these examinations must all be taken and passed at one time, either in June or September. Occasionally exceptions to this rule may be made in cases of students who have taken all of the examinations in June and have failed of entrance by a narrow margin. Such students may be allowed to omit in the September examinations subjects which they passed in June with creditable grades. Such exceptions, however, will be allowed only by special action of the Committee on Admissions.

If the candidate seeks admission under Plan C, he will be required to pass satisfactorily the comprehensive examination in English, an examination in one foreign language, and two examinations in subjects taken during his last school year and covering the work of that year.

The usual list of subjects* in which entrance examinations may be taken to satisfy the requirements for admission to Haverford College is as follows:

SUBJECT	UNITS	COLLEGE BOARD EXAMINATION
English, four years.....	3	English
Mathematics
Elementary Algebra.....	2	Mathematics A

A candidate for admission may offer electives either in the usual list or in such other subjects as may be approved in any given case by the Committee responsible for decisions concerning admission. Not more than one unit each may be chosen from these extensions, and then proficiency must be shown that indicates an amount of study and intellectual effort commensurate with that required in other subjects.

Whenever practicable, the College will arrange for the candidate a personal interview with a representative of this institution, and every applicant should realize that, in view of the limited enrollment, he is entering a competition for admission to a select and comparatively small student organization. On the basis of all information available—College Board reports, school record, medical certificate, evidence touching on character and personality—the applicant will be accepted or rejected, and the decision of the Committee on Admissions is final. Since it is desired to admit candidates who are best fitted to profit by the opportunities offered by Haverford College, preference will be given to those with superior records and credentials rather than to those with mere priority of application.

Those students who are accepted will be admitted without conditions. To those who on entrance show marked proficiency in certain subjects, as a result of special tests provided, advanced standing in those subjects will be granted. On account of limited accommodations it is usually impossible to admit students to other than the Freshman class.

Subject to the final acceptance of the candidate, vacant rooms are assigned in the order in which application blanks (see page 17), properly filled out, are received by the College Office; consequently candidates are advised to make application two or three years in advance, addressing preliminary correspondence to the Director of Admissions of Haverford College. For the benefit of the candidate in filling out his application blank, it may here be stated that, for resident students, the inclusive price of tuition, board, and room (including heat, light, attendance, and necessary bedroom furniture, i.e., chiffonier, bed, bed linen) varies from $725 to $850 per year; while day students are charged $400 for tuition, $480 for tuition and luncheon. For details, see pages 62-63.

COLLEGE ENTRANCE EXAMINATION BOARD

Examinations of June 15-22, 1940

The College Entrance Examination Board will hold examinations in June 1940 at more than three hundred points in this country and abroad. A list of these places will be published about March 1, 1940. Requests that the examinations be held at particular points should be transmitted to the Executive Secretary of the College Entrance Examination Board not later than February 1, 1940.

Detailed definitions of the requirements in all examination subjects are given in a circular of information published annually about December 1. Upon request to the Secretary of the College Entrance Examination Board a single copy of this document will be sent to any teacher without charge. In general, there will be a charge of thirty cents, which may be remitted in postage.

All candidates wishing to take these examinations should make application by mail to the Secretary of the College Entrance Examination Board, 431 West 117th Street, New York, N.Y. Blank forms for this purpose will be mailed by the Secretary of the Board to any teacher or candidate upon request by mail.

The applications and fees of all candidates who wish to take the examinations in June 1940 should reach the Secretary of the Board not later than the dates specified in the following schedule:

For examination centers

In the United States east of the Mississippi River or on the Mississippi.....	May 27, 1940
In the United States west of the Mississippi River or in Canada.....	May 20, 1940
Outside of the United States and Canada, except in Asia.....	May 6, 1940
In China or elsewhere in the Orient.....	April 22, 1940

An application which reaches the Secretary later than the scheduled date will be accepted only upon payment of $5 in addition to the regular examination fee of $10.

When a candidate has failed to obtain the required blank form of application, the regular examination fee will be accepted if the fee arrives not later than the date specified above and if it be accompanied by a memorandum with the name and address of the candidate, the exact examination center selected, and a list of the subjects in which the candidate is to take the Board examinations.

When the examination supplies of the local supervisor permit, candidates who have failed to file an application with the Secretary may be admitted, upon payment to the local supervisor of a fee of $5 in addition to the regular fee, to all examinations except the Scholastic Aptitude Test. Such candidates should present themselves at the beginning of the period of registration. A candidate who registers with the supervisor will receive from him a blank form of application and an identification card which must be filled out and handed to the supervisor for transmission to the Secretary of the Board.

In order to exhibit their tickets of admission, to present their identification cards, and to obtain seats in the examination room, candidates should report for a morning examination at 8:45 and for an afternoon examination at 1:45. An examination will close for candidates admitted late at the same time as for other candidates. The examinations will be held in accordance with the time (Standard Time or Daylight Saving Time) observed in the local schools.

No candidate will be admitted to the Scholastic Aptitude Test after the test has begun.

The Scholastic Aptitude Test may be taken upon the completion of the school course or at the end of the third year of secondary school work. Each candidate desiring to take this test, even though he is to take no other examination, must file with the Secretary of the Board the usual application for examination. Every candidate who registers for the test will receive a practice booklet containing a specimen test with blank spaces to be filled in by the candidate. In order to secure admission to the test, the candidate must present not only his ticket of admission but also this booklet with the spaces filled in as requested. If the Scholastic Aptitude Test is taken in connection with other examinations, no additional fee is required; if taken alone, the fee is $10.

Examinations of April 13, 1940

Candidates for Freshman scholarships and candidates for admission desiring early information on their status may take the Board's April Tests held in over one hundred and fifty cities in all parts of the United States. In some cases a satisfactory showing on these examinations may prove sufficient for admission. The examinations consist of a scholastic aptitude test and a general achievement test neither of which requires any particular program of study or special preparation. The scores are considered in relation to and in conjunction with the candidate's school record.

A fee of $10 is charged by the Board for these examinations applications for which must be filed with the Secretary not later than March 23, 1940. Candidates for examination west of the Mississippi and in foreign countries are required to file their applications not later than March 16, 1940. Applications will be accepted after these dates when it is possible to arrange for the examination of the candidates concerned, but only upon payment of $5 in addition to the regular fee.

Blank forms will be ready for distribution in January and should be secured from the Secretary of the Board. In addition to registering for the April Tests, applicants must inquire of the College as to whether or not they are eligible for scholarships. Information concerning the scholarships that may be available should be secured from the College.

Examinations of September 9-11, 1940

Examinations for emergency cases are held in September at a wide choice of examination centers. They may not be taken as preliminary examinations. No applicant should deliberately postpone his examinations until September as he can not be admitted at this time if the capacity of the College has already been reached. Applications for examination are due in the office of the Board not later than August 19, 1940; after that date applications will be accepted only on payment of a penalty fee of $5 in addition to the regular fee. Requests for the cancellation of applications and the refund of fees, in order to receive favorable consideration, should reach the office of the Board not later than September 2, 1940.

The schedule of examinations to be held in September, 1940, at the College Board examination centers, is as follows:

Monday, September 9

- 9 A.M. Scholastic Aptitude Test (verbal section only)
2 P.M. Science Test (Biology, Chemistry, or Physics)

Tuesday, September 10

- 9 A.M. Mathematics Attainment Test
2 P.M. English

Wednesday, September 11

- 9 A.M. Language Test (French, German, Latin, or Spanish)
2 P.M. American History

COURSES OF STUDY

Haverford College recognizes each matriculate as an individual whose training in the past and whose plans for the future may differentiate him from his fellows. The College accordingly lays out tentatively an individual plan of study for each student at the beginning of his Freshman year. This plan is confirmed or modified for each succeeding year.

In making each plan, the College directs Faculty members to see to it that the student takes in his Freshman and Sophomore years certain courses which are required in his case and that he distributes his limited electives so as to make the plan both broad and sound.

Haverford College confers at graduation the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science, the requirements for the two degrees being identical except in the matter of foreign languages.

The twenty-three courses to be taken before graduation may, for convenience, be distinguished thus, as explained in the pages immediately following:

Required.....	4
Limited Electives.....	5 or 6
(Foreign Language 1 or 2, others 4)
Major Concentration.....	6
Free Electives.....	8 or 7
Total.....	23

REQUIRED COURSES

Freshman English and Physical Education 1 are required of all Freshmen. Physical Education 2 and Physical Education 3 are required of all Sophomores and Juniors respectively.

LIMITED ELECTIVES

1. Each student who is a candidate for the Bachelor of Arts degree should present at entrance 4 units of Latin* and 2 units of another foreign language or 3 units of Greek and 2 units of another foreign language. After entrance he must pass one course in Greek or in Latin (except Latin A and Latin 1).

Each student who is a candidate for the Bachelor of Science degree should present at entrance 3 units of one foreign language and 2 of another. After entrance he must pass either one course in a language which he has presented for entrance or two courses in a third foreign language.

2. Each student must pass one course or two half-courses in Literature, either English or foreign, from the following list: English 3a, 4b, 5a, 8a, 12a, 12b, 13a, 14b, 16a, 16b, 17b, 18a, 21a, and 22b; French 3, 4, 6a, and 6b; German 3, 5a, 5b, 6, and 7b; Greek, 1, 2a, 2b, 3a, 3b, 4a, 4b, and 6b, and Latin 2, 3a, 3b, 4a, 4b, 5, 14a, and 14b.

3. Each student must pass one course involving laboratory work in Biology, Chemistry, or Physics.

4. Each student must pass one course or two half-courses chosen from Biblical Literature 1a, 2a, 3a, 3b, 4b, 5b; Philosophy 3a, 4, 5b, 7a, 7b, 9a, 10b, or Sociology 1a, 2b.

5. Each student must pass one course in Economics, Government, or History.

MAJOR CONCENTRATION*

A student may elect to major in any one of the following departments: Astronomy, Biblical Literature, Biology, Chemistry, Economics, Engineering, English, French, German, Government, Greek, History, Latin, Mathematics, Philosophy, Physics, Sociology.

Definite requirements of each department are stated under the name of the department on pages 30-55 and are understood as applying to the class of 1942. Before May first of his Sophomore year each student must confer with the Major Supervisor of the department in which he wishes to major, and must apply for written approval of a program of courses for the Junior and Senior years. Such a program must provide for the completion by the end of the Senior year of no fewer than six courses, at least three of which must have been in the major department and the others in closely related fields. Should the student's application be rejected by the department of his first choice, he must immediately apply in another. Failure to file with the Dean, before May first, a copy of his Major program, signed by his Major Supervisor, will entail a fine of $5. Any student who continues delinquent in this matter will be debarred from the final examinations in his Sophomore year. Should the student's application be rejected by all the departments to which he applies, he will not be promoted to the Junior Class.

In addition each Senior must take a special Major examination

* A fuller statement of the rules governing Major Concentration can be obtained from the Registrar.

(written, oral, or both) during the week preceding the final examination period. (Class work for Seniors will close on Saturday, three weeks prior to Commencement Day.) The passing grade for this examination is 70. In case of failure a candidate may, with the permission of his Major department, present himself for re-examination at a date (to be determined by the Major Supervisor) later than Commencement Day of the current year.

In order to allow time for preparation for the Major examination, any Senior may omit, with the consent of his Major Supervisor, one non-Major half-year course in the second half-year.

Mid-year and final examinations in the Major subject in courses taken in the Senior year may be omitted at the discretion of the Major Supervisor.

FREE ELECTIVES

A number of courses sufficient to bring the total to twenty-three shall be chosen by the student, with the understanding that for the Freshman and Sophomore years the College reserves the right through its advisers to prevent unreasonable combinations of courses but that in the Junior and Senior years the student will choose his free electives after consultation with his Major Supervisor, whose power outside the field of major concentration is, however, merely advisory.

Freshman Program

Although the advisers are instructed to lay out for each Freshman a plan of study suited to his special needs, the Faculty recommends in all usual cases that Freshmen take Freshman English (required), one or two foreign languages, and two or three courses chosen from History, Mathematics, and Science, not more than one in any one of those fields.

The courses open to Freshmen, in addition to the required work in English and Physical Education, are:

Biology 1 or 2	History 1
Chemistry 1 or 2	Latin A, 1, 2, 4
Engineering 1a, 1b	Mathematics 1
French A, 1 or 2	Physics 1
German A, 1, or 2	Spanish A or 1
Greek A, 1, or 2a, 2b

In special cases, Freshmen may be admitted to certain other courses with the consent of the Dean of Freshmen.

A Freshman will not be permitted to take more than five courses, in addition to Physical Education, except with special consent of the Faculty. As to requisite grades, see page 58.

Sophomore Program

Each Sophomore must take five courses, besides Physical Education, and may not take more than five, unless he receives the special consent of the Faculty, or is required to repeat or substitute a course, in which case he must obtain the consent of the Dean to take more than five courses. As to requisite grades, see page 58. The following courses* are open to Sophomores:

Astronomy 1a, 2	Greek A, 1, 2a, 2b, 3a, 3b, 4a, 4b, 5a,
Biblical Literature 1a, 2a, 3a, 3b, 4b, 5b	5b, 6b
Biology 1, 2, 3, 4, 5	History 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 10a, 11b
Chemistry 1, 2, 3, 4, 5b	Italian A, 1
Economics 1	Latin 1, 2, 4, 5, 10, 14, 15
Engineering A, 1a, 1b, 2a, 2b	Mathematics 2
English 3a, 4b	Music 1, 2
French A, 1, 2, 3	Philosophy 1a, 3a, 4, 6b, 7b, 9a, 10b
German A, 1, 2, 3, 4a	Physics 1, 2
Government 1	Sociology 1a, 2b
	Spanish A, 1

Junior Program

Each Junior must take five courses, besides Physical Education unless he receives the consent of the Faculty to take a greater number, or is required to repeat or substitute a course, in which case he must obtain the consent of the Dean to take more than five courses. A general average for the year of 70 is a prerequisite for promotion to the Senior class.

Senior Program

Each Senior must take five courses, unless he receives the consent of the Faculty to take a greater number or the consent of his Major Supervisor to drop one course in the second half-year, or unless he is required to repeat or substitute a course, in which case he must obtain the consent of the Dean to take more than five courses. A general average for the year of 70 is a prerequisite for graduation.

Special Cases

Whenever a student gives proof of special aims and abilities, the College is prepared to lay aside such requirements of the preceding plan as stand between him and the accomplishment of his aims.

CONFLICTING COURSES

A student is not allowed to elect conflicting courses, except with the permission of the Dean and the two instructors concerned. In case of conflict involving a repeated course the repeated course takes precedence.

* For prerequisites see the descriptions of the courses.

SPECIAL PLANS OF STUDY IN PREPARATION FOR PROFESSIONS

A large and increasing number of Haverford College students desire on graduation to enter upon courses of study fitting them for professions. For students desiring intensive preliminary training in engineering, medicine, and other highly specialized subjects, the College offers combinations of courses which admit to the best professional schools in the country with full standing, and in many cases with advanced credit.

To illustrate this feature of the curriculum there are presented on the following pages sample outlines of study for the four years, preparatory to specialization in Engineering, Medicine, Law, and Business Administration. Similar outlines might be prepared for other professions—Teaching, the Ministry, Journalism, Industrial Chemistry, etc. The student will in all cases consult with his Faculty Adviser and the professors concerned in his choice of courses.

N.B.—It is understood that each of the outlines following is a sample only, presenting one among many possibilities, and is not intended to be a prescribed program.

Preparation for Engineering.—Engineering today covers an extremely broad field of service, and there is accordingly no standard type of training suitable for all students preparing themselves for an engineering career.

Students not intending to enter the highly specialized fields of design and research will find the Haverford course ample for their needs. Graduates of Haverford who have majored in engineering are admitted to the student-engineers' courses of the leading industrial companies on equal terms with graduates of the larger engineering colleges.

A typical course in General Engineering similar to those variously announced as "Engineering Administration," "General Engineering," etc., is outlined immediately below.

FRESHMAN YEAR	SOPHOMORE YEAR
English Composition and Literature*	American Government
Foreign Language	Elementary Economics
Mathematics	Calculus
Inorganic Chemistry	General Physics
Principles of Engineering	Mechanism
Drawing and Shop Methods	Analytical
Engineering Orientation and Surveying	Physical Education*
Physical Education*

* Required of all students.

JUNIOR YEAR	SENIOR YEAR
Government and Business	American Literature
Transportation	Accounting
Psychology or Ethics	The Corporation
Qualitative Analysis	Industry and Society
Differential Equations	Statistics
Elements of Applied Electricity	Heat Engines
Alternating Currents	Strength of Materials
An elective	Mechanical Laboratory
Physical Education*	Internal Combustion Engines
	An elective

Preparation for Medicine.—A student intending to study medicine should plan his college course carefully in order to avoid conflicts between necessary courses and to avoid overloading with laboratory work in his Junior and Senior years. All the leading medical schools require the equivalent of the following Haverford courses: Freshman English, Biology 1, Chemistry 1, 2, 3 and 4, Physics 2 and either French 1 or German 1. Johns Hopkins University requires both French and German, and also elementary Latin. The University of Pennsylvania requires an additional course in English. Johns Hopkins and Harvard require the equivalent of Chemistry 8a. If American History has not been studied in school it must be taken in college in order to satisfy State Board requirements. There is no restriction as to what Major a pre-medical student may elect, since he can concentrate in almost any Major field, qualifying for either the A.B. or the S.B. degree, and at the same time complete the requirements for admission to medical school. The outline program which follows therefore merely indicates a suitable distribution of courses that are required or advised by medical schools. The electives must be so chosen as to satisfy Major concentration and other requirements for graduation, as well as any special requirements of the medical school to which application is to be made.

FRESHMAN YEAR	SOPHOMORE YEAR
English Composition and Literature*	General Zoölogy†
Elementary Inorganic Chemistry†	Advanced Inorganic Chemistry and Qualitative Analysis†
Mathematics	3 Electives
French or German†	Physical Education*
1 Elective
Physical Education*

JUNIOR YEAR	SENIOR YEAR
Chemistry—Quantitative Analysis	Comparative Anatomy
General Physics†	Physical Chemistry†
Organic Chemistry†	Advanced Organic Chemistry†
2 Electives	2½ Electives
Physical Education*

* Required of all students.

† Required for admission by most medical schools.

Preparation for the Law.—Even those law schools which require that a person must hold a college degree to be eligible for admission do not usually specify what studies he shall have pursued in his undergraduate course. It is obvious, however, that a choice of electives may be made which will be of great value to the student later in the study of law and in the practice of his profession. It is recommended that the following courses be included in a student's program. In the case of those advanced courses which are given only in alternate years some variation in this program may be necessary.

FRESHMAN YEAR

English Composition and Literature*
 Foreign Language, preferably Latin
 A Modern Foreign Language
 Mathematics
 English History

SOPHOMORE YEAR

American Government
 Elementary Economics
 Laboratory Science
 American, Mediaeval, or Modern History
 An Elective

JUNIOR YEAR

Elementary Psychology
 English Constitutional History
 Roman Law
 Government and Business
 International Relations
 Comparative Government
 Accounting
 Physical Education*

SENIOR YEAR

Ethics
 English Literature
 American, Mediaeval, or Modern History
 The Corporation
 Government Finance
 Money and Banking

Preparation for Business Administration.—Students planning to continue study at a graduate school of business administration or to engage directly in business should arrange their programs for their Freshman and Sophomore years as above suggested for those planning to study law, but for their Junior and Senior years the following courses are recommended.

JUNIOR YEAR

Industry and Society, and Human Relations in Industry
 Money and Banking
 Accounting
 The Corporation
 Advanced Composition
 Electives
 Physical Education*

SENIOR YEAR

Ethics
 Modern Economic Problems
 Transportation or International Trade and Finance
 Government and Business
 American or Modern History
 Electives

* Required of all students.

ART

1. Art and Culture of the Renaissance.—M. Tu. F. 11:30. DR. BERNHEIMER.

The field covered by this course is wider than its short title seems to indicate; for besides the development of Art in Italy from the 14th to the 16th century, that of the North in the same period will be studied. Emphasis will be laid upon the social and philosophical changes which accompany the changes in artistic style. The course will end with a short discussion of the baroque.

[Offered in 1939-40; not to be offered in 1940-41.]

2. Art since the Sixteenth Century.—M. Tu. F. 11:30. DR. BERNHEIMER.

This course gives a survey of European Art from the end of the Renaissance to the present day. Beginning with the great masters of the 16th century, who dominated the development of the following periods, it endeavors to do justice to such painters as Rembrandt, Rubens, Velasquez, without losing sight of the architectural developments of the Baroque. The second part of the course is devoted to an analysis of recent and contemporary art.

[Not offered in 1939-40; to be offered in 1940-41.]

ASTRONOMY

The William J. Strawbridge Memorial Observatory, newly built and equipped, affords students the means of becoming familiar with a variety of astronomical instruments, and of acquiring from actual observation a practical acquaintance with astronomy.

The equipment consists of two equatorially mounted telescopes with 10-inch and $4\frac{1}{2}$ -inch objectives respectively; a reflecting telescope with 8-inch mirror and altazimuth mounting; a meridian circie telescope of $3\frac{3}{4}$ -inch aperture; a zenith telescope of $2\frac{1}{4}$ -inch aperture; a spectrohelioscope; an astrographic mounting provided with a 4-inch Ross lens and a 4-inch guiding telescope; two clocks; a chronograph by Bond; charts, globes, and other instruments. The astronomical library is housed in the Observatory.

Major Requirements

Astronomy 2 and 4

Mathematics 1, 2, and 3, and Physics 2.

A comprehensive examination, partly oral, based on the subject matter of the above-named courses.

1a. Descriptive Astronomy.—M. W. F. 10:30, first half-year. MR. GUMMERE.

A culture class open to all students.

The leading facts of astronomy, with elementary explanation of the methods and instruments by which they are ascertained. A portion of the time is devoted to the study of the constellations, the handling of the telescopes, and simple problems.

2. Descriptive and Practical Astronomy.—Two class hours and one evening to be arranged. MR. GUMMERE.

This course covers the same ground as Astronomy 1a, together with practical work in the Observatory.

Use of sextant, transit, and equatorial; determination of instrumental constants, latitude, and time. The course is opened with a brief review of the essentials of spherical trigonometry. Prerequisite, Plane Trigonometry and Solid Geometry.

3a, 3b. Observational Astronomy.—Hours, to be arranged, either half-year. MR. GUMMERE.

The subject matter will be chosen to meet the needs of the students. Prerequisite, Astronomy 2.

4. Celestial Mechanics and Orbit Determination.—Hours, to be arranged, throughout the year. MR. GUMMERE.

An introduction to mathematical astronomy. Prerequisite, Astronomy 2, Mathematics 3, or in conjunction with Mathematics 3.

BIBLICAL LITERATURE

A gift has made possible field explorations and excavations which have yielded considerable archaeological material. Many objects illustrative of the life in biblical lands have been gathered in the Museum which is at present on the third floor of Sharpless Hall.

Major Requirements

Six half-year courses in Biblical Literature.

Six other half-year courses in either Biblical Literature or related departments.

Special study of one selected Biblical field, e.g., history, literature, the Old or New Testament.

A comprehensive examination covering the history, literature, and criticism of the Bible; and the religious and moral life of the Hebrews, Jews, and Christians.

1a. Introduction to the Old and New Testaments.—M. F. 2:30; W. 11:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR FLIGHT.

The literature of the Bible with its historical background.

2a. The Rise of Christianity.—Tu. Th. S. 8:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR FLIGHT.

A study of the background, early development and spread of the Christian movement as reflected in the New Testament, particularly in the book of Acts and the letters of Paul.

[Offered in 1939-40; not to be offered in 1940-41.]

3a. Ancient History of the Near East.—M. W. F. 10:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR FLIGHT.

The Beginnings of Western Civilization in the Cultures of the Near East; Archaeological and Historical.

3b. Development of Christian Thought within the Bible.—Tu. Th. S. 10:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR FLIGHT.

A study of the origins and development of the basic ideas in the teaching of religious leaders from the prophets to Paul.

4b. Comparative Religion.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR FLIGHT.

A comparative study of the great living religions, their founders, their scriptures, their characteristic ideas and ideals.

[Offered in 1939-40; not to be offered in 1940-41.]

5b. The English Bible.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR FLIGHT.

History and literary art of the English Bible, particularly the King James version and its influence on general literature.

[Not offered in 1939-40; to be offered in 1940-41.]

6a or 6b. Biblical and Oriental Conference.—Hours to be arranged, either half-year. PROFESSOR FLIGHT.

Individual work to be elected by the student from one or more of the following divisions of the field: literature, archaeology, history, philosophy. Prerequisite, other work in the department, in which a grade of B has been attained.

8. Hebrew.—Hour to be arranged. PROFESSOR FLIGHT.

Grammar, composition, and reading of simple Old Testament prose.

BIOLOGY

As a prerequisite for Graduate work in Biology, most graduate schools require a reading knowledge of French and German, Chemistry 2, Physics 2, and at least Biology 1 and 2. For experimental Biology, Chemistry 4 is necessary. For work in natural history, Geology 1 may be substituted for Physics 2.

Major Requirements

Biology 1, 2, 7, and one of 3, 4, and 5.

Two courses chosen from Physics 2, Chemistry 2, and Geology 1.

Reading and reporting on approximately 15 biological books, besides those read in connection with courses. This is to be done at any time between the end of sophomore year and date of the comprehensive examination.

A comprehensive examination on the courses taken and the reading done is required to be passed. This examination will be partly written (approximately 4 hours), and partly oral.

1. General Zoölogy.—Lectures, Tu. S. 11:30; laboratory, W. F. 1:05-3:30. PROFESSOR DUNN and MR. HENRY.

The lectures of this course include a survey of the structure and relationships of animals, of the fundamental principles of living organisms, and an outline of the more important questions relating to evolution, heredity, and distribution. The laboratory periods are devoted to obtaining an acquaintance with the more important types of animal life. Two lectures and two laboratory periods a week.

2. General Botany.—Lectures, W. F. 8:30; laboratory, Tu. Th. 1:05-3:30. MR. HENRY.

The laboratory work of this course consists of the dissection and study of typical representatives of the principal groups of plants. Two lecture or recitation and two laboratory periods a week.

3. Comparative Anatomy of Vertebrates.—Lecture, Th. 10:30; laboratory, Tu. Th. 1:05-3:30. PROFESSOR DUNN.

The laboratory work of this course includes the dissection of a specimen of each of the major types of vertebrates. The lectures deal with the origin, status, and evolution of the organ systems of vertebrates. One lecture and two laboratory periods a week. Prerequisite, Biology 1.

4. Local Flora.—Lecture, F. 11:30; laboratory hours to be arranged. MR. HENRY.

The work of this course consists of the identification of representative Angiosperms, together with the study of their taxonomy and distribution. Collecting in the field will supplement laboratory work. One lecture and two laboratory periods a week. Prerequisite, Biology 2.

[Not offered in 1939-40; to be offered in 1940-41.]

5. Entomology.—Lecture, F. 11:30; laboratory hours to be arranged. MR. HENRY.

This course has been designed to give the student a knowledge of the anatomy and physiology of insects. The laboratory work consists of the dissection of a representative of each of the larger Orders. Particular emphasis is placed on the structures used in identification and permanent mounts are made of many of them. The preparation of local collection is required as part of the work. One lecture and two laboratory periods a week. Prerequisite, Biology 1.

[Offered in 1939-40; not to be offered in 1940-41.]

7. Evolution Heredity, and Other General Biological Problems.—Tu. Th. S. 8:30. PROFESSOR DUNN.

This is a general cultural course, intended not only for students of Biology, but for all who wish to be informed on current biological matters, especially students of Sociology, Philosophy and History, and of other Sciences. Special emphasis is given to the modern theories of evolution and of heredity. Open, without prerequisite, to Juniors and Seniors.

[Not offered in 1939-40; to be offered in 1940-41.]

10. Seminar Courses.—Hours to be arranged. Required of candidates for Honors in Biology.

Open only by permission of the Instructor.

Vertebrate Zoölogy—Classification and evolution of vertebrate groups. Prerequisite, Biology 1; Biology 3 or with Biology 3. PROFESSOR DUNN.

Advanced Morphology—Study of morphological problems in animals. Prerequisite, Biology 3. PROFESSOR DUNN.

Ecology and Distribution—Problems of habitat relationships of geographical relationship of plants and/or animals. Prerequisite, Biology 1 or Biology 2. PROFESSOR DUNN and MR. HENRY.

Genetics—Problems of Genetics. Primarily for Graduate Students. PROFESSOR DUNN.

Advanced Botany—Studies in comparative anatomy of plants. Prerequisite, Biology, 2, 4. MR. HENRY.

CHEMISTRY

Students planning to do graduate work in chemistry are advised to complete at least the following courses in other departments: French 1, German 1, Mathematics 2, and Physics 3. Courses in chemistry required for admission to most medical schools are 1, 2, 3, 4, 5b; to meet the requirements for admission to Harvard or Johns Hopkins medical school, course 8a must be taken also. Courses 4, 5b, 6, 7a, 7b, 8a, 9b, 10a and 10b, may be taken for credit by Graduate Students.

In addition to the laboratory fee referred to on page 64, each student is required to make a deposit of $10 to cover breakage and other special charges. This deposit must be paid before a laboratory desk is assigned. Any balance remaining is refunded at the end of the year.

Major Requirements

Chemistry 2, 3, 4, 5.

Two courses in related departments.

Additional reading on history of chemistry and on recent developments in chemistry.

Senior Chemistry Majors will meet with members of the department for a critical discussion of the chemical principles and their applications studied in the required Major courses.

The major examination consists of a detailed examination on the subject matter of Chemistry 2, 3, 4, 5, and, in part, Chemistry 1, and a comprehensive examination covering the same general field together with the historical background and recent developments.

Candidates for Final Honors in chemistry are expected to do work additional to that of the courses selected from: sight translation of chemical German; semimicro qualitative analysis; history of chemistry; glassblowing; blowpipe analysis; chemical microscopy; special topics in inorganic chemistry.

1. Elementary Inorganic Chemistry.—Lectures, Tu. Th. and occasionally S. 9:30; laboratory, Tu. or W. 1:05-3:30. MR. CADBURY.

Primarily for Freshmen and Sophomores who have not had chemistry in preparatory school. Limited to thirty-two students. Additional reading required of Juniors and Seniors.

Lectures and laboratory work dealing with the preparation, properties, and uses of the more common elements and their compounds; fundamental laws and theories; and the general principles of chemistry applied to industrial processes.

2. Advanced Inorganic Chemistry and Qualitative Analysis.—Lectures, Tu. Th. and occasionally S. 9:30; laboratory, Tu. Th. or two periods from M. W. F. 1:05-3:30. PROFESSOR MELDRUM, DR. JONES and MR. HAWLEY.

Primarily for Freshmen and Sophomores who have had chemistry in preparatory school or who have passed Chemistry 1. Fundamental laws and theories. Reaction velocity and equilibrium. Theories of ionization and atomic structure applied to explain solution and electrolytic phenomena and the mechanism of chemical reactions. Qualitative analysis using macro and semimicro methods constitutes the laboratory work.

3. Quantitative Analysis.—Lectures, Tu. and Th. 10:30; laboratory, M. W. or Tu. Th. 1:05-3:30. PROFESSOR MELDRUM and DR. JONES.

Lectures on the general principles of gravimetric, volumetric, electrolytic, and other methods of analysis. In the laboratory, typical methods are applied. Prerequisite, Chemistry 2 and Mathematics 1.

4. Organic Chemistry.—Lectures, M. W. and occasionally F. 10:30; laboratory, M. W. or Tu. Th. 1:05-3:30. PROFESSOR MELDRUM and MR. BRICKER.

A study of aliphatic, aromatic, and heterocyclic compounds. Prerequisite, Chemistry 2.

5b. Physical Chemistry.—Lectures, Tu. Th. S. 8:30; laboratory, Th. or F. 1:05-3:30, second half-year. MR. CADBURY.

An introductory course adapted to the requirements of pre-medical students. Gases; colloids and adsorption; osmotic pressure and other properties of solutions; the phase rule; conductance, electromotive force, and hydrogen ion concentration; reaction velocity and catalysis. Prerequisite, Chemistry 3.

[A full year course after 1939-40.]

6a, 6b. Special Topics in Theoretical Chemistry.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR MELDRUM and MR. CADBURY.

Open only to graduate students.

7a, 7b. Advanced Physical Chemistry.—Lectures, M. W. F. 9:30. MR. CADBURY.

Thermodynamics and its application in physical chemistry. Photochemistry. Modern theories of solutions. Applications of the modern theories of atomic structure. Prerequisite, Chemistry 2, Mathematics 2, and Chemistry 5b or Physics 2.

Laboratory work, to be arranged, is substituted for part of the class work.

8a. Advanced Organic Chemistry.—Lectures, W. F. 8:30; laboratory, W. or Th. 1:05–3:30, first half-year. DR. JONES.

Organic analysis constitutes the laboratory work.

9b. Advanced Quantitative Analysis.—Reading, reports, and laboratory work; laboratory, two periods from M. Tu. W. 1:05–3:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR MELDRUM.

10a, 10b. Chemistry Research.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR MELDRUM, MR. CADBURY, and DR. JONES.

Open only to chemistry majors and graduate students in chemistry. May be elected as one or more courses.

ECONOMICS

Economics 1 is elective for Sophomores and is prerequisite to all other courses in economics. It may be taken by Juniors and Seniors only with the permission of the professor in charge.

Major Requirements

Six half-year courses in Economics in addition to Economics 1.

Sociology 1a, and three other half-year courses in supporting fields, as approved by the professors concerned.

Selected readings on the history of economic thought and on current economic problems.

A seven-hour comprehensive examination covering a review of the major courses and the readings. A part of the comprehensive examination may be oral.

1. Elementary Economics.

Section 1—M. W. F. 8:30. PROFESSOR TEAF.

Section 2—M. W. F. 9:30. PROFESSOR FETTER.

Section 3—M. W. F. 11:30. PROFESSOR TEAF.

(The three sections will meet together occasionally at the 11:30 hour on Wednesday. All students electing the course must have this hour free.)

The purpose of this course is to acquaint the student with the main features of modern economic life, and to develop an understanding of the principles underlying economic relationships. Emphasis is laid on the application of these principles to present day problems.

2a. Industry and Society.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR WATSON.

A sociological appraisal of modern industrialism. The course includes a detailed study of certain social problems, such as wages, hours of labor, unemployment, and other forms of economic insecurity, to discover, if possible, any causal connection between them and industry as such. The wider implications of the Machine Age are examined, together with proposed antidotes and remedies for its alleged evils.

Also called Sociology 4a.

3b. Human Relations in Industry.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR WATSON.

A study of business organization and the philosophy of management, with special reference to the fields of personnel administration and industrial relations. The course surveys scientific management since Taylor and includes an analysis of the nature, objects, and technique of labor management, employee representation, and plans of union-management cooperation. Prerequisite, Economics 2a.

Also called Sociology 5b.

4a. Money and Banking.—M. Tu. F. 11:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR FETTER.

A study of the history and principles of money, credit, and banking, with particular reference to American conditions. Such problems as monetary standards, price movements and their effects, foreign exchange, commercial banking, central banking and the Federal Reserve System, are considered.

5b. International Trade and Finance.—M. Tu. F. 11:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR FETTER.

A study of foreign trade and exchange, international payments and trade problems connected therewith, money and banking in their international aspects, and international indebtedness. Prerequisite, Economics 4a.

6b. The Corporation.—M. W. F. 9:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR TEAF.

Economic functions and legal responsibilities of the corporation and its members; fixed capital, and the analysis of financial statements; policies involving surplus, reserves, dividends, etc.; expansion, combination, and reorganization. Social problems created by the growth of corporations are given special attention. Prerequisite, Economics 11a.

7b. Transportation.—M. W. F. 10:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR FETTER.

A study of the historical development and present status of railroads, inland waterways, and highway and air transportation in the United States. Among the problems discussed are public regulation of common carriers; rate making; valuation, consolidation, and intercorporate relations of railroads; the relation of railroads to other transportation agencies.

8b. Government Finance.—M. W. F. 8:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR HERNDON.

A study of the general principles of public expenditures, public revenues, public indebtedness, and financial administration, and of the principles of equity in the distribution of tax burdens.

Also called Government 8b.

[Not offered in 1939-40; to be offered in 1940-41.]

9a. Modern Economic Problems.—Tu. Th. S. 8:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR FETTER.

A study of selected economic problems of modern times, with special attention to their relation to economic theory. A conference course limited to ten students.

10a. Government and Business.—M. W. F. 10:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR TEAF.

A study of the historical development, economic basis, and the present problems of the regulation of business organization and policies by government. Special attention is given to such topics as the trust movement, anti-trust legislation, the Federal Trade Commission, competitive practices, cartels and trade associations, and the regulation of securities and securities exchanges.

Also called Government 10a.

11a. Accounting.—M. W. F. 9:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR TEAF.

The balance sheet and statement of profit and loss, the classification of accounts, the theory of debit and credit, the books of original entry and of record, opening and closing the books, corporation accounts, reserves, etc. Discussion is accompanied by practice problems. This course is intended to provide an understanding of accounting sufficient for students going into the professions as well as a foundation for advanced accounting courses for those who will go into business.

15a, 15b. Seminar.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSORS FETTER and TEAF.

Readings, reports, and conferences on selected topics, to meet the individual needs of graduate students.

ENGINEERING

The engineering courses are designed to give a thorough training in fundamental engineering principles and, as far as practicable, to illustrate the application of these principles to their associated industries.

The courses are conducted in the Hilles Laboratory of Applied Science, a modern building containing offices, classrooms, drawing rooms, a departmental library, mechanical and electrical laboratories, locker rooms, etc.

Exceptional facilities for observing the practical side of the work are offered by the many manufacturing companies in and near Philadelphia, and frequent inspection trips are made.

The lack of a general or broad education and of thoroughness in fundamentals has been universally recognized as limiting the usefulness and opportunities of many in the engineering profession. To provide against these deficiencies students electing courses in engineering will be required to pursue studies of a general nature (history, ethics, economics, languages, etc.) throughout the four years, and to concentrate largely on mathematics, physics, and chemistry, the fundamentals of all engineering. This combination of breadth with thorough groundwork prepares the way for the highest professional development.

By a careful selection of electives from the several departments, a student should be able to meet the fundamental requirements of any branch of engineering activity which he may later undertake.* Haverford graduates who desire more specialized training before entering the active work of the profession are granted substantial credit toward advanced standing in technical institutions or are admitted to their graduate schools.

The specific courses offered are described below; but, in addition, others may be arranged to cover special needs. Application for admission to such courses should be made to the professor in charge. Engineering 10 and 11 may be counted as courses in Physics for the purpose of satisfying any curriculum requirements.

Major Requirements

Engineering 1a, 1b, 2b, 4a, 5b, 10a, 10b.

Mathematics 2, Physics 2 and two additional half-year courses from Engineering, Mathematics, Physics, or Chemistry.

An active interest in current professional work.

Comprehensive examination.

* See p. 27 for sample schedule in General Engineering

A. Shop Methods.—Hours to be arranged, first or second half-year. MR. RANTZ.

Machine-tool work on the lathe, planer, milling machine, shaper, etc. Modern production methods; costs and time studies. Prerequisite, Engineering 1. Reference library.

1a. Principles of Engineering Drawing and Shop Methods.—Drawing Tu. Th. 1:05–3:30; shop period and inspection trips to be arranged, first half-year. DR. HETZEL and MR. RANTZ.

Lettering, conventions, projection, perspective, sketching, detail and assembly drawings, checking and blue printing. Text: Giesecke, Mitchell and Spencer, Technical Drawing. Woodworking, pattern and foundry work in shop. Reference library.

1b. Engineering Orientation.—Tu. Th. 1:05–3:30; shop period and inspection trips to be arranged, second half-year. PROFESSORS RITTENHOUSE, HOLMES, DR. HETZEL and MR. RANTZ.

The purpose of this course is to inform students as to the nature and scope of various fields of engineering and to acquaint them with typical engineering equipment and problems. Exercises and machine-tool work, in plane surveying and in the mechanical and electrical laboratories. Discussions and reports. Reference library.

2a. Mechanism.—Tu. Th. 10:30; laboratory, W. 1:05–3:30, first half-year. DR. HETZEL.

Velocity diagrams, quick return motions, transmission gears, cams, etc. Two recitations and one drafting room period a week. Text: Schwamb, Merrill, and James, Elements of Mechanism.

2b. Analytical Mechanics.—Tu. Th. S. 10:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR HOLMES.

A study of forces and moments of forces; determination of stresses in trusses and cranes; centroids and center of gravity; rectilinear and curvilinear motion; translation and rotation of bodies; work, power, and energy; impulse and momentum; balancing and moments of inertia. Text: Seely and Ensign, Analytical Mechanics for Engineers. Prerequisite or parallel course, Mathematics 2.

3a or 3b. Descriptive Geometry.—Hours to be arranged; PROFESSOR HOLMES.

Advanced orthographic projections; applications to engineering structures. Theory and plates.

4a. Heat Engineering.—M. W. F. 8:30; laboratory period and inspection trips to be arranged, first half-year. PROFESSOR HOLMES and DR. HETZEL.

This course includes a study of steam and gas engines, turbines, condensers, air-compressors, steam boilers, power-plant economies, and cost of power. The thermodynamic principles involved are considered in the first part of the course. Text: Severns and Degler, Steam, Air and Gas Power.

In general, one laboratory period a week is required. The laboratory exercises parallel the classroom work and include boiler and engine testing, fuel tests, gas analyses, calibration of instruments, etc. Comprehensive reports for each test are required. Reference library.

5a. Materials of Engineering.—Two class hours, laboratory periods and inspection trips to be arranged, first half-year. PROFESSOR HOLMES.

A study of the production and engineering properties of metals, their alloys and the more important non-metallic materials. Laboratory exercises on the testing machine, heat treatment, microscopic study of metals and alloys, hardness testing, etc. Text: Mills, Materials of Construction. Reference library.

[Not offered in 1939–40; to be offered in 1940–41.]

5b. Strength of Materials.—W. F. 8:30; laboratory period and inspection trips to be arranged; second half-year. PROFESSOR HOLMES and MR. RANTZ.

A study of stress and strain; of beams and columns; of shafting; of girders, trusses, combined stresses, etc. A series of tests on the screw testing-machine is made by each student. Text: Laurson and Cox, Mechanics of Materials.

6b. Internal Combustion Engines.—Hours to be arranged, second half-year. DR. HETZEL.

A course on gasoline and Diesel engines, with particular attention to thermodynamics and the subject of fuels. Special topics may be arranged according to the interests of the group. Lectures, assigned reading, problems, laboratory experiments, inspection trips. Text: Lichty, Internal Combustion Engines.

7a. Fluid Mechanics.—Three class hours with occasional laboratory tests, first half-year. PROFESSOR HOLMES.

The properties of fluids; statics and dynamics of compressible and incompressible fluids; accelerated liquids in relative equilibrium; Reynolds' number; Bernoulli's theorem; flow of fluids in pipes, orifices and nozzles; flow with a free surface in channels and weirs; impulse and momentum in fluids; resistance of immersed and floating bodies; cavitation and dynamic similitude. Text: Dodge and Thompson, Fluid Mechanics.

8a or 8b. Mechanical Laboratory.—Hours to be arranged, first or second half-year. PROFESSOR HOLMES and DR. HETZEL.

Operation, testing, and theory of steam, gas, hydraulic, and air machinery. Two periods of experimental work per week with reports on each test. If taken as 8a, the course may be continued through the second half-year by arrangement. Prerequisite, Engineering 4a. Reference library.

10a. Elements of Applied Electricity.—M. Tu. F. 11:30; laboratory, W. or Th. 1:05-3:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR RITTENHOUSE.

This course while fundamental to the more advanced electrical courses is adapted to the needs of those students desiring practical experience with the common applications of electricity. It includes a study of circuits, d.c. generators and motors, lamps, heaters, etc. The instruction is carried on by textbook and laboratory work. Text: Cook, Elements of Electrical Engineering.

10b. Alternating Current Theory and Practice.—M. F. 11:30; laboratory, W. or Th. 1:05-3:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR RITTENHOUSE.

A continuation of course 10a, with a more detailed study of alternating currents including applications to power and communication apparatus.

11a. Electrical, Magnetic and Communication Circuits.—Hours to be arranged, first half-year. PROFESSOR RITTENHOUSE and DR. HETZEL.

Circuit theory and laboratory work covering electronic tubes, rectifiers, amplifiers, oscillators, magnetic circuits, polyphase circuits, etc. Text: Weinbach, Alternating Current Circuits.

11b. Electrical Circuits and Measurements.—Hours to be arranged, second half-year. PROFESSOR RITTENHOUSE and DR. HETZEL.

A continuation of course 11a with a selection from a wide line of communication, power and electronic apparatus.

15a, 15b. Special Projects in Engineering.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSORS RITTENHOUSE and HOLMES and DR. HETZEL.

Students majoring in Engineering are encouraged to do individual work in special fields of investigation. Each student devotes the time equivalent to one or two semester courses in comprehensive reading and experimental work on some particular topic.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

The unrestricted courses in literature (not marked with asterisks) are non-technical, and the books are studied without extensive reference to the continuity of literary history. The courses marked with asterisks, though not necessarily more difficult, involve a more thorough study of literary history, and are designed primarily for students majoring in literature or in a closely related field.

Major Requirements

An individual program equal to six full-year courses, made up principally from the starred English courses with the approval of the Major Supervisor, and stressing Elizabethan and nineteenth-century literature. Greek 6b is usually required.

English Aa. Methods and Techniques of College Work.—Lecture M. 8:30, and one additional hour to be arranged, first half-year. MR. LESTER assisted by MR. WATSON.

This course is used to make sure that students have been adequately prepared in the routines that the faculty believes necessary for efficient college work. These routines are specified as follows:

1. The use of a library
2. The standard forms and principles of documentation
3. Elementary research
4. An elementary knowledge of logical methods and their occurrence in college work
5. A practical skill in expository writing

Students can obtain release from this work as soon as they satisfy the instructors of their proficiency, though normally this is not before the end of the first quarter.

No numerical grade is recorded for this course: the student is reported as "satisfactory" or "unsatisfactory."

Public Speaking Aa.—One hour to be arranged, first half-year. PROFESSOR MONTGOMERY.

A diagnosis of the student's voice and speech needs, with recommendations for their improvement. Instruction and practice in extemporaneous speaking.

Students cannot normally obtain release from this work.

No numerical grade is recorded for this course: the student is reported as "satisfactory" or "unsatisfactory."

N.B. English Aa and Public Speaking Aa, although under the direction of the English Department, are fundamental to the entire curriculum of the College and not only to the English Department's plan of courses in literature.

English 1a. Advanced Freshman English.—Hours to be arranged, first half-year. Elective for those students who satisfy the instructor and the administration of their eligibility for advanced work. MR. LESTER.

The course is open only to Graduate Students.

GREEK*

Students presenting two units of Greek for entrance (see page 18) will be admitted to Greek 1; those who have passed three units, to Greek 2.

Major Requirements

Greek 2, 3, and two half-year courses from Greek 4a, 4b, 5a, 5b, 6b, and History 10.

Three additional courses to be arranged in conference with Professor Post.

If Greek 1 is not taken in college, an additional half-course will be required.

A comprehensive examination on Greek language and literature, Greek history and Greek civilization.

A. Elementary Greek.—M. W. F. 9:30 PROFESSOR POST and DR. WALTON.

Thorough study of the elements of the language followed by the reading of simple Attic prose. This course gives adequate preparation for Greek 1.

1. Intermediate Greek.—M. Tu. F. 11:30. PROFESSOR POST.

A rapid reading course in such authors as Homer, Herodotus, and Euripides.

2a, 2b. Advanced Intermediate Greek.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30. PROFESSOR POST.

Selections from Plato, Menander, Aristophanes, and the tragedians are read.

3a, 3b. Advanced Greek.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR POST.

The instructor will arrange with students electing this course for systematic study of special subjects in Greek philosophy, history, or literature in connection with the reading of Greek authors.

4a, 4b. Advanced Greek.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR POST.

A continuation of the work done in Greek 3.

5a, 5b. Advanced Greek Prose Composition.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR POST.

This course should be taken by all candidates for final honors in Greek.

6b. Greek Literature in English.—M. W. F. 8:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR POST.

Lectures on Greek literature. Reading of Greek poetry, drama, and literary criticism in translation. Essays and discussions. No knowledge of Greek is required in this course, but a general acquaintance with English literature is essential.

HISTORY

Major Requirements

Four full-year courses (or three full-year courses and two half-year courses) in History.

Two full-year courses or their equivalent in related departments.

Four review examinations of three hours each.

1. English History.—M. W. F. 10:30. PROFESSOR LUNT.

A survey of political, constitutional, economic, and social history, intended as an introductory course. Open to Freshmen and Sophomores.

2. Foundations of the United States, 1492–1865.—M. W. F. 8:30. PROFESSOR DRAKE.

Lectures, reading, and discussion in American colonial and early national history. Not open to Freshmen.

3. National Development of the United States, 1865 to the Present.—Tu. Th. S. 8:30. PROFESSOR DRAKE.

A study of institutional growth, with the larger social and political issues of the present considered in their historical setting. A lecture, reading, and discussion course as described in History 2. Intended primarily for Juniors and Seniors.

4. English Constitutional History.—M. W. F. 9:30. PROFESSOR LUNT.

A study of the formation and growth of English institutions, designed to be useful particularly to those who are interested in government and law. Elective for Juniors, Seniors, and Graduates.

[Offered in 1939–40; not to be offered in 1940–41.]

5. Mediaeval History.—M. W. F. 9:30. PROFESSOR LUNT.

A survey of the history of Europe from the time of the barbarian invasions to about 1500. Elective for Juniors, Seniors, and Graduates. Sophomores who have had History 1 may also enter this course. Graduate students should have a reading knowledge of Latin, French or German.

[Not offered in 1939–40; to be offered in 1940–41.]

6. Modern European History.—M. W. F. 1:30. PROFESSOR LUNT.

A survey of the history of Europe from about 1500 to the present. Elective for Juniors and Seniors. Sophomores who have had History 1 may enter the course.

[Offered in 1939–40; not to be offered in 1940–41.]

10a. Greek History.—Tu. 7:30–10:30 P.M., first-half year. DR. WALTON.

A survey of Greek history, with frequent reports on the art, archaeology, and political institutions of Greece. A knowledge of Greek is not required. Not open to Freshmen.

11b. Roman History.—Hours to be arranged, second half-year. DR. WALTON.

A survey of Roman history to the time of Constantine. Frequent class reports on special topics. A knowledge of Latin is not required. Not open to Freshmen.

ITALIAN

A. Elementary Italian.—M. W. F. 1:30. PROFESSOR WILLIAMSON.

Grammar, composition, and reading. Not open to Freshmen.

[Not offered in 1939–40; to be offered in 1940–41.]

1. Italian Literature.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR WILLIAMSON.

The Divina Commedia and Italian classics both in the classroom and as outside work. Prerequisite, Italian A.

LATIN*

Students who have passed 2 units of Latin for entrance (see page 18) will be admitted to Latin A; those who have passed 3 units, to Latin A or 1, depending on whether they have studied Vergil or Cicero in their third year; those who have passed 4 units, to Latin 2, which is the course required for the A.B. degree (unless a student is qualified to take a higher course, or unless he takes Greek instead of Latin).

Major Requirements

Four full-year courses in Latin.

Two such additional full-year courses in other departments as are arranged in conference between the student and Professors Lockwood and H. Comfort.

A comprehensive examination focused on Roman history, literature, and civilization, and the classical heritage of mediaeval and modern times.

A. Third Year Latin.—Hours to be arranged. DR. WALTON.

Cicero. Limited to those who have never studied Cicero.

1. Fourth Year Latin.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR POST and DR. WALTON.

Vergil. Limited to those who have never studied Vergil.

2. Survey of Classical Roman Literature.—PROFESSOR LOCKWOOD and DR. WALTON.

Section 1—M. F. 9:30; W. 11:30.

Section 2—M. F. 2:30; W. 11:30.

Rapid reading of classical authors from Plautus to Suetonius. This course supplements the intensive foundation work of the preparatory school with extensive reading over a broader range of Latin literature illustrating Greco-Roman life and thought. Emphasis will be laid on literary history and appreciation.

3a. Roman Drama.—Hours to be arranged, first half-year. PROFESSOR H. COMFORT.

Plautus, Terence, Seneca.

[Not offered in 1939-40; to be offered in 1940-41.]

3b. Roman Imperial Prose.—Hours to be arranged, second half-year. PROFESSOR H. COMFORT.

Petronius, Tacitus, Pliny's Letters.

[Not offered in 1939-40; to be offered in 1940-41.]

4a. Roman Historians.—Suggested hours, Tu. Th. S. 10:30, first half-year. DR. WALTON.

Livy, Caesar, Cicero's Letters.

[Offered in 1939-40; not to be offered in 1940-41.]

* See also History 11b.

4b. Poetry of the Golden Age.—Suggested hours, Tu. Th. S. 9:30, second half-year. DR. WALTON.

Catullus, Vergil, Horace, Ovid.

[Offered in 1939-40; not to be offered in 1940-41.]

Any of the following courses may be repeated with change of content, for full credit.

5. Survey of European Latin Literature.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR LOCKWOOD.

Rapid reading of selections from the post-classical, Christian, mediaeval, and modern Latin writers; study of the phases of European civilization represented in Latin letters.

10a or 10b. Prose Composition.—Hours to be arranged, either half-year. PROFESSOR LOCKWOOD.

Required of candidates for Final Honors in Latin.

14a or 14b. Readings in Latin Literature.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR LOCKWOOD.

Individual work. Each student may select a field of reading which is correlated with his other college courses (e.g., in philosophy, history, Romance languages, or English literature) or he may pursue more intensive work in one of the periods or one of the literary types surveyed in Latin 2, 3a, 3b, 4a, 4b, or 5.

15. Roman Law.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR LOCKWOOD.

Reading of selections from the Institutes, the Digest, and other texts and sources of Roman Law.

MATHEMATICS

Freshmen who have passed courses in Solid Geometry and Trigonometry will be placed in an advanced section of Mathematics 1.

Mathematics 3 should be taken by students contemplating advanced work in Chemistry, Engineering, or Physics.

Major Requirements

Mathematics 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6a, and 10b.

Prescribed parallel reading on the history and general principles of Mathematics.

Three written comprehensive examinations, each three hours in length. An oral examination will be required of candidates for final honors.

It is recommended that facility in reading French and German be acquired as early in the College Course as possible.

1. Freshman Mathematics.—M. F. 11:30, Tu. Th. 8:30. PROFESSORS OAKLEY and ALLENDOERFER and DR. BETZ.

Plane trigonometry, including logarithms and the solution of triangles, with applications. Topics in Algebra, including complex numbers, combinations and permutations, determinants, and the elements of the theory of equations. Solid Geometry: lines and planes, solid angles, and the sphere. Analytic Geometry: general methods, with applications to conic sections and other curves; introduction to geometry of three dimensions.

2. Calculus.—M. W. F. 8:30. PROFESSOR ALLENDOERFER and DR. BETZ.
Differential and Integral Calculus, with applications. Prerequisite, Mathematics 1.

3. Advanced Calculus and Differential Equations.—M. W. F. 8:30. PROFESSOR OAKLEY.

Prerequisite, Mathematics 2.

4a, 4b. Introduction to Higher Algebra.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR ALLENDOERFER.

Prerequisite, Mathematics 2.

[Not offered in 1939–40; to be offered in 1940–41.]

5a, 5b. Introduction to Higher Geometry.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSOR ALLENDOERFER.

Prerequisite, Mathematics 2.

[Offered in 1939–40; not to be offered in 1940–41.]

6a. Partial Differential Equations and Fourier Series.—Hours to be arranged. DR. BETZ.

Problem course, with many applications to Chemistry, Engineering and Physics. Prerequisite, Mathematics 3.

8a. Introduction to Statistics.—M. W. F. 10:30. PROFESSOR OAKLEY.

Tabular and graphic methods, frequency distribution, averages, measures of central tendency, dispersion and skewness, correlation. Lectures and laboratory. Prerequisite, Mathematics 1.

[Offered in 1939–40; not to be offered in 1940–41.]

9b. Advanced Statistics, Elementary Probabilities and Finite Differences.—M. W. F. 10:30. PROFESSOR OAKLEY.

This course is designed for students who are interested in statistical and actuarial work. Prerequisite, Mathematics 2 and 8a.

[Offered in 1939–40; not to be offered in 1940–41.]

10a or 10b. Special topics.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSORS OAKLEY and ALLENDOERFER.

The content of this course may vary from year to year to suit the needs of advanced students. May be repeated for credit.

MUSIC

1. Introduction to Music, Analysis of Musical Forms, and Historical Survey.—M. Tu. F. 11:30. PROFESSOR SWANN.

As indicated above, the purpose of the course is a three-fold one: to define and clarify the scope of music for the average listener, to attain to a knowledge of the rudiments of music that will enable the student to analyse such classical forms as the fugue, sonata, or rondo, and to present the material in historical order, pointing out the place of music and the rôle of individual composers in the successive epochs of the Christian era (up to the middle of the 19th century).

[Not offered in 1939–40; to be offered in 1940–41.]

2. The Theory of Music.—M. W. F. 11:30. MR. LAFFORD.

Introduction to Musical Theory, comprising the mechanics of notation, time, and of written music generally. Harmony, from two part and figured Harmony to unfigured Harmony in any form, and Counterpoint to fifth species in three parts, with an introduction to Fugue.

PHILOSOPHY

Major Requirements

Philosophy 1a, 4, 7a.

Four other half-year courses in Philosophy.

Four half-year courses in related fields to be arranged in conference with the professor in charge.

A comprehensive examination in two parts: three hours on the history of philosophy and three hours on one optional field selected from Topics in Philosophy since 1800, or Religious Thought, or Psychology.

1a. Elementary Psychology.—M. F. 1:30, Tu. 11:30 or W. 1:30, first half-year.
PROFESSOR THOMAS R. KELLY.

The problems of human nature will be faced in this course by means of lectures, discussions, and assigned readings. A textbook will be used to acquaint the student with the major findings of modern scientific investigators in this field, and group experiments will be conducted to illustrate important points. The student will be introduced to the significant rival schools of psychology.

2b. Advanced Psychology.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR STEERE.

A study of the nature and functioning of personality by an examination of personality in difficulties. Both the forms of abnormal behavior and the modern theories of psychotherapy will be studied. Lectures, class reports, and occasional trips to clinic. Elective for twelve Juniors and Seniors and only by consent of instructor. Prerequisite, Philosophy 1a.

[This course is designed for advanced students and graduates only.]

3a. Introduction to Philosophy.—M. W. F. 8:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR THOMAS R. KELLY.

In this introductory course an attempt is made to orient the student in the whole field of philosophy, preparing him for the more specialized disciplines, such as ethics, logic, and the philosophy of science. The course deals with the philosophy of nature, the theory of knowledge, and the philosophy of spirit.

4. History of Philosophy.—M. W. F. 10:30. PROFESSORS STEERE and THOMAS R. KELLY.

A study of the development of philosophy with special reference to Plato, Aristotle, Descartes, Locke, Berkeley, Hume, Spinoza, Leibnitz, Kant, and Hegel. First-hand acquaintance with selected writings of these philosophers, reports, lectures, and class discussions. Philosophy 3a is recommended but not required.

5b. Nineteenth-Century Thinkers.—Hours to be arranged, second half-year.
PROFESSOR STEERE.

Selected writings of Schopenhauer, Nietzsche, Tolstoy, and Bergson. Open only to Juniors and Seniors, except by permission of instructor.

6b. Logic.—Tu. Th. S. 8:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR THOMAS R. KELLY

The course is designed to acquaint the student with the logic of scientific method and to develop facility in the classical deductive logic. In addition, the recent expansion of this latter field through the development of symbolic logic is examined. Elective for Juniors and Seniors.

[Offered in 1939-40; not to be offered in 1940-41.]

7a. Ethics.—M. F. 2:30, W. 11:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR STEERE.

The course will study (1) conflicts of ethical values involved in contemporary life; (2) certain classical ethical devices for resolving those conflicts; (3) the rôle of the individual and of the group in the realization of ethical values. Case material drawn from contemporary situations and from literature will be widely used. Discussions, lectures and papers.

7b. Oriental Philosophy.—M. W. F. 8:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR THOMAS R. KELLY.

An introduction to life ideals and philosophic speculations of Eastern peoples, particularly those of China and India. Each year in which the course is offered, special emphasis will be laid upon the thought of one country. The emphasis during 1940-41 will be upon the philosophy of China.

[Not offered in 1939-40; to be offered in 1940-41.]

8. Philosophical Seminar.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSORS STEERE and THOMAS R. KELLY.

Specialized work in some restricted field of philosophic or religious thought is undertaken, the precise subject depending upon the needs of the students and the general interests of the group. Primarily designed for seniors majoring in philosophy and for graduates.

9a. Classics of Religious Literature.—Tu. Th. S. 8:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR STEERE.

A study which will include such books as Augustine, Confessions; Bernard of Clairvaux, On Consideration; Meister Eckhart, Sermons; Little Flowers of Francis of Assisi; Thomas à Kempis, Imitation of Christ; Theologica Germanica; Theresa of Avila, Autobiography; Frances de Sales, Introduction to the Devout Life; Lancelot Andrewes, Preces Privatae; Pascal, Thoughts; Isaac Penington, Letters; John Wesley, Journal; John Henry Newman, Apologia; George Tyrrell, Autobiography. [Offered in 1939-40; not to be offered in 1940-41.]

10b. History and Philosophy of Quakerism.—M. F. 2:30, W. 11:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR THOMAS R. KELLY.

The Quaker Movement is studied in its relation to other intellectual and religious movements of its time, particularly those found in English philosophy. The development of the dominant Quaker conceptions is traced to the present day and critically examined. The course is designed for non-Friends as well as for Friends. Not open to Freshmen.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The college equipment for outdoor athletics includes: Walton Field for football and track and field sports, with a concrete and wood grandstand and 440-yard oval and 220-yard, six-lane straightaway cinder tracks; the Class of 1888 and Merion Fields for Association (soccer) football, both of which are used for baseball in the spring; a skating pond; Cope Field for cricket, with players' pavilion and shed for winter practice; an athletic field, presented by the Class of 1916; a baseball field, presented by the Class of 1922 and used also for soccer in the fall; and twelve tennis courts, five of which were presented by the Class of 1923.

The Gymnasium contains a main floor, sixty by ninety feet, used for basketball and intramural sports. It has an inclined running track, five feet in width. Adjoining the main floor are offices for the use of the directors in physical examination and measurement, and for special student conferences. Adjoining the main hall is a large and comfortable reading room and apartments for the use of the College athletic coaches and alumni. The basement contains dressing rooms, a number of well ventilated lockers, shower baths, a pool, a wrestling room and storage room for athletic equipment. There is a special dressing room provided for visiting athletic teams. Through the courtesy of the Merion Cricket Club and the Merion Golf Club, facilities for squash and golf are available.

A thorough physical examination with a series of efficiency tests is given to each student upon entrance, and another at the end of Sophomore year. A Tuberculin Test is given to all Freshmen, followed by an X-ray if necessary, as part of this required examination. No student whose physical condition is unsatisfactory will be permitted to represent the College on any athletic team.

Course 1 is required of Freshmen; Course 2, of Sophomores; Course 3, of Juniors.

These courses are arranged in accordance with the plan for all-year physical training during Freshman and Sophomore years, and part-year physical training during Junior year. For Physical Education 1 and 2—a half course credit will be given. For Physical Education 3—a pass or failure will be shown.

Work on varsity and junior varsity squads may be substituted for regular Physical Education requirements.

1. Physical Education.—Three hours. PROFESSOR RANDALL, MR. EVANS, MR. HADDLETON, MR. DOCHERTY, and others.

A course of elementary instruction in athletic games, including football, soccer, basketball, tennis, golf, track, volley ball, handball, badminton; partly elective. Special corrective exercises during the 2nd and 3rd quarters.

2. Physical Education.—Three hours. PROFESSOR RANDALL, MR. EVANS, MR. HADDLETON, MR. DOCHERTY, and others.

A course of advanced instruction in athletic games with emphasis on intramural sports.

3. Physical Education.—Three hours. PROFESSOR RANDALL, MR. EVANS, MR. HADDLETON, MR. DOCHERTY, and others.

A course almost entirely elective, involving participation in some organized and supervised athletic activity during two of the three athletic seasons of the college year.

PHYSICS

Course 2 is the basic course for further work in physics or in engineering. It covers the work required for admission to medical schools and other graduate institutions.

Major Requirements

Physics 2, 10 and one and one-half or two full-year courses from Physics 3, 4a, 4b, 5a, 6b, 7a, 8b.

History of Physics.

Mathematics 2, and one or one and one-half courses from Chemistry 1 or 2, Engineering 10, 11, Astronomy 1a, 2b, or additional mathematics.

A comprehensive examination based upon above-mentioned courses.

1. Introductory Physics.—M. W. F. 9:30; laboratory W. 1:05–3:30. PROFESSOR SUTTON.

An elementary course designed for students who have had no previous study of physics, especially for those who may have no intention to specialize in science. Its purpose is to acquaint students with the principles underlying common physical phenomena and to illustrate, by lecture table experiments, solution of problems and simple laboratory experiments, how these principles apply to matters of everyday experience. This is a much less exacting course than Physics 2. It meets at the same hours so that students from either course may be shifted into the other to meet individual needs and capabilities.

2. General Physics.—Lectures, M. W. F. 9:30; laboratory, W. or Th. 1:05–3:30. PROFESSOR PALMER and MR. LILJENSTEIN.

Mechanics, heat, sound, magnetism, electricity, and light are studied with the help of problems and lecture demonstrations. A feature of this course is the laboratory work, the chief aim of which is accuracy of observation and measurement. Text: Weld and Palmer, A Textbook of Modern Physics. Prerequisites, Trigonometry, and Entrance Physics or Physics 1.

3. Ions, Electrons, Radiations, and Atomic Structure.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30. PROFESSOR PALMER.

A large amount of reading supplementary to the lectures is required in the library of reference books. Experiments are performed by the class as a whole upon such subjects as: atomic and molecular dimensions, weight, and numbers; magnitude of charge and ratio $E \div M$ for electrolytic ions; $e \div m$ for cathode rays; properties of gaseous ions; measurement of the electronic charge e by Millikan's oil-drop method; current and space charge in an electron tube; photo-electric effect; radiation and ionization potentials; X-ray spectra; rate of decay of thorium emanation, and of the active deposit from radon; counting the alpha particles from a specimen of polonium. Prerequisite, Physics 2.

4a. Electricity and Magnetism.—Tu. Th. 10:30; laboratory, Tu. 1:05–3:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR SUTTON.

Lectures and laboratory experiments in precision electrical measurements. This course treats such topics as Kirchhoff's laws, Gauss's theorem, magnetic circuits, potential, capacity, inductance, alternating current, and the laws of the electromagnetic field. Textbook: Page and Adams, Principles of Electricity. Prerequisites, Physics 2 and Mathematics 2.

[Not offered in 1939–40; to be offered in 1940–41.]

4b. Intermediate Radio Communication.—Tu. Th. 10:30; laboratory Tu. 1:05–3:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR SUTTON.

Lecture and laboratory course in high frequency transmission and reception. Textbook: Terman, Radio Engineering. Prerequisites, Physics 2 and Mathematics 2, and preferably Physics 4a.

[Not offered in 1939–40; to be offered in 1940–41.]

5a. Introduction to Mathematical Physics.—Tu. Th. S. 8:30, first half-year.
PROFESSOR SUTTON.

Lectures and problems in the underlying principles of mechanics, wave motion, and theory of electric fields, applying the methods of calculus and developing the use of vectors. Textbook: Page, Introduction to Theoretical Physics. Prerequisites, Physics 2 and Mathematics 2.

6b. Radiation and Quantum Theory.—Tu. Th. S. 8:30, second half-year.
PROFESSOR SUTTON.

Lectures on topics relating to the laws of radiation. Historical development of the quantum theory and its applications to spectroscopy and atomic structure. Textbook: Richtmyer, Introduction to Modern Physics, together with readings from current literature. Prerequisite, Physics 5a.

7a. Physical Optics.—Hours to be arranged, first half-year. PROFESSOR SUTTON.

Lectures and advanced laboratory work in diffraction, dispersion, interference, polarization, and other optical phenomena, extending the treatment given to light in Physics 2. Two lectures and one laboratory period a week, first half-year.

[Offered in 1939-40; not to be offered in 1940-41.]

8b. Sound.—Hours to be arranged, second half-year. PROFESSOR SUTTON.

A course of lectures, readings and class experiments designed to familiarize the student with recent developments in acoustics. Study is given to the fundamentals of sound wave propagation, modern electrical and mechanical acoustic systems, architectural acoustics, supersonics, speech and hearing, and the analysis of musical sound. Prerequisite, Physics 2.

[Offered in 1939-40; not to be offered in 1940-41.]

10. Physics Seminar.—Hours to be arranged. PROFESSORS PALMER and SUTTON.

Advanced students in physics are encouraged to do individual work in special fields of investigation. Each student devotes the time equivalent to a full course in pursuing comprehensive reading and experimental work on some particular topic. Weekly meetings are held with the members of the department to discuss the progress in each field of investigation, so that each student becomes familiar with other problems than his own. In this course, the accomplishment of scholarly work of a nature preliminary to research work is the basis for awarding credit toward a degree.

SOCIOLOGY

Sociology 1a and 2b are elective for Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors. Other courses are open to Juniors, Seniors or Graduate Students only. Students planning to major in Sociology are urged to complete as many courses as possible in related fields before their Junior year.

Major Requirements

Six half-year courses in Sociology.

Six other half-year courses or their equivalent, chosen from the following: Biology 7, Philosophy 1a, Philosophy 2b, Government 1, Economics 1 and Mathematics 8a, in consultation with the major supervisor.

Additional selected readings covering a special field in Sociology.

A four-hour comprehensive examination covering the field of Sociology and related courses.

A three-hour examination, written or oral or both, covering a special field in Sociology chosen by the student.

1a. An Introduction to Sociology.—First half-year. PROFESSOR WATSON.

Section 1—M. W. F. 9:30.

Section 2—M. W. F. 11:30.

This course is an introduction to the scientific study of society. Its purpose is to study (1) those social forces and social processes whereby original nature is transformed into human nature, and (2) a description of the social organization man has evolved and the interaction between it and himself.

2b. Social Problems.—M. W. F. 9:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR WATSON.

A study of (1) the failure of society to provide sound heredity and equal opportunities for all, resulting in such major social problems as poverty, mental disease, neglect of child life, delinquency, and crime; (2) society's resources for solving the foregoing problems; and (3) the methods for dealing adequately with the victims of social maladjustment and the prevention of additional social failures. Prerequisite, Sociology 1a.

3b. Problems of the Modern Family.—M. 7:30—9:20 P.M., W. 2:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR WATSON.

A seminar course on problems of the modern family and education for parenthood. A discussion of relationships of husband-wife; parent-child; and family-community. The emphasis throughout is on factors making for normal family life and successful adjustment thereto. Restricted to a limited number of upper classmen or graduate students. Apply in advance. Prerequisite, Sociology 1a.

4a. Industry and Society.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR WATSON.

A sociological appraisal of modern industrialism. The course includes a detailed study of certain social problems, such as wages, hours of labor, unemployment, and other forms of economic insecurity, to discover, if possible, any causal connection between them and industry as such. The wider implications of the Machine Age are examined, together with proposed remedies for its alleged evils. Prerequisite, Economics 1.

Also called Economics 2a.

5b. Human Relations in Industry.—Tu. Th. S. 9:30, second half-year. PROFESSOR WATSON.

A study of business organization and the philosophy of management, with special reference to the fields of personnel administration and industrial relations. The course surveys scientific management since Taylor and includes an analysis of the nature, objects, and technique of labor management, employee representation, and plans of union-management coöperation. Prerequisite, Sociology 4a.

Also called Economics 3b.

6a. Advanced Sociology.—Tu. Th. S. 10:30, first half-year. PROFESSOR WATSON.

A seminar in social theory and social reform. Open to Seniors majoring in Sociology or graduate students whose major work is in Sociology and, by permission of the instructor, to a few others especially well qualified. Prerequisites, Sociology 1a and 2b. Apply in advance.

SPANISH

A. Elementary Spanish.—M. W. F. 10:30. PROFESSOR MELCHIOR.

Grammar, composition, and reading.

[Offered in 1939-40; not to be offered in 1940-41.]

1. Spanish Literature.—M. W. F. 10:30. PROFESSOR MELCHIOR.

Reading in class of selected works by authors of the Golden Age and of the Nineteenth Century. Prerequisite, Spanish A.

LIBRARY

The College Library contains about one hundred forty thousand volumes, besides numerous classified but uncatalogued pamphlets. All readers have free access to the shelves and are permitted to withdraw from the library any volume except those reserved for special reasons.

About six thousand dollars is expended yearly for the purchase of books and periodicals. The library receives from various sources many substantial gifts and bequests; it is also a government depository.

The collection of Quaker literature is probably the most complete in America. The William H. Jenks collection of Friends' tracts, mostly of the seventeenth century, numbers about fifteen hundred separately bound titles.

The Library possesses the fine Harris collection of over sixty Hebrew, Greek, Latin, Arabic, Syriac, and Ethiopic manuscripts collected by J. Rendel Harris; a collection of more than four hundred Babylonian clay tablets dating from 2500 B.C.; and seven hundred reproductions in fictile ivory of ancient and mediaeval carved ivories.

Over four hundred literary and scientific periodicals are taken, besides many annual reports, yearbooks, and the like.

The Library is open, with some exceptions, on week days from 8:30 A.M. to 10 P.M., and on Sundays from 1:30 to 10 P.M. While designed especially for the use of the officers and students, it affords to others the privilege of consulting and, under certain restrictions, of withdrawing books.

THE CHARLES ROBERTS AUTOGRAPH COLLECTION

This autograph collection, formed by the late Charles Roberts of Philadelphia, a graduate (1864) and for many years a manager of the College, was in 1902 presented to the College by his wife, Lucy B. Roberts. It consists of more than 15,000 items, embracing not only autograph letters of European and American authors, statesmen, scientists, ecclesiastics, monarchs, and others, but also several series of valuable papers on religious and political history. The general exhibit room, under the care of Miss Anna B. Hewitt, is open daily. Special papers from the vault may be inspected on application to Professor Drake.

LECTURESHIPS
HAVERFORD LIBRARY LECTURES

The income of $10,000 received in 1894 from the estate of Mary Farnum Brown, is available by the terms of the gift "to provide for an annual course or series of lectures before the Senior Class of the College, and other students, on the Bible, its history and literature, and as way may open for it, upon its doctrine and its teaching."

THOMAS SHIPLEY LECTURES ON ENGLISH LITERATURE

The sum of $5,000, presented in 1904 by Samuel R. Shipley, in memory of his father, Thomas Shipley, constitutes the Thomas Shipley Fund. The income of this fund is ordinarily to be used "for lectures on English literature."

THE MORRIS INFIRMARY

The Morris Infirmary, presented by John T. Morris, '67, has been in operation since the fall of 1912. It contains ten beds, a surgical room, an isolation ward for contagious diseases, and accommodations for a physician and a nurse. Every provision has been made for medical and surgical treatment of all cases among students during the college year. The danger of infection through illness in the college dormitories is thus minimized.

No charge is made for dispensary treatments, for the services of the college physician and the nurse, or for residence in the infirmary not exceeding one week in each case of illness. Any additional medical or surgical service, including special examinations which cannot be made in the infirmary, will be at the expense of the student. For residence in the infirmary beyond the limit of one week the charge is $3 a day.

Dr. Herbert W. Taylor is the physician in charge, Miss Mabel S. Beard, the resident nurse.

CONSULTANTS IN PSYCHOLOGY AND PSYCHIATRY

Dr. Lauren H. Smith and his associates on the staff of The Institute of the Pennsylvania Hospital are available without charge as consultants in Psychology and Psychiatry for a limited number of students.

When a thorough study and examination are required, and treatment is necessary, financial arrangements are to be made with the parents and college physician or family physician.

ADMINISTRATION GRADING OF STUDENTS

In determining the standing of the student, daily recitations, hour examinations, and final examinations are all considered. Reports, with numerical grades and averages, are issued semi-annually.

Grouped according to averages for the semester, the sections in each class are as follows:

Section	Freshmen	All others
A	90 to 100	90 to 100
B	80 to 90	80 to 90
C	65 to 80	70 to 80
D	50 to 65	60 to 70
	Failures	Failures
E	35 to 50	50 to 60
F	Below 35	Below 50

+ or - following the average for the semester indicates that it is above or below the student's average for the preceding semester.

DELINQUENT STUDENTS

A student who obtains grade E (35 to 50 for Freshmen, 50 to 60 for upper-classmen) as his half-year mark in any course is allowed a re-examination in September following the failure (on the Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday immediately preceding the opening of College). To Seniors who obtain the Grade E (except in the Major examination, see page 25) re-examinations will be given in June during Commencement week. Re-examinations (at a fee of $5 per half-year course) are scheduled only upon written request received by the Registrar before September 10, upon which date copies of the re-examination schedule will be mailed to all applicants, and after which date additional subjects will be scheduled only upon advance payment of an additional fee of $10. Late applicants (after September 10) for examinations already scheduled must make an additional advance payment of $5 per subject before their acceptance as candidates for re-examination. A student who obtains grade F (below 35 for Freshmen, below 50 for others) as his half-year mark in any course is not permitted to take a re-examination in that course.

A student with F as his half-year grade, or with E as his half-year grade in any course after the re-examination privilege has lapsed, must repeat the course if it is a required course (repeated courses take precedence in the case of conflict, and are recorded and averaged in the year of repetition), or may substitute some other course if the failure is an elective course. No course may be repeated more than once; failure to pass a repeated required course will consequently prevent a student from obtaining his degree.

A fee of $15 per half-year is charged for all repeated or substituted courses and for any course dropped after two weeks.

A student who is repeating a course, or who is substituting one (unless he has an extra course to his credit), or who has conditions in excess of two half-courses, shall have his name appear in the student list of the current Catalogue marked with an (*) to indicate that he is not in full class standing.

A Sophomore who fails to attain promotion average (see page 58), and who has not more than two failures, may have the privilege of taking re-examinations in the two half-courses in which he has received the lowest grades, provided that these grades be better than F. A Senior or Junior who fails to attain promotion average (see page 58), and who has not more than one failure, may take a re-examination in the half-course in which he has received the lowest grade, provided that this grade be better than F.

Any student whose record is such as to justify the belief that he is not availing himself of the opportunities offered by Haverford College may be dropped. Usually a student who has more than two half-courses of failures against him at the opening of College in September will be dropped.

HONORS

Honors are awarded for excellence in the studies of single departments. They are never given merely for performance of routine work in courses, but a considerable amount of extra work is demanded in every case.

Honors are of three kinds: Honorable Mention, Sophomore Honors, and Final Honors.

Honorable Mention[†] will be awarded at the end of the Freshman or Sophomore years for work in a single course meeting at least two hours per week throughout the year, plus additional work to the total amount of not less than 75 hours. Candidates for Honorable Mention must obtain a minimum grade of 85 in the regular work of the course and pass creditably an examination on the additional work required. Two half-courses in the same department may be construed as a single course.

[†] Honorable mention is awarded in Freshman English in connection with the work of the second half-year (English 2b).

A Freshman who has received the prescribed grade in the regular work of a course required for Honorable Mention, but who has not done the additional work required in connection with such course, may, with the consent of the professor in charge, do so during the Sophomore year.

Sophomore Honors will be awarded at the end of the Sophomore year for work in not less than two full courses in a single department, plus additional work to the total amount of not less than 150 hours. Candidates for Sophomore Honors must obtain a grade of at least B in all courses required for such honors and a grade of A in such of these courses as are taken in the Sophomore year, and must pass creditably examinations on the additional work required.

Final Honors are graded as Honors, High Honors, or Highest Honors. They will be awarded upon graduation only to students whose work in a major field of concentration has been done with marked distinction and has been more profound or more extensive in its scope than the minimum required. The award of Honors is at the discretion of the major department, but the award of High or Highest Honors is to be made by vote of the Faculty upon recommendation of a department or group of related departments. In order to receive High or Highest Honors, the student will usually be given a public oral examination, and for Highest Honors, the verdict of an outside examiner may be obtained if deemed desirable. The various departments and divisions will adopt such specifications for Final Honors as they see fit.

At the time of the award of Honors there shall be added to the general average for the year of each student receiving Honors, one-half of one per cent for each award of Honorable Mention or Sophomore Honors. Honors, High Honors, and Highest Honors shall automatically add one, two, and three per cent respectively to the average for the Senior year of each student receiving such award.

DEGREES

BACHELOR OF ARTS AND BACHELOR OF SCIENCE

Students who have received credit for the full number of courses in prescribed and elective studies, provided they have for the Junior and Senior years respectively a general average, for the year, of 70 or above, and provided they have passed their Major examinations with a grade of 70 or above, are granted the degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science. For the difference in the requirements for the two degrees, see page 23. The fee for the Bachelor's degree is $15.

MASTER OF ARTS AND MASTER OF SCIENCE

Admission to Candidacy.—Graduates of Haverford College or an institution of equivalent standing, who present satisfactory evidence of character, seriousness of purpose, and scholarly attainments, may be admitted as candidates for the degree of Master of Arts or Master of Science.

Requirements.—A candidate who is well prepared for advanced study in his special field is required to pass four advanced courses (each with a grade of not less than 80) and to do satisfactory additional intensive work, equivalent at least to a full course, which may take the form of a thesis or other research. (In a full year course in which credit is not granted for the work of a single semester, the course grade is the average of the two semester grades; in other cases each semester's work is a separate course, for the purposes of this requirement.) At least two of the courses and the additional intensive work must be in the same field and the remaining courses in allied subjects. In addition, the candidate may, at the discretion of the professor in charge, be required to pass a comprehensive examination upon the field of his major subject. The scope of the examination will be determined by the professor in charge, and will be communicated to the candidate when he is admitted as a graduate student. The entire plan of study must be drawn up by the candidate in consultation with the professor under whom he proposes to do the major part of his work. This plan must be submitted for approval before October 1 to the Chairman of the Committee on Advanced Degrees. After approval by this Committee, the program must be filed with the Registrar.

A minimum of one year's residence is required, and a candidate, if well prepared, should be able to complete his work for the degree in this time. If his preparation is inadequate a longer period of residence may be necessary, but candidates for the Master's degree must complete the required work in not more than two academic years. Courses taken before the registration of the candidate as a graduate student at Haverford College will not usually be counted toward the degree.

Candidates who engage in any occupation or employment other than graduate study will not in general be able to satisfy the requirements for the degree in one year.

Charges.—The charges for a Graduate Student are: tuition, $400; board, $250; lodging, $150. The fee for the Master's degree is $20. Laboratory fees, supplies, breakage, and incidentals are extra.

Fellowships.—Eight graduate fellowships covering tuition, board, and lodging are available annually primarily for the graduates of other Friends' Colleges in the United States, with permission to study for the Master's Degree in any department of Haverford College which may be selected, provided the proposed schedule of study is approved by the Committee on Advanced Degrees. Any recipient of a graduate fellowship should have additional resources at least in the sum of $200.

Applications should be accompanied by a certified list of the applicant's courses and grades as an undergraduate, three letters concerning the character, personality, financial condition and qualifications of the applicant, a copy of the catalogue of the institution in which the applicant was an undergraduate, and a small photograph. Applications and material should be in the hands of the President of Haverford College before March 1st to secure consideration for the following year.

Courses offered.—The following courses are open to graduate students: Astronomy 3a, 3b, and 4; Biblical Literature 3a, 3b, 4b, 5b, 6; Biology 3, 7, 10; Chemistry 4, 5b, 6, 7a, 7b, 8a, 9b, 10a and 10b; Economics 2a, 3b, 4a, 5b, 6b, 7b, 8b, 9a, 10a; Engineering 4a, 5a, 6b, 7a, 8, 10, 11; English 8a, 12, 13a, 14b, 17b, 18a, 21a, 22b; French 4, 5, 6; Geology 1; German 3, 4a, 5a, 5b, 6, 7b, 8a; Government 3a, 4a, 5b, 6b, 8b; Greek 2, 3, 4, 5, 6; History 2, 3, 4, 5; Italian 1; Latin 5, 10, 14, 15; Mathematics, 4a, 4b, 5a, 5b, 6a, 9b, 10b (Mathematics 3 and 8a open to students majoring in other departments); Philosophy 2b, 4, 5b, 6b, 7a, 7b, 8, 9a, 10b; Physics 3, 4a, 5a, 6b, 7a, 8b, 10; Sociology 2b, 3b, 4a, 5b, 6a; Spanish 1. Additional work may be required of graduate students in any of these courses. Certain other courses may be taken by graduate students as subsidiary to the major field of work, with the consent of the Committee on Advanced Degrees and the instructor in charge.

ROOMS

Entering Freshmen are assigned rooms in the order in which their application blanks for admission (see page 17) are received. It is, of course, not always possible to meet the desire of Freshmen for the cheapest rooms. Twelve of the $725 rooms are regularly reserved for Freshmen. The College assumes that a new student will accept any available room of approximately the same price as the room for which a preference is expressed. The choice of rooms by other students is governed by published rules.

A deposit of $15 is required of all students, old and new, before a room is reserved. In case the student occupies the room, the amount will be deducted from his bill for the following year; otherwise it will be forfeited, unless the student be excluded by the College for failures or other sufficient reason, in which case the fee will be refunded upon request.

Students are expected to treat their own and College property with the same consideration as in their own homes. A student is held financially responsible for any damage to his room, and any damage wilfully done will be sufficient reason for requested withdrawal from the College.

The College does not hold itself responsible for the safe-keeping of private property left by the students in their rooms, or elsewhere on the campus.

EXPENSES

The combined charge for tuition ($400), board ($250), and room rent ($75 to $200, according to location), varies from $725 to $850 a year. This includes heat, electric light, attendance, and the use of necessary bedroom furniture, i.e., a chiffonier and a bed, the linen for which is furnished and laundered by the College. Students will supply their own study furniture, blankets and towels. In general two students share one study and each has his private bedroom adjoining. A few single rooms are also available. The number of students accommodated in the several halls is as follows:

Merion Hall.....	17 at $725 each
Merion Hall.....	10 at $750 each
Merion Hall.....	14 at $775 each
Founders Hall.....	14 at $725 each
Founders Hall.....	8 at $750 each
Founders Hall.....	6 at $775 each
Founders Hall.....	2 at $825 each
Barclay Hall.....	30 at $725 each
Barclay Hall.....	3 at $750 each
Barclay Hall.....	5 at $775 each
Barclay Hall.....	24 at $800 each
Barclay Hall.....	47 at $815 each
Lloyd Hall.....	66 at $815 each
Lloyd Hall.....	32 at $850 each

The charge for tuition of day-students is $400 a year; for tuition and mid-day meal, $480 a year. A laboratory fee (average, $5 to $10 per half-year) and the cost of materials consumed and of apparatus broken are charged in each of the laboratories. The fee for dropping a course after two weeks is $15. The fee for the Bachelor's degree is $15. For Graduate Student fees, see page 62.

The Board of Managers requires that first half-year bills (rendered October 1) for three-fifths of the student's total cash indebtedness for the current year for room, board, and tuition must be paid in full before November 1. Second half-year bills (rendered February 1) must be paid in full before March 1. Failure to pay within the specified time automatically cancels the student's registration.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Scholarships are of two kinds, competitive, and those awarded upon merit and individual need. All scholarships are given for one year only.

No scholarship will be given to a student who has conditions.

No scholarship will be given to a student who is in debt to the college.

All preliminary correspondence and applications for undergraduate scholarships for 1940-1941, together with supporting letters from parents or guardians should be in the hands of the President before Tuesday, April the 2nd, 1940.

It is assumed that requests for scholarships will not be made by those whose expenses can be met by their parents or from other sources.

I. Corporation Scholarships.—Sixteen scholarships of the annual value of $300 each, are awarded, without formal application, to the four students in each class who have the highest average scholarship. This is determined in the case of upper classmen by their general average for the year. In the case of the incoming Freshman Class the scholarships will be assigned immediately after the June examinations (see page 20) to those candidates entering by any plan of admission who are judged to be best prepared to do the work of the College.

II. Isaiah V. Williamson Scholarships.—Two scholarships of $350 each. One will usually be awarded to a Senior and one to a Junior.

III. Richard T. Jones Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of $200.

IV. Edward Yarnall Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of $200.

V. Thomas P. Cope Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of $200.

VI. Sarah Marshall Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of $200.

VII. Mary M. Johnson Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of $200.

VIII. Joseph E. Gillingham Scholarships.—Four scholarships of the annual value of $200 each "for meritorious students."

IX. Isaac Thorne Johnson Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of $225 available for a student of Wilmington College or a member of Wilmington (Ohio) Yearly Meeting of Friends.

X. Jacob P. Jones Scholarships, amount to $1500 annually. Usually these will be awarded in sums of $150 each, and in return for them certain academic duties may be required of the beneficiaries.

XI. Jacob P. Jones Scholarships.—Eight scholarships of the annual value of $100 each.

XII. Caspar Wistar Memorial Scholarship.—A scholarship of $250 is annually available, preferably for sons of parents engaged in Christian service, including secretaries of Young Men's Christian Associations, or students desiring to prepare for similar service in America or other countries.

XIII. Louis Jaquette Palmer Memorial Scholarship.—This Scholarship of $250 is awarded on application, preferably to a member of the Freshman Class, who in the opinion of a committee representing the donors and the President of the College shall give evidence of possessing the qualities of leadership and constructive interest in student and community welfare which his friends observed in Louis Jaquette Palmer of the Class of 1894.

XIV. J. Kennedy Moorhouse Memorial Scholarship, $300.—Special application should be made for this Scholarship, which is intended for the member of the Freshman Class who shall appear best fitted to uphold at Haverford the standard of character and conduct typified by the late J. Kennedy Moorhouse, of the Class of 1900—"a man modest, loyal, courageous, reverent without sanctimony; a lover of hard play and honest work, a leader in clean and joyous living." Special application for this Scholarship should be made before April 15.

XV. Paul W. Newhall Memorial Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of $200.

XVI. Robert Martin Zuckert Memorial Scholarship.—One or more scholarships of the annual value of $250, preference to be given to "a native of New York or Connecticut and who now resides in one of those states."

XVII. Samuel E. Hilles Memorial Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of $200.

XVIII. Class of 1913 Scholarship.—One scholarship of the annual value of about $125. Preference is to be given to sons of members of the Class of 1913 who may apply and who meet the usual requirements of the College.

The scholarships named on this and the preceding pages are permanent foundations. In addition, the New York Alumni maintain a scholarship for competition in the New York metropolitan district. The New England Alumni maintain one Freshman scholarship of $300 to be awarded annually to a New England boy from a New England school. Inquiry regarding these scholarships should be directed to the Secretary of the Alumni Association, Haverford College, Haverford, Pa.

FELLOWSHIPS

The Clementine Cope Fellowship, of the annual value of $700, may be awarded by the Faculty to the best qualified applicant from the Senior Class. He is required to spend the succeeding year in study at some American or foreign university approved by the Faculty. Applications for the Clementine Cope Fellowship should be in the hands of the President of the College before March 1.

Teaching Fellowships.—With the remaining funds from the Clementine Cope Foundation there may be appointed one or more graduates of Haverford College as Teaching Fellows, with or without specific duties at Haverford College; or a second Cope Fellow may be appointed with a stipend of $400 or $500, as the income of the Fund may permit.

Graduate Fellowships.—For information regarding graduate fellowships, see page 62.

LOAN FUND

A loan fund has been established for deserving students other than members of the Freshman Class who may require financial assistance during their college course. Further information concerning this fund may be obtained from the President of the College.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

In connection with the Dean's office there is an Employment Bureau through which students may be put in touch with such remunerative employment as may be available.

PRIZES

All material submitted in competition for prizes should be deposited with the Registrar under assumed names, with a sealed envelope containing the writer's real name, before May 1.

All prizes awarded in books are marked with appropriate bookplates. As soon as possible after the award a list of standard books, from which selection is to be made, should be submitted for approval to the head of the department awarding the prize. Books selected from the approved list may then be ordered through the College Office or elsewhere. The College grants an average discount of ten per cent on prize books, and supplies the bookplates.

ALUMNI PRIZE FOR COMPOSITION AND ORATORY

The Alumni Association, in the year 1875, established an annual prize of $50 in money for excellence in composition and oratory. This prize is now divided between the two members of the winning team in the Senior-Junior debate.

THE EVERETT SOCIETY MEDALS

To the members of the winning team in the annual Sophomore-Freshman extemporaneous debate, medals are given in memory of the Everett Society.

JOHN B. GARRETT PRIZES FOR SYSTEMATIC READING IN LITERATURE

A first prize of $50 and a second prize of $25 will be given at the end of the Junior or Senior year to the two students who, besides creditably pursuing their regular course of study, shall have carried on the most profitable program of reading in a period or comprehensive topic in the field of literature (ancient, English or foreign) during at least two years of their college career.

The administration of these prizes is in the hands of the Committee on Prizes, with which the candidate shall register and which shall approve the subject chosen. The Committee will then recommend the candidate to the Department(s) to which he should apply for counsel and guidance. An oral examination will be arranged in the final year to determine the scope and quality of the reading.

The winners will be determined by the Committee after consultation with the Departments concerned. Either or both of these prizes may be omitted if, in the judgment of the Committee, the work does not justify an award.

THE CLASS OF 1896 PRIZES IN LATIN AND MATHEMATICS

These are two prizes worth $10 each. They will be awarded in books at the end of the Sophomore year to the students who have done the best work for the two years in Latin and Mathematics, respectively.

THE LYMAN BEECHER HALL PRIZE IN CHEMISTRY

The Class of 1898 on the twenty-fifth anniversary of their graduation established a prize in honor of Lyman Beecher Hall, Professor of Chemistry at Haverford College from 1880 to 1917.

This prize amounts to $100 and may be awarded to a student who has attained a high degree of proficiency in chemistry and who shows promise of contributing substantially to the advancement of the science. This prize may be awarded to a Junior, to a Senior, or to a graduate of Haverford College within three years after graduation. It may be awarded more than once to the same student, or may be withheld.

THE CLASS OF 1902 PRIZE IN LATIN

The Class of 1902 offers a prize of $10 in books to the Freshman whose work in Latin, in recitation and examinations combined, shall be the most satisfactory to the professor in charge of the department.

THE DEPARTMENT PRIZES IN MATHEMATICS

A first prize of $15 and a second prize of $10 are awarded on the basis of a three hour examination on selected topics in Freshman Mathematics. The examination is held on the first Monday after the Spring Recess, and is open to Freshmen only.

THE ELLISTON P. MORRIS PRIZE

A prize of $80, open to all undergraduates and to graduates of not more than three years' standing, is offered in alternate years for the best essay bearing on the general problem of "International Peace and the Means of Securing it." No prize will be awarded unless a high standard of merit is attained. Essays should be deposited with the Registrar before May 1. The judges shall be appointed by the President of the College. For the 1940-41 competition the following subjects are offered:

1. A Critical Examination of Recent Proposals for a Federation of Nations.
2. An International Program for the Practical Pacifist.
3. Modification of Existing Concepts of Nationalism that may be necessary for the Achievement of World Peace.

The presentation should be not merely a catalogue of events but also an interpretation and estimate of them. Each essay should contain references, in the form of footnotes and bibliography, to the authorities consulted.

Essays submitted by undergraduates for this prize may also be submitted for the Elizabeth P. Smith Prize.

THE ELIZABETH P. SMITH PRIZE

A prize of $35 is offered annually to the undergraduate who presents the best essay on international peace. Essays submitted for the Elizabeth P. Smith Prize may also be submitted for the Elliston P. Morris Prize. Essays for this prize should be deposited with the Registrar before May 1. The judges shall be appointed by the President of the College.

PRIZES IN PHILOSOPHY AND BIBLICAL LITERATURE

A prize of $40 in books is offered each year to the student who, in the judgment of the professor in charge, does the most satisfactory amount of outside reading in philosophy in connection with the courses in that department. A second prize of $25 in books is also offered.

A prize of $40 in books is offered each year to the student who, in the judgment of the professor in charge, does the most satisfactory amount of reading on the Bible and related subjects. A second prize of $25 in books is also offered.

These prizes may be competed for during any year of the College course.

THE SCHOLARSHIP IMPROVEMENT PRIZES

A first prize of $50 and a second prize of $45 will be given at the end of the Senior year to the two students who, in the opinion of the judges appointed by the President of the College, show the most steady and marked improvement in scholarship during their college course.

THE CLASS OF 1910 POETRY PRIZES

Two prizes of $15 and $10 respectively are awarded for the best verse written by a Haverford undergraduate during the year. Typewritten manuscript, under an assumed name, should be deposited with the Registrar not later than May 1. The judges shall be appointed by the President of the College.

THE LOGAN PEARSALL SMITH PRIZE

An annual award of $50 in books will be made to that member of the Senior Class who, in the opinion of the Committee on Prizes, has the best personal library. Consideration of the books collected will be entirely independent of their cost.

Candidates must register with the Committee on Prizes before March 1. The contest closes May 1. By that date every candidate shall have deposited with the Registrar a list of books and a brief essay explaining the purpose of his collection.

THE FOUNDERS CLUB PRIZE

A prize of $25 is offered by the Founders Club to the Freshman who is judged to have shown the best attitude toward college activities and scholastic work.

THE S. P. LIPPINCOTT PRIZE IN HISTORY

A prize of $100 is offered for competition in the Department of History under the following general provisions:

First—The prize may be withheld in any year, if the conditions listed below are not met by any of the competitors to the satisfaction of a majority of the judges.

Second—The prize shall not be awarded twice to the same student.

Third—Competition is open to Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors who have taken or are taking work in the Department of History.

Conditions

In competition for this prize an essay shall be submitted of not less than 5,000 words, offered as evidence of scholarly ability in the collection and presentation of historical material, treating a subject selected from a list announced by the Department of History before November 15. The essay should contain references in footnotes to the authorities consulted and a bibliography of works cited.

The essay shall be typewritten and deposited under an assumed name with the Registrar before May 1.

The judges shall consist of the President of the College and two historians to be selected by him.

For the competition of 1939-40 the following subjects are submitted:

1. The Labor Movement in England from 1867 to 1906.
2. The Relations between Great Britain and Germany from the Conclusion of the Treaty of Versailles in 1919 to the Close of 1938.
3. Industry and Commerce in the English Colonies in America, 1715 to 1763.
4. The Pan-American Movement since 1881.

THE NEWTON PRIZE IN ENGLISH LITERATURE

The Newton Prize in English Literature ($40) may be awarded annually on the basis of Final Honors in English, provided that the Department judges the work of the leading candidate merits such award.

THE WILLIAM ELLIS SCULL PRIZE

The William Ellis Scull Prize ($50) will be awarded annually to the upper classman who shall have shown the "greatest achievement in voice and the articulation of the English language."

THE GEORGE PEIRCE PRIZE IN CHEMISTRY OR MATHEMATICS

In memory of Dr. George Peirce, 1903, a prize of $25 is offered annually to a student of Chemistry or Mathematics "who has shown marked proficiency in either or both of these studies and who intends to follow a profession which calls for such preparation. Preference is to be given to a student who has elected organic chemistry, and failing such a student, to one who has elected Mathematics or some branch of Chemistry other than organic. Should there be two students of equal promise, the one who is proficient in Greek shall be given preference." The prize is offered, however, exclusively for students who expect to engage in research, and it will not be awarded unless the candidate has this expressed intention.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT 1938-39

The death of Henry W. Stokes '87 on Eleventh Month 30th, 1938, removed a generous and devoted member of the Board of Managers. The following Minute was adopted at the Board meeting of First Month 13th, 1939:

With a profound sense of loss we record the death of our fellow member, Henry Warrington Stokes, on November 30th, 1938.

Graduating from Haverford College in the Class of 1887, he entered business and soon became associated with the York Haven Paper Company, which he served for forty years, from 1889 to 1929, first as its Treasurer and later, for fifteen years, as President. Not confining himself to business, his interest in contributing to the welfare of his fellows disclosed itself in his being President of the Rush Hospital for Consumptives and of the Sleighton Farm School for Girls and his membership on the Board of Management of the Dunwoody Home for Convalescents.

Elected to this Board on May 21st, 1926, he brought to the service of the College the ripe experience of his long and successful business career and the soundness of judgment which had contributed to that success. His unusual executive ability, including both energy in action and capacity to make prompt and wise decisions, was greatly valued by the Board. This was amply evidenced by the variety and importance of his service on many committees, among which were his Chairmanship for more than ten years of the Committee on College Property and Farm, his Chairmanship of the Centenary Fund Executive Committee, his continuous membership on the Executive Committee since 1928, and earlier service on the Committee on Finance and Investments.

Genial, friendly, with an appreciation of humor that often showed itself in the twinkle of his eye, he was not simply an esteemed Board member but a loved comrade and friend.

It is directed that a copy of this Minute be sent to his son, J. Tyson Stokes, the only surviving member of his immediate family.

At the meeting of the Board held Fifth Month 19th, 1939, John A. Silver '25 was elected a Manager for the unexpired term of Henry W. Stokes.

The college year 1939-40 has opened with an attendance of 327, 312 being undergraduates and 15 being graduate students. There are 86 freshmen entering from 58 different schools, of which 33 are private and 25 are public, a total of 52 students from private and 34 from public schools. Of the freshmen, 68 are sons of college men and 18 of non-college men; 40 are sons of professional men and 38 of business men; the father of one is unemployed and the fathers of 7 are not living. 34 students in the College are sons of Haverfordians. In the student body 30 states are represented and 5 foreign countries as follows:

California	1	Kentucky.....	5
Connecticut	7	Maine.....	1
Delaware.....	5	Maryland.....	11
District of Columbia.....	6	Massachusetts.....	14

There are a few changes in the personnel of the Faculty this year. Professor Hotson returns after sabbatic leave of absence, as also do Professor Palmer, Professor Lockwood and Associate Professor Sutton. This year Associate Professor Swann is away for the full year on sabbatic leave of absence and Associate Professor Comfort has received sabbatic leave of absence for the entire year, as has also Associate Professor Reitzel for the first term. New appointments are: Ebon E. Betz as Instructor in Mathematics, Lindsay A. Lafford as Instructor in Music and trainer of undergraduate musical organizations, William T. Docherty, Jr., as Instructor in Athletics, and John A. Lester, Jr., as Instructor in English.

Dean H. T. Brown, Jr., who has for years acted as Director of Physical Education, has been relieved of the latter responsibility. A committee of athletic coaches and teachers of physical development, all of whom are members of the Faculty, has been placed in charge of the physical education of the student body and of the required work of the three lower classes. These men are: Mr. Randall, Chairman, Mr. Evans, Mr. Haddleton, Mr. Docherty and Dr. Taylor. They will serve as a liaison committee between the Faculty and the students, will arrange schedules for physical exercise at available hours, and will be responsible to the Deans for the effective execution of the program of physical education with its many choices of organized exercise.

Certain members of the Faculty have had interesting appointments during the past year apart from their duties at Haverford College. The following have come to my attention: Professor Fetter went to Ecuador during the summer as economist of the Export-Import Bank; Dr. Teaf worked upon a study of insurance problems and practices for the Home Owners' Loan Corporation in Washington; Dr. Howard Comfort read upon invitation a paper at the Sixth International Archaeological Congress in Berlin; during the summer Professor Dunn was engaged on a collecting expedition in the Canal Zone as curator of reptiles in connection with the Gorgas Memorial Institute and the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Sciences; Professor Steere spent some weeks lecturing at Pendle Hill.

A landmark in Faculty history this year is provided by two recent events: the retirement after twenty-nine years of service of Albert H. Wilson, Professor of Mathematics and in recent years head of that department, who now becomes Professor Emeritus; and the death of Oscar M. Chase '94 on Fourth Month 10th, 1939, sometime Instructor in Mechanical Drawing and since 1907 Registrar of the College. The following Minute was adopted by the Board meeting of Fourth Month 13th, 1939:

The Board of Managers has learned with sorrow of the death on Fourth Month 10th of Oscar Marshall Chase. A graduate of the College in the Class of 1894, he served the College as Instructor in Drawing, Registrar and Bursar over a period of about forty years. Known to nearly all Haverfordians through his long period of service, he was peculiarly valued for his share in keeping the financial records of the College. A devout believer in his own methods of procedure and accounting, he attained extraordinary accuracy in his accounts and established a reputation for fidelity and diligence in his office which it would be hard to duplicate. The bearer of a name which has meant so much in Haverford history, he himself yielded unflagging devotion to all that affected the welfare of the College. He served not for reward but from love.

The students in the early part of the century heard with sorrow of the death on Fifth Month 8th, 1939, of Dr. Albert S. Bolles, long since retired, at his home in Williamstown, Massachusetts.

The College buildings and grounds continued to be used from time to time by outside organizations of neighbors or groups of students from other institutions: the Student Branch Convention of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers brought about 200 students from other colleges for a one-day meeting in Third Month last; several board meetings and two membership meetings of the Main Line Cooperative Association have been held in the Union; the Lawn School brings annually a considerable number of persons interested in horticulture and landscape gardening in the Third Month; the Academy of Vocal Arts uses Roberts Hall for several weeks during the summer for rehearsals; the Fellowship of Reconciliation held a two-day conference at the College in the Ninth Month; the gymnasium is used from time to time as a neutral floor for school basketball games; the Interacademic Track Meet is held annually on Walton Field in the Fifth Month.

It is interesting to learn from Professor Flight that loan collections of pottery and other archaeological artifacts excavated at Beth Shemesh by Dr. Grant are being sent out in response to requests to some half dozen institutions, with others to follow as soon as more collections can be assembled. These collections are at present on exhibition on loan from Haverford College at the Cleveland Public Library, Duke University, Southern Methodist University, Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Chicago, Western College at Oxford, Ohio, Y.M.C.A. Biblical Museum at Greensboro, North Carolina.

This is an appropriate place to mention several gifts which have been made to the College during the past year. There has been set up a fund of $20,000, the income of which will be available eventually as the Augustus Taber Murray Research Scholarship for a Haverford graduate who wishes to do research work in English philology or literature, classical philology or literature, or German philology or literature. This fund, the eighty-ninth to be established in our financial portfolio, is given by an anonymous donor in honor of our beloved and distinguished alumnus, Dr. A. T. Murray of the Class of '85, Professor of Greek Emeritus in Stanford University. Mr. Harry M. Zuckert has added $2,000 to the principal of the Robert Martin Zuckert Memorial Scholarship Fund, making a total of $8,750 to date. A large grant from the Carnegie Corporation will permit us for several years to extend our instruction and cultivation of music and art at Haverford. Two art exhibits have been made possible this year, in part by this grant and in part by the enthusiasm and activity of Professor Williamson and Dr. Christian Brinton of the Class of '92. The first exhibition was of the work of contemporary artists loaned by Professor Howard Gray of Bryn Mawr College; the second showed a very representative collection of the canvasses of Mary Cassatt never before brought together in an exhibition. The playing and singing of more classical music by the students under the direction of a qualified and resident leader is planned for the present year. We are grateful also for the fact that Haverford has been mentioned in several wills recently, but as the advantages from these sources do not accrue to the College at present, they may not yet be more specifically indicated. The completion of the decoration and furniture of the Commons Room by a group of Alumni and undergraduates has added greatly to the amenities of campus life, and for this much needed improvement in the opportunities for social intercourse we are deeply indebted to the large number of individuals who have contributed to the fund required. The Campus Club has continued its beneficent attention to the beauty of the college grounds, which have never been more lovely than during recent months. The Class of 1889, to celebrate its fiftieth anniversary, presented at Commencement time to the College a portrait of the President. However mistaken the class may have been in its choice of a subject, it is not for me to say, but to thank the class for what may become some centuries hence a fine example of Philip Steegman in his earlier manner.

In a good average year of athletic competition, it would be a serious oversight to omit mention of two outstanding performances: the soccer team won the championship of our intercollegiate league last Fall; and last Spring the track completed its fourth season without defeat in dual meets. Mr. Haddleton's genius has brought the number of straight victories to 26 and allowed an entire generation of students to escape the sensation of defeat in dual meets. Fully deserving also of commendation is the performance of our delegates at the Model Assembly of the League of Nations. Representing France and speaking in French, our Haverfordians won first prize for the second year in succession.

The award is based upon best preparation, most effective delivery, and best accomplishment of activities.

Since last spring a special committee of the Board has been seeking funds for the erection of a large stack addition to the rear of the Library on a part of what is now the Smith Memorial Garden. Convinced by ocular evidence that the present Library was crowded to its utmost extent, and in view of the necessary transference of the working books of five departments to other quarters outside the building, the Board has authorized the special committee to seek funds from graduates and friends of the College. This committee has at present pledges for about half the required sum of $100,000. A fireproof stack has been for years the greatest need of the College.

Of all our departments, Chemistry has been of late under the most severe strain for room. To meet this need, there have been equipped with desks during the summer two rooms in the Lyman Beecher Hall Chemistry Laboratory, one a large basement room with a southern exposure, and the other a smaller room in the northeast corner of the second floor. Space is thus provided for sixty additional laboratory desks. To the Haverford physicians who have contributed to this new equipment so necessary in preparation for the medical profession, our thanks are due.

In addition to the more formal addresses listed below, a large number of speakers on special topics have been heard by the students in our two weekly assemblies in Roberts Hall and, more informally, in the newly furnished Commons Room in Founders Hall. I believe that the brief presentation of a large variety of subjects, even when quite removed from the matter of our curriculum, meets occasionally with unexpected response: there is no telling when a chance remark of a visiting speaker may kindle a spark of interest or ambition in some of the listeners, and that result is one thing that education should seek. It is felt by some of our oldest attenders that Fifth Day Meeting, required though attendance be, is fulfilling in good degree the purpose for which Haverfordians have come together to worship weekly for over a century.

The following lectures outside of the regular course have been given during the year:

"Does Research Pace Industry—the Picture in Oil," by Dr. W. F. Fraragher. Tenth Month 18, 1938

LIBRARY REPORT

One of the most insistent problems in college and university libraries is the location of the various groups of books in relation to other parts of the educational plant. How can we strike a balance between segregation and integration, between decentralization and coordination? The American passion for "modern conveniences"—or shall we say, for "luxury"?—requires that every student, and what is more difficult, every teacher, should have immediate access to the group of books he needs, whenever and wherever he needs it. Toward this impossible goal we strive by every device in our power; but in practice we can only compromise. We have too many students and too many books and too many subjects of instruction and too many courses, to be able to attain the ideal. There are as many different groups of books as there are students. In effect, we should like to provide each reader with the equivalent of a private library. To make it as easy as possible for each to create his world of books about him, we follow a classification and cataloging system which is a miracle of convenience, but it cannot be perfect.

At this point I should like to digress to call attention to one of the great advantages of a small college. Its main collection of books, its central library, is compact and available to all, and the books are so handy that they can be reached with a minimum of effort. If they are well chosen, the undergraduate is in an enviable position. Compare the plight of a university like Harvard, where eighty libraries, containing almost four million books, are spread over many acres, not to mention outlying collections at a distance of several miles; and where the main library is an enormous storehouse, which devours the user's time. No wonder that at Harvard seven separate libraries are an essential part of the seven undergraduate "houses"; but I doubt whether any Harvard "house" has, or can ever have a library comparable to that of Haverford College.

If all students took the same course, we could rest content with a central library housed in one building and made as convenient or luxurious as possible. But the great educational problem of the present day, I mean, the diversity of intellectual interests and of curricula, introduces into our library system a strong trend toward segregation. Under the circumstances this is perfectly legitimate. There are five departments of science in our educational scheme (astronomy, engineering, biology, chemistry, physics) which have, and must have, isolated laboratories. Here their work is done and here their books must be located. If this degree of segregation causes any serious inconvenience to other departments or to the general reader, there is only one solution, namely, duplication of books needed elsewhere. The actual amount of duplication would be very slight.

This year I have to report that the last of the five departmental libraries in science, namely, that of physics, has been put into full operation in Sharpless Hall.

Segregation, however, may take place within a central library building as well as without. The "seminar-room" is an alluring solution of the desire for quiet and seclusion within the main library. Some subjects lend themselves readily to segregation of this kind. Mathematics, for instance, is a sharply defined and technical subject with little or no "popular" literature. With very little inconvenience to other departments (save perhaps in the realm of statistics) the department of mathematics has already withdrawn its books and leads a tranquil cloistered existence. Because of the temporarily overcrowded condition of the main building, the mathematics library is housed nearby, but the location cannot be regarded as permanent. Except in the laboratory sciences, or possibly in fine arts, it is not likely that a college as small as Haverford will ever have separate buildings for departments of instruction: a history building, for instance, or English or philosophy. It is to be hoped, therefore, that we shall not have to solve any such difficult problem as the segregation of groups of books in the social sciences and the humanities. It will be hard enough, if and when we have a new and more commodious library building, to decide on a policy of reserving groups of books in seminar rooms.

The overcrowding of the main building naturally inclines us at present to welcome the withdrawal of department libraries. The trend is centrifugal. Some day, perhaps, the tide will turn the other way. At present, there is only one group of books that necessity has forced us, regretfully, to put beyond the reach of the everyday reader: namely, certain sets of less frequently used periodicals, which have been stored in another building, where for lack of attendance they must be kept under lock and key. When needed, they must be fetched from their place of storage or the reader must be personally conducted to the spot; in either case the reader cannot have what he wants when he wants it. As soon as possible all storage, whether of long runs of periodicals or of duplicates and exchange material of various kinds, will be brought back to the main building.

Two changes have taken place in the library staff. Miss Olga Erbe has become librarian of Adelphi College, and her place has been taken by Miss Elsa C. Lisle, a graduate of the University of Kentucky and of the Columbia University School of Library Service. Miss Ruth Pennington, after serving the library faithfully and efficiently for ten years, has entered Pennsylvania State College. Her place has been taken by Miss Florence M. Stevens, a graduate of Muskingum College.

Librarian

The total number of volumes in the library at the end of August, 1939, was 144,192. During the past year 3,082 volumes were added, 1,648 by purchase, 1,209 by gift, and 225 sent by the United States government for the Government Depository Collection, besides numerous pamphlets filed in our government pamphlet collection. 33 books were discarded, a number of them being replaced by new editions.

Among the many gifts to the library, the following may be mentioned as noteworthy:

- From the Carnegie Corporation, 216 volumes on art and allied subjects.
- From H. Tatnall Brown, 67 volumes from his personal library.
- From Miss Jeanne d'Estimaувille, a set of 37 volumes, the Memoirs of de Bachaumont.
- From Albert H. Wilson, 33 volumes on mathematics.
- From Alfred J. Swann, 31 music scores.
- From Richard C. Brown, 21 volumes of Quaker books.
- From Mrs. E. Page Allinson, 15 volumes of Quaker books.
- From Mrs. Joseph B. Hutchinson, Jr., 13 volumes of Quaker books.
- From Mrs. Archibald MacIntosh, several volumes of various collections of Whittier's poems, many of them interleaved with clippings of poems taken from newspapers and magazines in which they originally appeared.
- From the Holland Society of New York, 21 volumes of its Yearbook and Collections.
- From William Reitzel, 21 volumes.
- From Miss Marion Clothier, 20 volumes.
- From Don C. Barrett, 16 volumes.
- In memory of Alan C. Hale, Jr., 15 volumes.
- From Mr. and Mrs. Clarence G. Hoag, 15 volumes.
- From Morris E. Leeds, 12 volumes.
- From George Ohl, a subscription to Fortune.

The many books received from organizations, societies, and colleges were also most welcome, as were all the other individual gifts, which lack of space prevents us from mentioning.

The total circulation of library books was 25,021. Of this number, 3,934 were loaned to professors, 15,875 to students, and 5,212 to borrowers not connected with the college. Inter-library loan service was maintained as usual, with 72 volumes loaned and 31 volumes borrowed. In addition to this, many of the students and professors visited the nearby college and university libraries and personally borrowed books from them. We deeply appreciate the courtesies extended to us by neighboring libraries, and also the efficient service of the Union Catalog staff in Philadelphia.

REPORT OF THE CURATOR OF THE QUAKER COLLECTION

The year has been one of steady growth on the part of the Quaker Collection in both books and manuscripts, with occasional gifts of autographs to add to the Roberts Collection. Forty-one individuals contributed 805 Quaker manuscripts, maps, and pictures. Notable among these were the gifts of Evans family papers by Charles Evans, of Waln family letters by George L. Harrison, of materials relating to Charles Roberts by William C. Longstreh, of Daniel B. Smith papers by Anna Wharton Wood, of William C. Allen manuscripts by Elizabeth C. B. Allen, and of various items by Rufus M. Jones, Henri van Etten, and Mary R. G. Williams.

One hundred and sixty Quaker books, ancient and modern, were purchased for the library, in addition to numerous gifts and the regular number of Quaker periodicals. We were able to secure several rare copies of the printed Minutes of Ohio Yearly Meeting through Harlow Lindley, of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Society, and have obtained two of the earlier printed Disciplines of New England Yearly Meeting. A gift of unusual interest is that of Joshua L. Baily, Jr., whose generosity made possible the purchase of a lot of twenty-one rare Quaker tracts, most of them printed in England in the seventeenth century.

Two Haverford graduate students wrote theses in Quaker history, under the direction of the Curator, using the Quaker Collection for studies of the early relations of Friends and Baptists, and of the educational policy of Philadelphia Friends in the nineteenth century. Six visiting research workers came in person to Haverford, for longer or shorter stays, and others made their inquiries by mail. Photostatic copies of manuscripts were supplied to several inquirers, and, in one case, photofilm negative copies of rare seventeenth century tracts of George Keith's were sent to a student at Columbia University. The Curator assisted in the preparation of the second volume of William Wade Hinshaw's Encyclopedia of American Quaker Genealogy, and prepared one issue of Quakeriana Notes for circulation among the friends of the College and a number of university libraries.

A new section was added to the filing case to accommodate the growing index to the manuscript collection and to various other Quaker references. The last available wall space in the fireproof vault received its quota of shelves, which began to fill almost before the paint was dry. Manuscripts as well as books at Haverford are beginning to crowd their retaining walls.

*Board of Managers,
The Corporation of Haverford College,
Haverford, Penna.*

Dear Sir:

We have completed an examination of the accounts of your Treasurer, J. Henry Scattergood, for the fiscal year ended August 31st, 1939.

Cash balances were verified by direct correspondence with your depository. The securities held by the Provident Trust Company of Philadelphia were examined by us, while those held by the Girard Trust Company and the First National Bank & Trust Company, Minneapolis, Minnesota, were certified to us by them and found to be in accordance with the Treasurer's report.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements set forth the result of operation of The Corporation of Haverford College for the fiscal year ended August 31st, 1939.

Very truly yours,
WRIGHT, CARMINT & COMPANY
(Signed) Roy A. Wright
Certified Public Accountant.

GENERAL ENDOWMENT FUND

Founded in 1847 with subscriptions of $50,000 by a number of Friends. Additions were made as follows: 1868, from an anonymous source, $5,000; 1869, bequest of Ann Haines to increase the compensation of professors, $2,670; 1870, bequest of Richard D. Wood, $18,682.96; 1872, from William Evans, $1,000; 1874, from executors of Jesse George, deceased, $5,000; 1880, bequest of Dr. Joseph W. Taylor, $5,000; 1901, legacy of Ann Williams, $2,425.50. Present par value, $104,691.17; book value, $96,995.14. The income is used for salaries and scholarships.

JOHN FARNUM MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1878 by the heirs of John Farnum by gift of $25,000 as a memorial to him. Added to in 1899 by legacy of $10,000 from Elizabeth H. Farnum, widow of John Farnum. Present par value, $42,697.45; book value, $41,447.71. The income only is to be used to endow a "professorship of some practical science or literature." The chair of chemistry was designated as the "John Farnum Professor of Chemistry." The principal is held in the name of three Trustees for the benefit of The Corporation of Haverford College.

JOHN M. WHITALL FUND

Founded in 1880 by bequest of $10,000 from John M. Whitall, Sr. Present par value, $11,087.59; book value, $10,640.09. The bequest is upon the condition that the art of drawing, especially mechanical drawing, shall be taught, and the income only is to be used, and for this purpose.

DAVID SCULL FUND

Founded in 1885 by bequest of $40,000 from David Scull, Sr. Present par value, $48,941.08; book value, $44,806.59. The income only is to be used to endow a professorship. The chair of biology was designated as the "David Scull Professor of Biology."

EDWARD L. SCULL FUND

Founded in 1865 by net bequest of $9,500 from Edward L. Scull, '64. The legacy was added to the General Endowment Fund, but in 1888 it was set apart as a separate fund. Present par value, $9,128.93; book value, $11,364.35. The income only is to be used. The bequest is free from any legally binding conditions, but it was the testator's desire "that some judicious means shall be employed by the Managers to further advise students on the subjects of diet and reading."

WISTAR MORRIS MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1892 by gift of $5,000 in bonds by Mary Morris, widow of Wistar Morris, as a memorial to him. Present par value, $5,281.74; book value, $5,144.24. There are no restrictions. The income is used for general college purposes.

ISRAEL FRANKLIN WHITALL FUND

Founded in 1896 by net legacy of $9,667.83 from Israel Franklin Whitall. Present par value, $11,191.37; book value, $10,781.94. The income only is to be used for the payment of professors or teachers.

JACOB P. JONES ENDOWMENT FUND

Founded in 1897 by residuary legacy of Jacob P. Jones. This amounted when received to par value of $279,021.60; book value, $332,301.60, and sundry real estate. The real estate has all been sold, netting $847,709.92. Present par value of the fund, $1,238,212.33; book value, $1,301,375.34. The income only is to be used for general college purposes, and out of said income there shall be admitted a portion at least of the students either free of charge or at reduced rates. In accordance with this provision, about $7,100 per annum is used for scholarships, and the balance of income for general college purposes. Jacob P. Jones' will contains the following: "My hope is that under the blessing and favor of God there will come from this source a revenue which shall be productive of growth and vigor in the institution as well as help at this critical period of their lives to many deserving young men of slender patrimony."

JOHN FARNUM BROWN FUND FOR THE STUDY OF THE BIBLE, BIBLICAL HISTORY AND LITERATURE, PHILOSOPHY, AND KINDRED SUBJECTS

Founded in 1900 by the late T. Wistar Brown as a memorial to his son, John Farnum Brown, '93. The original gift was in cash and securities of a par value of $43,000, shortly afterwards increased by further gifts of $15,000. The founder made further gifts of cash and securities until 1915, the total being $19,381 cash and $48,500 par of securities with book value of $41,490. His total gifts therefore had a book value of $234,970.81. Of this, $5,000 donated in 1910 is for endowment of prizes in Biblical History and in Philosophy. A portion of the income is capitalized each year to keep intact the full value of the fund. Present par value, $286,488.62; book value, $275,899.76. The income only is to be used for the purpose of making provision for the regular study of the Bible and Biblical History and Literature, and as way opens for religious teaching. In 1910, the scope and title of the Fund were enlarged to include "and Philosophy and Kindred Subjects." Income up to $200 may be used for prizes in Biblical Literature and Philosophy.

Founded in 1904 by deposit with First National Bank and Trust Co., Minneapolis, Minn., trustee, of a paid-up life insurance policy for $5,000 by Samuel Hill, '78, being in memory of his father, Nathan Branson Hill. The income is to be used to aid the maintenance of Haverford College so long as it shall remain under the auspices of the Society of Friends. In 1931, Samuel Hill died and the policy realized $5,039. Present par value, $4,957.62; book value, $5,119.29.

JOSEPH E. GILLINGHAM FUND

Founded in 1907 by bequest of $50,000 from Joseph E. Gillingham. Present par value, $38,996.87; book value, $42,394.72. The testator said, "I request, but I do not direct, that part of the income of this legacy may be used for free scholarships for meritorious students." In accordance with this request, $800 is appropriated annually from the income for scholarships, the balance being used for general college purposes.

HENRY NORRIS FUND

Founded in 1907 by bequest of $5,000 from Henry Norris. Present par value $6,094.76; book value, $5,886.01. There are no restrictions. The income is used for general college purposes.

ELIZABETH H. FARNUM FUND

Founded in 1891. The original principal of this fund, amounting to $10,000, is held by the Provident Trust Co. of Philadelphia under a deed of trust created by Elizabeth H. Farnum. The first income accrued to the College in 1914. Present par value, $10,211.69; book value, $10,220. There are no restrictions to the use of the income, and same is applied to general college purposes.

JAMES R. MAGEE FUND

Founded in 1915 by bequest of $10,000 from James R. Magee, '59, and added to in 1925, 1926, 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, 1936, and 1937, by additional payments of $29,182.84, $1,694.84, $499.31, $499.68, $488.85, $207.33, $400, and $250 under his legacy. Present par value, $43,761.27; book value, $44,069.88. There are no restrictions except that the income only is to be used. This is applied to general college purposes.

ALBERT K. SMILEY FUND

Founded in 1915 by gift of $1,000 from Daniel Smiley, '78, as a memorial to his brother, Albert K. Smiley, '49, and added to in 1924 and 1926. Present par value, $1,517.50; book value, $1,500. There are no restrictions except that preference was expressed that the income only should be used. This is applied to general college purposes.

THE HINCHMAN ASTRONOMICAL FUND

Founded in 1917 by bequest of $10,000 par value securities from Charles S. Hinchman. Increased in 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935, and 1936 by donations of $28,926.95 from a friend of the College. Present par value, $39,710.04; book value, $39,515.48. The income only to be used "to increase the salary of the astronomical professorship so as to provide a suitable instructor in the ennobling study of the heavens."

WALTER D. AND EDITH M. L. SCULL FUND

Founded in 1918 by bequest of Walter D. Scull, whose death followed shortly after the death of his sister, Edith M. L. Scull. Each left his or her estate to the other, unless predeceased; in this latter case both American estates were left to Haverford College. Both were children of Gideon D. Scull, '43, and resided in England. Income accumulated before the receipt of the fund by the College amounted to $16,887.66, of which $15,078.51 was added to the principal of the fund. Present par value, $122,972.10; book value, $174,560.31. The fund was created to establish a professorship of modern English constitutional history, and the chair has been designated as the Walter D. and Edith M. L. Scull Professorship of History.

ALBIN GARRETT MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1919 by legacy of $25,000 from Mary Hickman Garrett, in memory of her late husband, Albin Garret, '64. Present par value, $36,558.75; book value, $26,771.00. There are no restrictions. The income is used for general college purposes.

ARNOLD CHASE SCATTERGOOD MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1919 by gift of $30,000 in securities from Maria Chase Scattergood in memory of her son, Arnold Chase Scattergood, of the Class of 1919, who died in his Junior year. Present par value, $26,566.06; book value, $24,381.59. The income only is to be used toward the payment of professors' salaries. Should Haverford at any time in the future give instruction or offer courses in Military Training, the fund must be surrendered to Committee on Education of Yearly Meeting of Friends of Philadelphia.

FRANCIS B. GUMMERE MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1920. This fund was started by a gift of $25,000 from the late Miss Emily H. Bourne, of New York, conditional upon the raising of $100,000 additional for an endowment of the Chair of English Literature in memory of her friend, Professor Francis Barton Gummere. A committee of alumni, consisting of J. Stogdell Stokes, '89, chairman; E. R. Tatnall, '07, treasurer; Hans Froelicher, '12, secretary; Charles J. Rhoads, '93; Alfred M. Collins, '97; Winthrop Sargent, Jr., '08, and Parker S. Williams, '94, working with President Comfort, organized a comprehensive campaign among the alumni and friends of the College to raise $375,000 for this purpose and for increase of professors' salaries; the first $100,000 of unspecified gifts was used to complete the Francis B. Gummere Memorial Fund to at least $125,000, and the balance comprised the Isaac Sharpless Memorial Fund. Total par value, $124,246.26; book value, $125,569.51.

ISAAC SHARPLESS MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1920. The alumni of the College conducted during 1920 a campaign for $375,000 additional endowment for the College to make possible additional salaries to the professors. Appeal was made to found two new funds, the Francis B. Gummere Memorial Fund and the Isaac Sharpless Memorial Fund. The funds received, except where otherwise specified, were first applied to the completion of the former up to $125,000 (see above). Specified gifts and donations thereafter received were then applied to the Isaac Sharpless Memorial Fund. The income only is to be used for salaries of professors. Total par value, $223,091.67; book value, $218,728.43.

GENERAL EDUCATION BOARD FUND

The General Education Board of New York appropriated $125,000 in 1920 to the campaign for increase of endowment when the Francis B. Gummere Memorial Fund and the Isaac Sharpless Memorial Fund, totaling $375,000, were raised. Interest at five per cent was paid on the full sum for three years, and the $125,000 in full payment was completed in 1926-1927. Total par value, $120,504.88; book value, $126,076.83.

HAVERFORD IMPROVEMENT FUND

Founded in 1922 to hold the Corporation's undivided share in College Lane land and eight houses. This property was turned over to the Corporation free of debt on Third Month 17, 1922, and with same the then debt of the Corporation amounting to $155,942.15 was liquidated. The fund started with an undivided interest of $19,000. There was added in 1922, $9,000; and in 1925, $2,000. In 1926, $5,000 of this fund was sold and the proceeds were appropriated for the alterations to Roberts Hall. The balance of this fund, $25,000, was also used in 1927 for the same purpose. The income was used for general college purposes. It is hoped that this fund may be refunded from the Centenary Campaign, a part of which was planned to cover the Roberts Hall alterations.

The College Lane land was purchased in 1886 for the benefit of the College by David Scull, Justus C. Strawbridge, Richard Wood and Francis Stokes, Managers of the College and now all deceased. With contributions raised by them and by mortgages on which they went on the bonds, funds were raised to build six dwelling houses, and two houses were built by the Corporation itself. From the income of the houses the debt against the properties was gradually reduced until it was entirely liquidated in 1919. The net income from 1919 until 1922, when the property was turned over to the Corporation, was applied toward the reduction of the Corporation's debt.

CENTENARY FUND

Centenary Fund (1) was founded in 1926 by gifts to the College in anticipation of the one hundredth anniversary of its founding in 1833. There were no restrictions and the income was used for general college purposes until 1935, when the principal was used in the liquidation of debt.

In 1935 a further campaign among the Alumni was conducted under the direction of William M. Wills, '04, to add to the funds raised in commemoration of the Centenary. This was designated as Centenary Fund (2), but in 1935-1936 the payment of pledges to (1) were merged with (2) at the request of donors, and the two accounts are now considered as one.

During 1936-1937, $9,000 additional donations were made by members of the Strawbridge family, and of these $3,372.63 were transferred for the final cost of the William J. Strawbridge '94 Memorial Astronomical Observatory, and $5,627.37 were set aside to establish the Strawbridge Observatory Maintenance Fund. Other additional gifts of $16,017.04 were made in 1936-1937, $7,700 in 1937-1938, and $2,150 in 1938-1939, bringing the totals contributed to both funds to date, for the Observatory $47,000, and for other uses $145,932.55.

From the $16,017.04, together with $1,550 realized from a previous gift of an investment, the balance of the debt for pension contributions $12,022.57 was met, $5,544.47 was applied to the debt for accrued deficits, $7,700 was applied to the operating year 1937-1938, and $2,150 to that of 1938-1939.

There remains one investment in this fund not yet realized upon with a par value of $750 and book value of $240.

WILLIAM PENN FOUNDATION

Started in 1926 toward a fund of $120,000 to establish a chair or lectureship in Political Science and International Relations. This fund forms a part of the Centenary program to raise $1,000,000. This foundation is to be devoted, at the discretion of the Managers, to providing adequate undergraduate instruction in the theory and practice of our own and other governments, in the history of past attempts to secure international agreements and in the methods by which good international understanding may be promoted and maintained. Par value, to date, $96,912.50; book value, $102,067.43.

WALTER CARROLL BRINTON MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1920 by gift of $5,000 by the family of Walter Carroll Brinton, Class of 1915, who died in France, Twelfth Month 8, 1918, while engaged in Friends' Reconstruction Work. The fund sustained the Walter Carroll Brinton Scholarship until 1926-1927. It was then increased $6,000 by further gifts of the founders, and at their request the purpose was changed from a scholarship fund to form a separately named fund of the William Penn Foundation, with its income to be used for the same objects. Present par value, $14,359.42; book value, $14,125.79.

CORPORATION FUND

Founded in 1928 by setting aside $70,000 of proceeds from sale of 5.811 acres of land on the southern boundary and at the southeastern corner of the College farm. In 1937, the fund was increased $8,810, being proceeds of the sale of 1.762 acres of land to the Philadelphia Skating Club and Humane Society for their new ice skating rink. Present par value, $37,127.75; book value, $80,010.00. The fund is invested and the income used for general college purposes, until otherwise directed by the Managers.

ELIZABETH J. SHORTRIDGE FUND

Founded in 1930 by bequest from Elizabeth J. Shortridge, without restrictions. The fund is invested, and until otherwise directed by the Managers, the income only is used for general purposes. Present par value, $10,938; book value, $10,000.

HOWARD COMFORT MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1934 and added to in 1935, 1936, and 1937 by donations totaling $5,000 from President William Wistar Comfort in memory of his father, Howard Comfort, Class of 1870, who was a Manager from 1880 until his death in 1912, and Secretary of the Board of Managers from 1884 until 1908. The income only is to be used, and for general purposes. Present par value, $5,071.63; book value, $5,027.31.

EMMA RIDGWAY COMLY FUND

Founded 1935 by bequest of $50,000 from Emma Ridgway Comly, a Philadelphia Friend. The bequest was unrestricted as to both principal and income. The income is used for general purposes. Present par value, $21,279.06; book value, $49,987.50.

ELLEN W. LONGSTRETH FUND

Founded 1935 by bequest of $20,000 and her residuary estate from Ellen W. Longstreth, a Friend belonging to Haverford Meeting, and living in Bryn Mawr. The principal and income are both unrestricted. The bequest of $20,000 and $84,416.28 in 1935-1936, $3,338.69 in 1936-1937, and $73.33 in 1938 from the residuary estate have been received, making $107,828.30 in all. There are some parcels of real estate not yet liquidated, which will somewhat increase this fund. The income is used for general purposes. Present par value, $97,532.30; book value, $110,650.82.

ALBERT L. BAILY FUND

Founded in 1936 by an unrestricted bequest of $5,000 from Albert L. Baily, '78. The income is used for general purposes. Present par and book values, $5,000.

ELIZABETH B. WISTAR WARNER FUND

Found First Month 16, 1937, by unrestricted bequest of $4,950 from Elizabeth B. Wistar Warner, of Germantown, widow of George M. Warner, '73. The income is used for general purposes. Present par value, $57.46; book value, $4,950.

T. ALLEN HILLES BEQUEST

Founded First Month 19, 1937, by receipt of the proceeds of a trust fund created in 1935 by T. Allen Hilles, class of 1870, formerly of Wilmington, Delaware, recently of Glen Mills, Pa., who died 11th Month 15, 1935. The amount received in stocks and cash was $285,000. Proceeds of mortgages of $7,460.94 in 1938, and final cash from executor in 1939 of $1,603.37 brought the gross total to $294,064.31. From this was deducted in 1939 the final settlement of taxes and fees totalling $13,300, thus making the final net bequest $280,764.31. Accumulated income of $12,489.77 was also received on First Month 19, 1937. In the trust created by the donor in 1935 he provided: "The gift to Haverford College shall constitute a fund to be known as 'The Hilles Bequest,' and the income shall be used for repair, upkeep and improvement of the building which I have given to Haverford College known as the Hilles Laboratory of Applied Science of Haverford College. My purpose in making this gift is primarily to relieve the Corporation of Haverford College from any additional expense on account of the erection of the building which I have given them, and the accompanying expansion of its educational activities, but whenever and if the Board of Managers or other governing body of the College shall determine it to be for the best interest of the College to devote the whole or any part of the income of the fund to uses other than those above specified, such income may be applied to such uses and in such manner as the Board of Managers or other governing body may in its absolute discretion determine." Present par value, $103,191.57; book value, $280,764.31.

LEONARD L. GREIF, JR., AND ROGER L. GREIF FUND

Founded Ninth Month 29, 1937, by gift of $1,000 from Leonard L. Greif, '34, and Roger L. Greif, '37, of Baltimore. The gift was unrestricted, but the Managers have set aside this fund as endowment for general purposes, the income only to be used, until otherwise determined by them. Present par and book values, $1,000.

EDWARD M. WISTAR FUND

Founded First Month 9, 1938, by gift of $2,500 from Edward M. Wistar, '72, for endowment, the income only to be used for general purposes. Present par value, $475.40 and no par stock; book value, $2,500.

FUND FOR GRADUATE SCHOOLMOSES BROWN FUND

A trust founded by T. Wistar Brown, in 1906, as a memorial to his father, Moses Brown. Transferred to the College in 1916 after his death, having at that time a par value of $372,821.91 and book value of $318,823.56. Present par value, $359,283.84; book value, $347,678.26. The fund was created to establish a graduate course in religious study in harmony with and supplementary to the teaching and study provided for by the John Farnum Brown Fund. The income only is to be used; at least ten per cent of the total income must be capitalized each year. The unused income, if any, is likewise capitalized at the close of each fiscal year. The graduate school supported by the Moses Brown Fund was designated "The Thomas Wistar Brown Graduate School." In 1927 the former separate school was discontinued and eight graduate scholarships were created.

In 1937-1938, arrangements were made for cooperation in courses with Pendle Hill, a school for religious education, located at Wallingford, Pa.

Preference is to be given to sons of members of the Class of 1913 who may apply and who meet the usual requirements of the College. Present par and book values $3,000.

THE AUGUSTUS TABER MURRAY RESEARCH SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded Fifth Month 31, 1939 by gift from two anonymous friends of Dr. Augustus Taber Murray, '85, by gifts of $20,000 par value of securities subject to annuity during their lives, and with permission to use principal for the annuity payments, if necessary.

Upon the deaths of the two annuitants, the remaining principal shall be held in a fund, the "Income to be used for scholarships in recognition of the scholarly attainments of Augustus Taber Murray, a distinguished Alumnus of Haverford College, of the Class of 1885, and for many years a professor of Leland Stanford University," the fund to be known as "The Augustus Taber Murray Research Scholarship." Then scholarships in English literature or philology, the classics, German literature or philology (in order of preference) shall be awarded upon such terms and conditions as the College may from time to time establish to students who have received the bachelor's degree at Haverford College, and shall be awarded for the purpose of study in other institutions toward the degree of Doctor of Philosophy or such degree as may in the future correspond to that degree."

The amount of the Scholarship is to be $900 a year whenever awarded, and only unmarried students are eligible to hold it.

ALUMNI LIBRARY FUND

Founded in 1863 by contributions from the alumni and other friends of the College. In 1909 the unexpended balance (about $5,000) of a fund of $10,000 raised in 1892, and known as the "New Library Fund," was merged into the Alumni Library Fund. Present par value, $19,300.67; book value, $17,435.06. The income is used for binding and miscellaneous expenses of the Library.

MARY FARNUM BROWN LIBRARY FUND

Founded in 1892 by gift of $20,000 from T. Wistar Brown, executor of the Estate of Mary Farnum Brown. Additions were made by T. Wistar Brown in 1894, $10,000 for a lecture fund, and in 1913, $20,000. In 1916, after T. Wistar Brown's death, there was added to this fund $34,499.78 par value of securities, book value, $30,149.78, being a trust which he had created for this purpose in 1908 and to which he had made additions in subsequent years. Present par value, $68,453.68; book value, $64,857.02. The purpose of this fund (except $10,000) is for the increase and extension of the Library. The income only is to be used for the purchase of books, and one-fifth of same is to be spent for books promoting the increase of Christian knowledge. The books purchased with the income of this fund are marked by a special book-plate. The income of $10,000 of the fund is to provide for an annual course of lectures upon Biblical subjects designated "The Haverford Library Lectures." Unused income from the fund, if any, must be capitalized at the end of each fiscal year.

WILLIAM H. JENKS LIBRARY FUND

Founded in 1910 by gift of $5,000 from Hannah M. Jenks, widow of William H. Jenks. The fund was first known as "Special Library Fund" but after the death of Hannah M. Jenks was changed, in 1916, to "William H. Jenks Library Fund." Present par value, $6,102.12; book value, $5,000. The purpose of this fund is that the income shall be used for the care of the collection of Friends' books made by William H. Jenks and given by his widow to Haverford College, and to make appropriated additions thereto. Any income not used for these purposes may be used toward the general needs of the Library.

MARY WISTAR BROWN WILLIAMS LIBRARY FUND

Founded in 1914 by gift of $20,000 from Parker S. Williams, '94, as a memorial to his late wife, Mary Wistar Brown Williams. Present par value, $20,381.74; book value, $20,306.74. The income only is to be used for the purchase of books for the Library, preferably books coming within the classes of history, poetry, art, and English and French literature. The books purchased with the income of this fund are marked by a special book-plate.

ANNA YARNALL FUND

Founded in 1916 by residuary bequest of $13,000 par value of securities with book value of $7,110, and one-half interest in suburban real estate from Anna Yarnall. Additional amount under bequest was received in 1918. Present par value, $161,128.39; book value, $173,051.77. The real estate was sold in 1923 and netted the College $164,820.50. The bequest was made for the general use of the Library. The testatrix says, "I do not wish to restrict the managers as to the particular application of this fund, but desire them to use the income arising from it as in their best judgment and discretion shall seem best, for the purchase of books and manuscripts, book cases, rebinding of books, and, if need be, the principal or portions thereof, or the income or portions thereof, for additions to the present Library building, or the erection of new Library buildings. I direct that all books purchased with this fund shall be plainly marked 'Charles Yarnall Memorial' in memory of my father, Charles Yarnall."

F. B. GUMMERE LIBRARY FUND

Founded in 1920 by gift of $635.47, raised among the students by the Students' Association of the College as a memorial to Professor Francis Barton Gummere. The income only is to be used to buy for the Haverford College Library books on the subjects that he taught or was interested in.

The student's Association voted also to raise twenty-five dollars for a special shelf in the Library to be known as the "F. B. Gummere Memorial Shelf." This shelf, with its proper inscription, holds the books purchased by this fund. Present par and book values, $635.47.

EDMUND MORRIS FERGUSSON, JR., CLASS OF 1920 MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1920 by memorial gift of $1,000 from the family of Edmund Morris Fergusson, Jr., Class of 1920, who died at the College in his Senior year. The income only is to be used for the maintenance and increase of the Library's Department of English and American Literature. The books purchased with the income of this fund are marked by a special book-plate indicating its source. Present par and book values, $1,002.34.

CLASS OF 1888 LIBRARY FUND

Founded Sixth Month 15, 1938, by gifts totaling $5,250 from members and families of the Class of 1888, on the occasion of their fiftieth anniversary. The conditions of the gift are as follows:

- (1) A fund is to be established, to be known as "THE CLASS OF 1888 LIBRARY FUND."
- (2) The income only of this fund is to be used exclusively for the purchase of books for the Haverford College Library, except as noted below (in Clause 6).
- (3) The fund established now will be added to later by gift or bequest.
- (4) Members of the Class also expect to donate books to the Library, with the understanding that when such books are duplicates of books already in the Library, they may be exchanged for books needed, or sold, and the money so obtained used in the same way as the income of the fund.
- (5) All books purchased by the income of the fund (or obtained as in 4) are to be provided with a special book-plate to be furnished by the Class.
- (6) Income from the Class Fund or moneys obtained by sale of duplicate books may, when necessary, be used for binding or repair of books designated as belonging to the Class collection.

CLASS OF 1918 LIBRARY FUND

Founded Third Month 24, 1938 by gift from the Class of 1918 in commemoration of their twentieth anniversary. The gift was $1,753.52 of which $500 was spent for a portrait of the late Rayner W. Kelsey, Professor of History, who died Tenth Month 29, 1934; and the balance of $1,253.52 was used in establishing a new Library Fund, the income to be used for books.

FUNDS FOR PENSIONSPRESIDENT SHARPLESS FUND

Founded in 1907 by contributions from interested friends of the College, finally amounting to $40,000. Present par value, $42,991.99; book value, $41,237.08. The income is to be used for the teachers and professors of Haverford College as the President of the College and his successors, with the approval of the Board of Managers, may decide. The income from this fund is annually transferred to the Haverford College Pension Fund for old style pensions, or, if not needed for pensions, is capitalized in said fund.

WILLIAM P. HENSZEY FUND

Founded in 1908 by gift of $10,000 from William P. Henszey, donated in connection with the raising of the President Sharpless Fund, but kept as a separate fund. Increased in 1909 by legacy of $25,000 from William P. Henszey. Present par value, $36,894.66; book value, $36,758.66. The income is to be used, as in the President Sharpless Fund, for the teachers and professors of Haverford College as the President of the College and his successors, with the approval of the Board of Managers, may decide. The income from this fund is annually transferred to the Haverford College Pension Fund for old style pensions, or, if not needed for pensions, is capitalized in said fund.

JACOB P. JONES BENEFIT FUND

Founded in 1909 and increased in 1910 by proceeds of land sold for account of Jacob P. Jones legacy. Present par value, $71,728.93; book value, $68,113.78. The income is to be used, as in the President Sharpless Fund, for the teachers and professors of Haverford College as the President of the College and his successors, with the approval of the Board of Managers, may decide. The income from this fund is annually transferred to the Haverford College Pension Fund for old style pensions, or, if not needed for pensions, is capitalized in said fund.

PLINY EARLE CHASE MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1909 by transfer to the College of a fund raised in 1887 in memory of Professor Pliny Earle Chase, and amounting to par value of $4,173.04. Present par value, $4,166.04; book value, $3,272.24. The income of this fund is used, as in the President Sharpless Fund, for the teachers and professors of Haverford College as the President of the College and his successors, with the approval of the Board of Managers, may decide. This income is transferred annually to the Haverford College Pension Fund, for old style pensions, or, if not needed for pensions, is capitalized in said fund.

HAVERFORD COLLEGE PENSION FUND

Founded in 1920 and added to since, being accumulations of income from the President Sharpless Fund, the William P. Henszey Fund, the Jacob P. Jones Benefit Fund and the Pliny Earle Chase Memorial Fund, not needed for pensions. Present par value, $114,629.76; book value, $112,040.73. The income from this fund, together with the income from the four above-mentioned funds, is used for old style pensions. Income not needed for pensions was capitalized until 1932; then any unused income was used toward the College's share in cost of new contributory pensions with the Teachers' Annuity and Insurance Association. Now the old style pensions call for more than the income of all these Pension Funds. When the proper time comes in an actuarial sense, the principal of this fund can be used as well as the income for the old style pensions until they cease.

FUNDS FOR SPECIAL PURPOSES

THOMAS SHIPLEY FUND

Founded in 1904 by gift of $5,000 from the late Samuel R. Shipley as a memorial to his father, Thomas Shipley. Present par value, $5,363.10; book value, $5,248. The income only to be used for lectures on English Literature at the College. In case of actual need, at the discretion of the President of the College, the income can be used for general expenditures.

ELLISTON P. MORRIS FUND

Founded in 1906 by gift of $1,000 from Elliston P. Morris, '48. Present par value $1,199.25; book value, $1,126.75. The income is to be used as a prize for essays to be written by students on the subject of Arbitration and Peace. "The Elliston P. Morris Prize" of $80 is given in alternate years, the competition being open to all undergraduates and to graduates of one year's standing.

In 1929, it was determined, with the consent of the family of Elliston P. Morris, that until otherwise disposed this prize shall be discontinued and the income shall be used for the purchase of library books on arbitration and peace.

JOHN B. GARRETT READING PRIZE FUND

Founded in 1908 by a gift of $2,000 par value of bonds by the late John B. Garrett, '54. It was the purpose of the donor to ensure the permanence of a prize or prizes for Systematic Reading, which he had given for a number of years. The prizes were not awarded from 1922 to 1939 on account of default of the bonds. Reorganization has resulted in 1939 in sufficient recovery of value to provide again for this prize. Present par and book value $1,247.87.

SPECIAL ENDOWMENT FUND

Founded in 1909 by gift of $12,000 par value of bonds, book value $11,800, from an anonymous donor. Present par value, $6,201.19; book value, $9,227.07. The income only of this fund to be used "to furnish opportunity for study of social and economic and religious conditions and duties connected therewith, especially from a Christian point of view." The income is used toward the expenses of Summer Schools for Religious Study, which have been held at Haverford and Swarthmore Colleges from time to time, and also for religious education under Friends' care.

On Fifth Month 16, 1930, the Managers adopted the following amendment, made at the suggestion of the donor, now revealed to be John Thompson Emlen, 1900: "If, however, it shall in the course of time be deemed advisable by the President and the Managers that the income of this fund can be used more profitably by the College for other purposes than those herewith stated, it is my desire that they shall act in accordance with their judgment."

SCHOLARSHIP IMPROVEMENT PRIZE FUND

Founded in 1913 by gift of $2,000 par value of bonds, book value, $1,200, from John L. Scull, '05. Present par value, $2,092.39; book value, $2,296.88. The income only to be used to establish two prizes of $50 and $45 annually to the two students in the graduating class showing the most marked and steady improvement in scholarship during their college course.

ELIZABETH P. SMITH FUND

Founded in 1915 by bequest of $1,000 from Elizabeth P. Smith. Present par value, $1,032; book value, $1,027. The income only to be used as a prize for the best essays on Peace written by students of the College.

S. P. LIPPINCOTT HISTORY PRIZE FUND

Founded in 1917 by gift of $2,500 par value of bonds, book value, $2,546.88, from beneficiary of the estate of S. P. Lippincott, '86. Present par value, $2,500; book value, $2,546.88. The income only to be used as an annual history prize, which is designated "The S. P. Lippincott History Prize." The award is to be made on the basis of Final Honors. In any year when no award is made, the income is to be used for the purchase of library books in the field of the unawarded prize.

FRANCIS STOKES FUND

Founded in 1919 by gift of $5,000 in securities, book value, $5,000, from Francis J. Stokes, '94, in memory of his father, Francis Stokes, of the Class of 1852, and a Manager of Haverford from 1885 until his death in 1916. Present par and book values, $5,120.30. The income is to be used for extending the planting of trees and shrubs on the College grounds. The wish is expressed, but not as a binding condition of the gift, that the Campus Club should have the direction of the expenditure of this income.

GEORGE PEIRCE PRIZE FUND

Founded in 1919 by gift of $600, and increased in 1920 by further gift of $400, from Harold and Charlotte C. Peirce in memory of their deceased son, George Peirce, '03. Present par and book values, $1,963.26. The income only is to be used for a prize, to be called the George Peirce Prize in Chemistry or Mathematics, to the student who, in the opinion of the Faculty, has shown marked proficiency in either or in both of these studies and who wishes to follow a profession which calls for such preparation. Unused income is capitalized, as requested by the founders of the fund.

LYMAN BEECHER HALL PRIZE FUND

Founded in 1924 by donation of securities of par value, $2,000, book value, $1,820, from the Class of 1898 in commemoration of their 25th anniversary of graduation to establish an annual prize of $100 in Chemistry in honor of Doctor Lyman Beecher Hall, Professor of Chemistry at Haverford College from 1880 to 1917. Present par and book values, $2,155.00.

NEWTON PRIZE FUND

Founded in 1925 by donation of five shares of General Electric Co. stock by A. Edward Newton, par value, $500, and book value, $1,348.25. Present par value, $120.46 and no par shares; book value, $1,397.75. The income only is to be used for "The Newton Prize in English Literature to the undergraduate who shall submit the best essay on some subject connected with English literature." In 1930, the award was changed to be on the basis of Final Honors, and in any year when no award is made the income is to be used for the purchase of library books in the field of the unawarded prize.

EDWARD B. CONKLIN ATHLETIC FUND

Founded in 1925 and added to in 1926, 1927 and 1929 by Frank H. Conklin, '95, in memory of his brother, Edward B. Conklin, '99. Present par value, $2,307, and book value, $2,400. The income is to be used without restriction in any branch of athletics.

ARBORETUM FUND

Founded in 1928 by setting aside $5,000 from proceeds from sale of 5.811 acres of land on the southern boundary and southeast corner of the College farm. Until otherwise ordered by the Managers, the fund is to be invested and the income only is to be used under the direction of the Campus Club for trees and shrubs upon the College grounds, or for their care, or for other similar purposes. Present par value, $5,852.48; book value, $4,587.75.

WILLIAM ELLIS SCULL PRIZE FUND

Founded in 1929 by William Ellis Scull, '83, by a gift of $2,000. The income is to be used annually, so long as the Managers may judge expedient, as a prize to be awarded at Commencement by the Faculty to that upper classman who in their judgment shall have shown the greatest improvement in voice and the articulation of the English Language. The prize is to be known as "The William Ellis Scull Prize," Present par and book values, $2,000.

C. WHARTON STORK ART FUND

In First Month, 1930, C. Wharton Stork, of Class of 1902, donated to the Corporation securities of a then value of $69,000 on account of a contemplated gift for the purpose of erecting, equipping, and furnishing an Art Museum at the College. Purchases were made by C. Wharton Stork of paintings, which are now exhibited on loan at the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

PAUL D. I. MAIER FUND

Founded Tenth Month 7, 1936, by bequest of $1,000 from Paul D. I. Maier, '96, of Bryn Mawr, Pa. The bequest provides for the continuance of the Class of 1896 Prizes of $10 each in Latin and Mathematics, and any balance of income is to be used for general purposes. Present par and book values, $1,000.

STRAWBRIDGE OBSERVATORY MAINTENANCE FUND

Founded Second Month 13, 1937, from donations of $5,627.37 from members of the Strawbridge family, being the amount in excess of the actual cost of the rebuilding and reequipment of the William J. Strawbridge, '94, Memorial Astronomical Observatory. The income is used for the maintenance and equipment of the observatory. The principal can be used for additional equipment, if so determined by the Board of Managers. In 1938 and 1939 an astrographic camera was so purchased at a cost of $1,787.83. Present par and book values $3,839.54.

STATED MEETINGS OF THE CORPORATION AND THE MANAGERS

The Annual Meeting of "The Corporation of Haverford College" is held on the second third-day in the Tenth month, at 3 o'clock P.M.

The Stated Meetings of the Managers for 1940 well be held on the second Sixth-day of First and Third Months, and on the Third Sixth-Day of Fifth, Ninth and Eleventh months.

LEGACIES

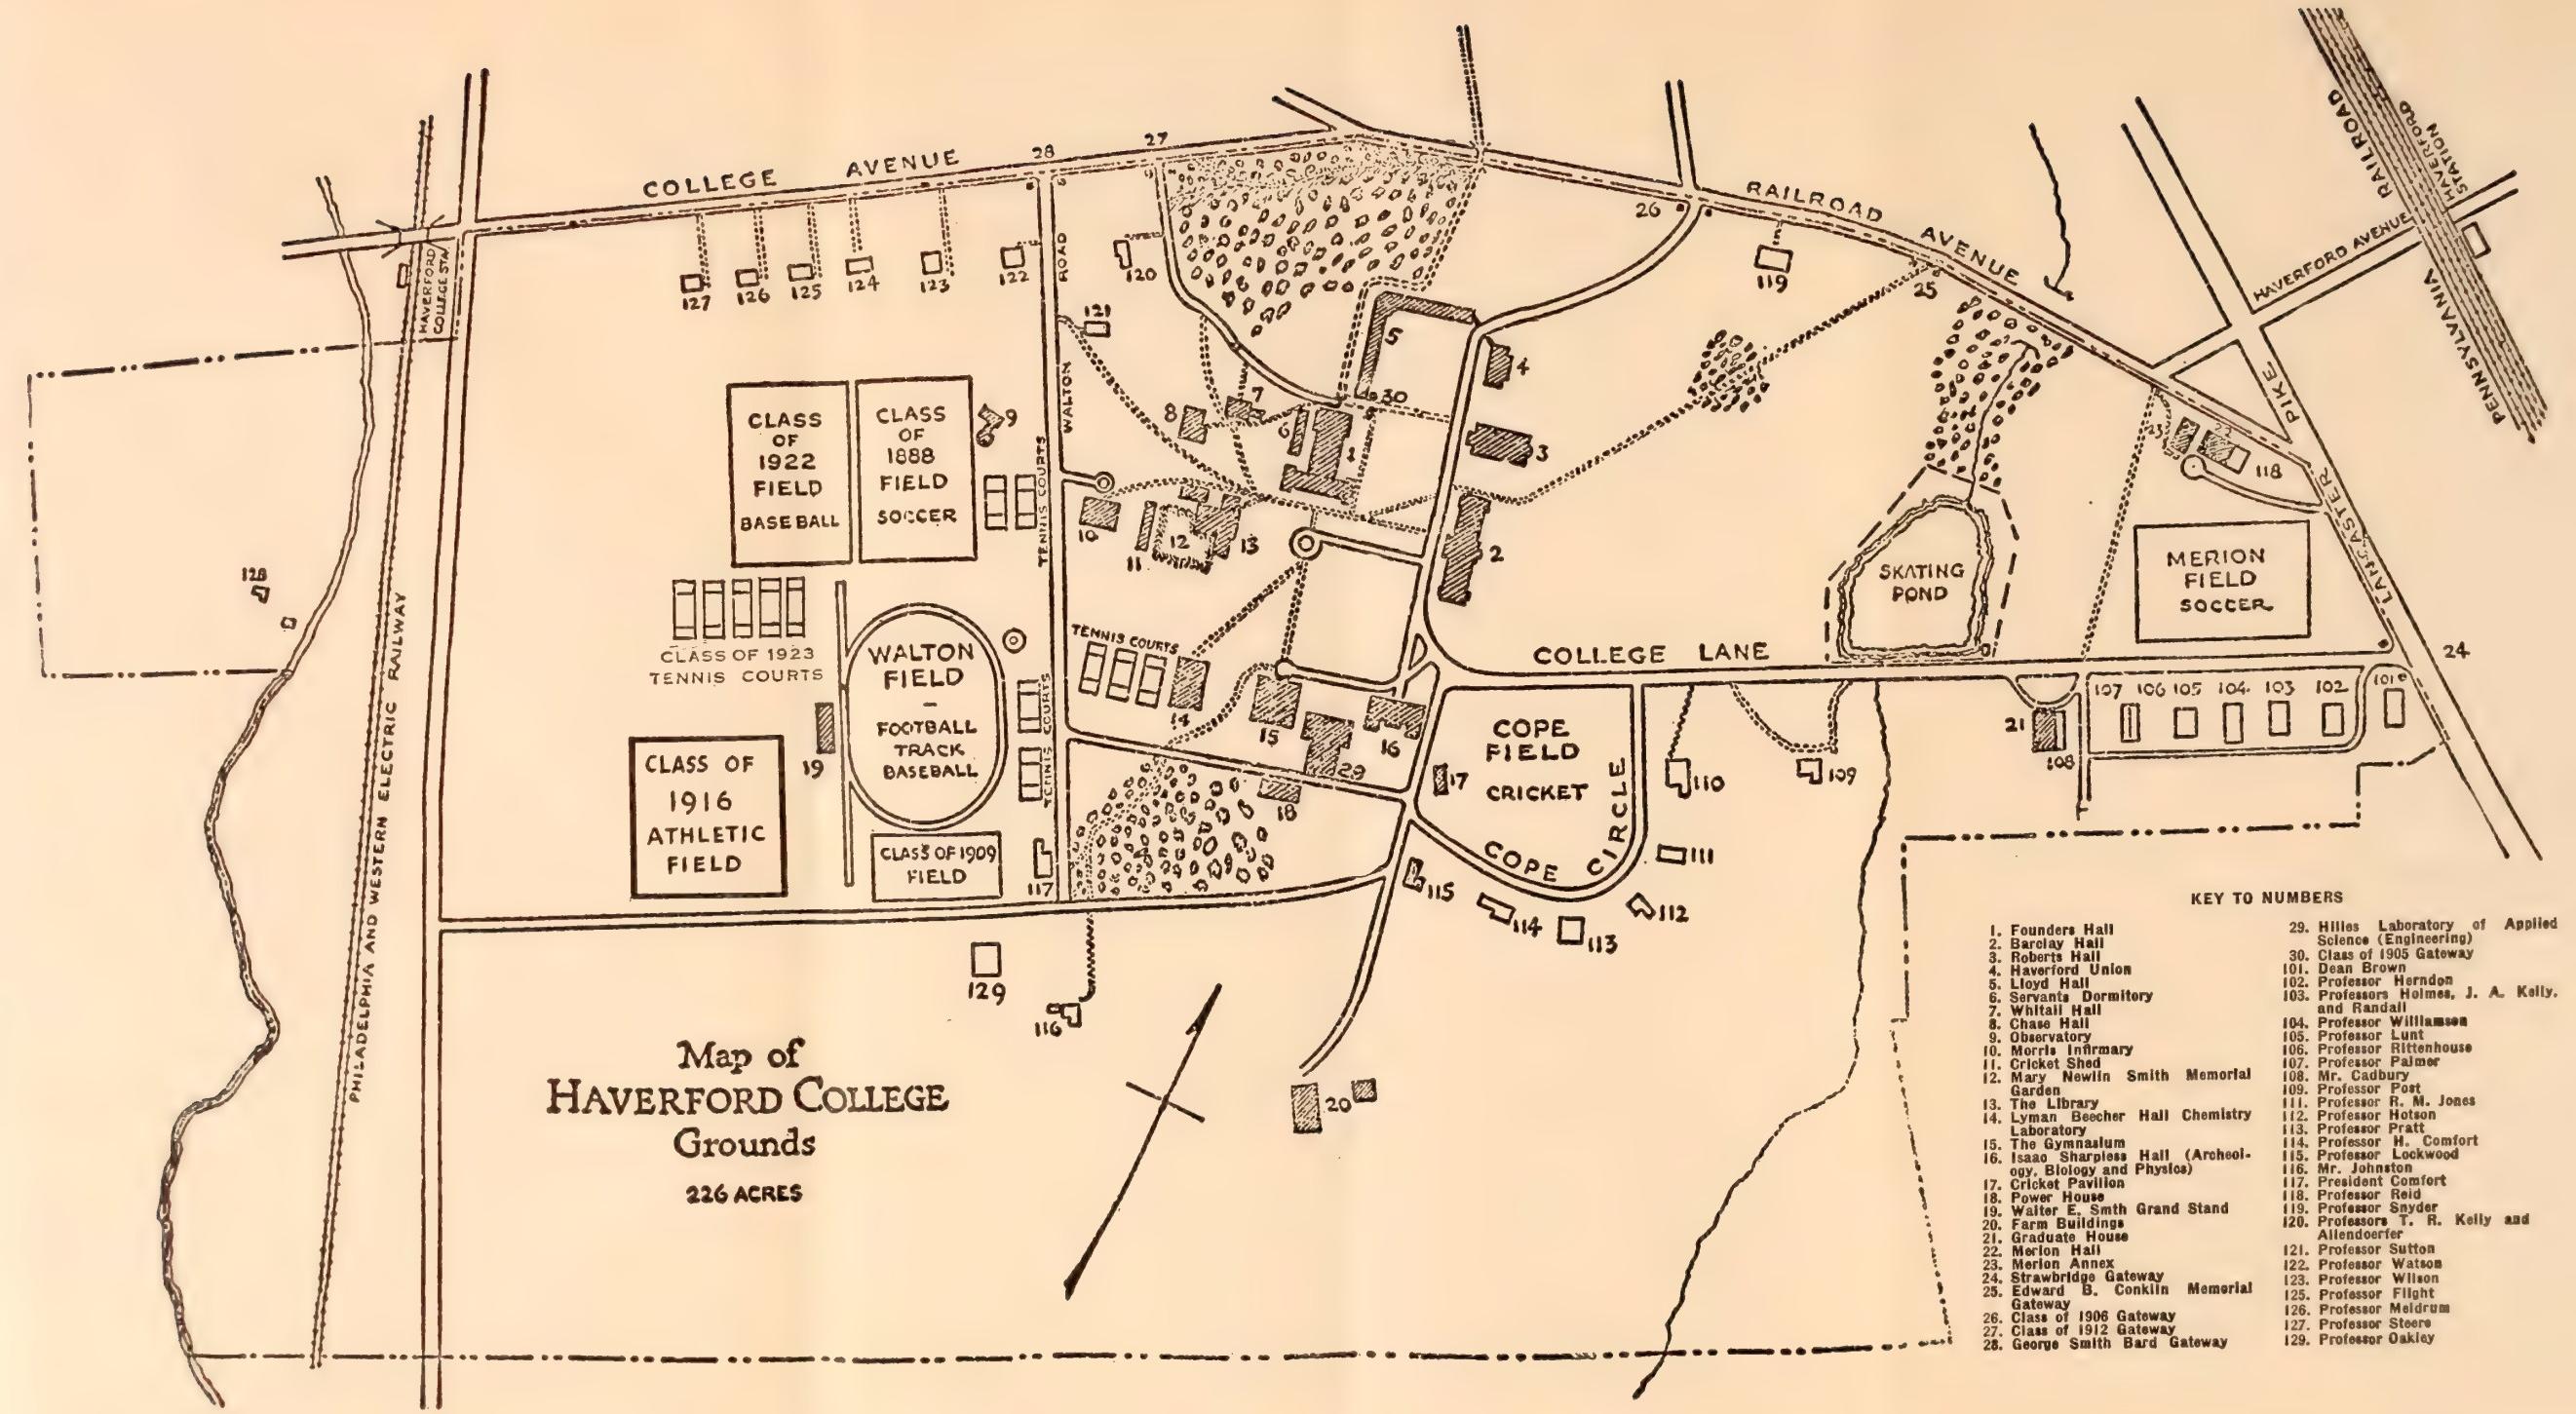

The friends of the College, including former students, and all who are interested in the promotion of sound learning, are invited to consider the College in the disposition of their estates by will.

FORM OF BEQUEST OF PERSONAL PROPERTY

I give and bequeath, free and clear of all estate, inheritance or other similar taxes, unto the Corporation of Haverford College, the sum of Dollars.

FORM OF DEVISE OF REAL ESTATE

HAVERFORD COLLEGE
ATHLETICS

1939-1940

THE YEAR 1939-40

Both the football and soccer teams had more power and, at times, played better games than the scores would indicate. From the point of view of victories the year did not start auspiciously.

The basketball team had a poor season and the wrestling team an indifferent one. The fencing team won five out of their eight meets.

On May 3 the track team defeated Swarthmore, winning its thirtieth consecutive dual meet. The following week it lost to Lehigh, thus ending a streak which began in 1935. At the Penn Relays the mile-relay team won the M. A. S. C. A. A. one-mile relay championship. Walter C. Falconer, '42, broke the college half-mile record in the time of 1 minute, 58.1 seconds.

After a poor start the baseball team redeemed itself somewhat with a well-played game against Swarthmore. The tennis and golf teams had very indifferent seasons to say the least.

To Richard W. Beeler went the Varsity Club Cup.

Detailed accounts of all contests may be found in the Haverford News on file in the Library.

The Virginia Cup

The Virginia Cup was presented to Haverford College in 1925 by Professor Legh W. Reid. Tournament play for the Cup is held in May each year and is participated in by not more than sixteen players. The eight members of the first and second team are permitted to compete for the cup. The matches are the best three out of five sets. The name of each winner is engraved on the Cup.

DINGHY RACING

Commodore—KENNETH WRIGHT

Ex-Commodore—EDWARD KOHN

Although handicapped by lack of boats, Haverford participated in regattas at three different colleges this year—M. I. T., Princeton and the Naval Academy.

In the fall a team of four sailed for the Boston Challenge Cup on the Charles River Basin. However, they failed to qualify.

Skipper—Kohn, Somers

Crew—Taft, Buttrick

Last fall Haverford raced against Princeton, Lafayette, Lehigh, Ursinus and Rutgers at Princeton. Princeton won.

Skipper—Newell, Vincent (Ewing)

Crew—Ewing (Vincent), Vogt

This past spring difficulties in transportation made the trip to M. I. T. impossible. But a team of eight did race against the Naval Academy. Keel knockabouts were used and the Navy won easily.

Skipper—Wright, A. Evans, Willis, Kohn (Baum)

Crew—Somers, Boyer, Newell, Baum (Kohn)
